B. Thompson of Fergus Falls, Dr. and Mrs. K. F. BLAZE RAVAGES FOSSTON STORE BUILDING FRIDAY

Hartz Store Operated by C. Offerdahl Destroyed by Flames

Fire of undetermined origin swept through the B. I. Larson Arcade building at Fosston Friday afternoon causing loss estimated at slightly in excess of $30,000. Fire Chief LePier of the Fosston fire department was investigating the possibility that either defective wiring or a defective switch in an unused store room adjacent to the L. B. Hartz store may have caused the blaze.

The losses were estimated as follows, all only partially covered by insurance:

L. B. Hartz Store, operated by C. J. Offerdahl, $6,000.

B. I. Larson, owner of building, $15,000.

Patterson and Norden, men's furnishings, $3,500.

Duluth Creamery, $1,000.

Larson's Arcade, dance hall, $2,000.

Century Bowling alleys, owned by Fosston businessmen, $5,000.

Public library, loss undetermined.

The structure, a double front building, was adjudged a total loss. The building was valued at between $10,000 and $15,000 by the owner and only $5,000 insurance protection was carried. The Hartz stock was almost a total loss, it was feared. Damage to the canned goods on the shelves could not be estimated immediately. Mr. Offerdahl, proprietor of the store, placed a $6,000 valuation on the stock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Anderson and son Billy left the latter part of this week for Marcelona, Mich. While there they will visit with Mr. Anderson's brother Orville Anderson and family.

Now we know who the American fliers were who bombed the Japs and enough details of the exploit have been made public to satisfy us that the venture was highly successful. What has been done once can be done again, and no doubt it will be done again and again. The first visit was only a sample of what is to follow. There may be some reprisal bombings of American cities but the Americans will take them in stride, knowing that air supremacy is gradually being established and that the last bombs of the war will drop from American ships, and not on the American people.

American farm leaders should encourage the government to unload its vast stock of surplus farm products that has accumulated over a period of years. The surpluses, whether owned by the government or held by private operators, react against the markets, and if we can dispose of these surpluses during the war then the American farmer will be in better position to hold his own in the adjustment period that follows the war.

Lilacs are in bloom. Usually they do not flower until about Memorial Day and so they are at least a week early this year. All trees and shrubs are well advanced for the season and maybe that is why we get so impatient with the rains that retard farm operations.

Less than a hundred votes were cast at the annual school election Tuesday night. The fact that more than three thousand eligible voters of the district did not avail themselves of the opportunity to express their preferences might mean almost anything. It is reasonable to assume, of course, that the lack of interest indicates general satisfaction with the present management. It doesn't take much to make an issue, however, and we suspect that one of the reasons for the light vote is a general lack of interest in politics. At the present time politics is not a subject of curb stone controversy. When people assemble in groups now the subject of conversation is war. All other things are relatively unimportant. And so, unless something unforseen happens, this year's general election will probably be a dull and uninteresting contest.

Price regulation has added much detail work to business routine but there is surprisingly little complaint from merchants. There is general agreement among all business men that prices must be regulated if we are to avoid the disaster that followed the last war and, with few exceptions, we find them accepting the new regulations cheerfully — even those regulations that seem so unnecessary. When Americans, in any field of activity, will submit to regulation without grumbling there must be a reason. And we are beginning to suspect that Americans now are wholeheartedly and seriously supporting the war effort.

If the Russians can continue performing another month as magnificently as they are now doing, we are going to join the ranks of those hopeful citizens who predict that the end of the war is in sight. We know it isn't patriotic to indulge openly in wishful thinking. There probably is a lot of bad news ahead of us yet. We do not know to what extremes the Axis powers will go in their final desperate efforts to win. But for the time being the prospect is decidedly improved and it is with difficulty that we restrain ourselves from getting joyful about it.

REGION EIGHT H. S. GOLF TOURNAMENT HERE ON SATURDAY

Half Dozen High Schools to be Represented in Tourney

Teams representing the high schools of Bemidji, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Blackduck, Erskine, Mahnomen, and Ada are expected to participate in the Eighth region's golf tournament, which will be played over the local course Saturday.

Jack Musburger, regional golf champion, will lead the defending champion Bemidji Lumberjacks, and Coach Glenn Barum's team is favored to retain its title. With Jimmy Nordine in the army, Harry Newby has taken over the golf coaching for the Prowlers, and he reports that the make-up of the local squad will be Billy Bye, who shot an 89 last year to be runner-up to Musburger; Jimmy Jorde, Jimmy Dokken, and Herb Claffy or Keith Jorde. At a meeting of the team members Tuesday evening, Billy Bye was elected captain.

Teams participating in the event on Saturday will be composed of four players, but the three lowest scorers for each team will determine the team championship.

Knox School Winner of the Grade School Track Meet Staged Last Week

The Knox school, piling up an early lead in the events on Thursday, and counting 57 points on Friday afternoon, totaled 128 points to win the grade school track championship. With the first, second, and third grades competing on Thursday afternoon, the Knox school picked up 71 points, while the Washington school registered 44 points, and Northrop school scored 28 points. On Friday, with the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades participating, the Washington and Northrop schools nearly erased the Knox lead. Washington scored 71 points, for an aggregate of 115 points, to earn second place; while Northrop marked up 75 points, for a 103-point total. Knox tallied 57 points, which with its score Thursday, gave the east-siders a 128 total and the championship. Miss Gladys Berntsen supervised the tournament.

The boys and girls in the chorus also will sing several selections separately, in addition to which the program will include numbers by rhythm bands, as well as vocal and instrumental solos. The Goodridge high school sextet also will supply several numbers.

Rehearsals for the coming festival were held in connection with the rural school play days staged recently in various sections of the county.

PROWLER TRACK SQUAD IS SECOND IN REGION MEET

Bruce Biddick and Don Olson Set New Regional Marks in Two Events

The Park Rapids high school track squad, picking up points in nine events, garnered 37 7-10 points at the regional track and field meet held on the Bemidji state teachers college field Friday to win their seventh consecutive championship. The surprising Thief River Falls Prowlers, scoring three first places, a second place, two fourth places, and two fifth places, marked up 27 3-5 point to win second place. The Crookston Pirates, with 25 3-4 points, were in third place. Other point totals were: Bemidji, 17 7-10; Roseau, 15 ½; Ada 15; Waubun, 14¼; Walker 11; McIntosh, 8 3-5; Warroad, 8; Hackensack, 8; East Grand Forks, 4; Fisher, 2; and Argyle, 2.

Three regional records were shattered during the meet. The Prowlers' co-captains, Don Olson and Bruce Biddick, concluded their regional competition by hanging up new marks. Don Olson, running a 59-second first quarter, ran the half-mile in 2:04.5, to break the old record by 2½ seconds, while Biddick topped the high hurdles in 16.1, to slice 3 seconds off the old mark.

McIntosh's Widseth heaved the discus 134 feet, 3 inches, to surpass the old discus mark, 126 feet, 1½ inches, set by Carey, Park Rapids, in 1936. The Crookston high school relay team, anchored by Bill Ericson, tied the old record by running the 880 yard in 1:39, and the Pirates barely nosed out the Prowlers for first place.

Crookston's Bill Ericson, with firsts in the 100 and 220, and a second in the broad jump, tallied 14 points, to be the meet's high scorer; while Ada's all-round star, Spaeth, marking up a first in the 140, a second in the high hurdles, a third in the pole vault, and a fifth in the discus, scored 13 points. Bruce Biddick, a double winner in the hurdles, also tied for fourth and fifth in the high jump, totaled 10 3-5 points.

Remodeling, Expansion Program Carried Out in Telephone Offices

A remodeling and expansion program, made possible by the acquisition of an adjoining suite of offices, was completed this week for the local exchange of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company in the Union State bank block.

Included in the new arrangement are a commodious, light and airy business office with a separate room for making long-distance calls; an operating room with space for adding to its facilities; and a spacious rest room for the operators.

Nels G. Olson, local contractor, had charge of the remodeling work.

Nearly seventy Lincoln high school seniors assembled in Bemidji last Friday for the Senior Day program sponsored by the Bemidji state teachers college. Featuring the day were a track meet, concert, two one-act plays, a dance and boat rides on Lake Bemidji.

The Minnesota public domain, scattered through 76 counties, aggregates almost 2,000,000 acres.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

Don Olson and Bruce Biddick certainly put the proper "cap" on their regional track competition Friday when they both roared through to new records. Don kicked cinders in the faces of the other regional half-milers to set a record of 2:04.5. And what made this record, and the win, more satisfying to Don was the fact that in running this record-breaking half-mile, the Prowler defeated the 1941 regional half-mile champion, Nelson of Walker, and the 1942 21st district half-mile champion, Ed Rutherford of Fisher. Yes, Don evened up some old scores. Bruce Biddick, skimming over the high hurdles in 16.1 seconds, scraped three seconds off the old record, 16.4; and that bows Bruce out of the regional track competition with both of the hurdle marks in his possession. The lanky Prowler set up the low hurdle record last year, running the 200 yards in 23.8.

To Enter State Meet

Arrangements have been completed whereby Don and Bruce will run in the state meet in Minneapolis on Saturday. The Prowler co-captains will be handicapped considerably by the fact that the Twin City and southern Minnesota athletes will be in much better condition than Don and Bruce. The track men from the southern part of the state have had about a month's advantage in conditioning, and that will make a difference. Ralph Ferrin, of Minneapolis North, who is expected to break the half-mile record, has run the 880 in 1:58.2; but give our half-miler another month of work and he would break the two-minute mark, too. In the past three weeks Ole has run the half-mile in 2:12, 2:07, and 2:04.5; and last Friday he ran the first 440 yards in 59 seconds.

But regardless of their performances Saturday, the Prowlers will have to wait long before they have as fine a pair of track men as Don and Bruce.

Another Honor for Pete

The Prowler track lettermen Tuesday afternoon elected Don "Pete" Michalsky, the district's mile-run champion, to the captaincy of the 1943 Prowler track squad. That's the second captaincy Pete has received, for he will captain next fall's football team, too.

Regional Golf Meet

I'll have to make it a point to get out to the golf course Saturday to watch the high school divot diggers battle for the regional golf championship. It appears that the defending champion Bemidji team, with a squad of seniors, will be the outfit to beat. They are reported to be so strong this year that Jack Vinje, a member of the team last season, wasn't able to make the team.

The Prowlers finished in third place last year, and with Billy Bye and Jimmy Dokken as veterans from last year, and Jimmy Jorde replacing Roscoe Stenerud, the locals are expected to push the Bemidji team. Billy Bye, who was elected captain of the Prowler golf team, very nearly took the regional individual honors last year, with Bemidji's Jack Musburger barely out-shooting the stocky Prowler, getting an 86 to Bill's 89.

Boats will be used to ferry the players across the river, so that holes 8 and 9 may be played. The bridge, you know, went out some time ago.

Diamondball Meeting tonight

Ole Engelstad, league secretary, announced that a D-ball meeting will be held in the Arena tonight. A definite decision will be made on whether or not a league will be in operation this year.

The Fishing Was Spotty

The combination of miserable weather, high winds, and rough water, made the week-end's wall-eyed pike fishing pretty much of a gamble. From all reports the pike were hitting on Friday and Saturday, but Sunday's gale-like wind drove most of the anglers indoors. Parties reporting limit catches were Nels Olson and Rev. Olafson, who fished at Waskish; Ames Pederson, fishing out of Cyrus' camp at Morris Point on Lake of the Woods; Cal Colvin, who was at Tulaby lake; Sam Farlow, Frank Steineke, and George Busse, made a fine catch at Morris Point, getting out on the lake early Sunday morning. Roy "Slippery" Shetler, fishing with Ray Parbst and Morry Howick, at Waskish, caught a 15½ pound northern pike; and there were several other heavy northerns caught up there during the week. Palmer Johnson and Jack Dempster, fishing the upper reaches of the Red Lake river, found a pike hole Friday afternoon and picked up fourteen wall-eyes. Harry Glande, Johnny Jacobson, Lloyd Nereson, and Oscar Ellingson made the jaunt to Winnibigoshish on Sunday but the high wind made it impossible for them to get on the lake.

The river fishing around here has been slow. Dick Schmidt fishing off Tindolph point Friday caught four fine wally-eyes, the largest weighing about four pounds. Young Denny Prugh hooked and landed a seven-pound northern pike in the pool below the dam.

He Was Fishing Too

Harry Newby was "fishing" at Bemidji on Saturday, for he lured the Lumberjack coach, Glenn Barum, into a golf match, and Glenn had to pay for a 70-cent supper.

Sausage makers are the biggest users of spices.

Bill LaFave Named Head of the Recreation Board

The city recreation board, given official status by a recently enacted ordinance of the city council, held its organization meeting on Tuesday evening, and elected Bill LaFave president; Morris Bye, vice president; Ole Engelstad, secretary; and T. M. Thronson, treasurer.

DRIVERS LICENSE SUSPENSIONS SET RECORD IN APRIL

Total of 547 Minnesota Motorists Forfeit Right to Drive Cars

Five hundred and forty-seven motorists suffered suspension of their drivers licenses during April, the largest number of suspensions enforced in any one month since the enactment of the Minnesota drivers license law eight years ago.

These suspensions, together with 236 outright revocations brought to a total of 783 the number of drivers who were banned from the wheel for violations of the traffic safety laws, according to the monthly report of the state highway department's drivers license bureau to Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

The April figures piled up a total of 1,078 revocations and 1,563 suspensions for the first four months of the current year. Of the April revocations 204 were penalties for driving while drunk and eight for habitual inebriacy.

Driving at excessive speeds resulted in 11 outright license revocations and 129 suspensions. Reckless driving was cause for 67 suspensions and running through stop signs and signals accounted for another 14. Forty-seven motorists were refused permits to drive because of failure to produce a doctor's statement as to adequacy of vision and 16 others for refusing to take required driving tests.

Forty-six of the motorists whose licenses were revoked outright and 184 of those suspended were under 25 years of age, while only five revocations and 18 suspensions were imposed upon drivers 65 years of age or over.

Seven states have smaller population than the city of Minneapolis: Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Vermont, and Wyoming.

'DIED' IN WORLD WAR I; IS WAR II REGISTRANT

Jackson.—The name of Ernest Kremmin is engrossed on the bronze plaque hanging in the court house which honors those killed in the first World War. However, Ernest Kremmin recently registered for service in World War No. 2. Shot in action September 18, 1918, Mr. Kremmin was reported dead, his parents receiving official notice to that effect. Many weeks later he wrote that he had recovered and returned from France in January, 1919.

VARIED PROGRAM PLANNED FOR 4-H WEEK JUNE 1 TO 6

Annual Event Scheduled on N. W. School Campus at Crookston

Dramatic and music contests, together with a comprehensive recreational program, will be extra-curricular activities at the 4-H club week at the Northwest School at Crookston June 1-6. Music and dramatic critics from the agricultural extension division, University Farm, St. Paul, Northwest School, and high schools throughout the area are judging contests in all fourteen counties during the second and third weeks in May, according to H. A. Pflughoeft, district 4-H club agent.

The winning one-act play cast and vocal and instrumental groups will compete at the Northwest School for district honors during 4-H club week. The music and dramatic contests for the south group of Red River Valley counties will be held on June 2; the north counties of the Red River Valley will hold their contests on the second day of their camp, June 5.

The comprehensive recreational program, under the direction of R. J. Christgau, athletic director of the Northwest School, will be arranged so that each student during recreational hours can get experience in the maximum number of sports.

Army Wives, Too, Are Served By USO

Sometimes it is not the soldier, but his sick wife, who needs a friend, when she has followed him to a camp town where she knows no one. But the soldier knows where to go for help in time of trouble. There is always the director of the USO club, who will listen and give valuable advice. USO is seeking $32,000,000 to operate 900 clubs and units next year.

FARMER-LABORITE CONFERENCE SET IN ST. PAUL MAY 28

Attendance Not to be Limited Only to Dues-Paying Members

To the end that all the forces of liberalism may be united in Minnesota and that correspondingly the issues of small moment may now be completely laid aside, a statewide two-day liberal conference will convene, under the authority and jurisdiction of the Farmer-Labor party, at the St. Paul Hotel in St. Paul, at 10 a. m. on Thursday, May 28, 1942.

To insure full and free attendance by those whose efforts have been for progressive liberalism, it is ordered that payment of dues or membership in any local or state political group is not to be considered.

Eligibility of delegates shall be considered only on one point—namely, is the delegate properly authorized by this call or the group or unit he seeks to represent. Receipt of a copy of this call is not a pre-requisite to attendance.

Unrestricted participation in all the business of the convention will be extended to all bona fide labor unions, credit unions, cooperatives, farm or farmers' groups, railroad brotherhoods or associated rail employee units, teachers' and servicemen's organizations, township boards, Townsend and all other pension groups, relief and public work employees' units, police and firemen's welfare groups, state employees' welfare or protective groups, and every local unit of the Farmer-Labor association or other American political party devoted to liberal progressive policies; regardless in all cases of whether or not said organizations sending delegates are now or ever have been an accredited dues-paying part of the Farmer-Labor Association.

Every present or former member of the Minnesota Legislature who aligned himself with the liberal bloc will be seated as a delegate without the delegation of authority from any organized group.

In addition to the right to participate as a delegate of any of the foregoing units, present and past chairmen, vice-chairmen, secretaries, and treasurers of all Farmer-Labor clubs throughout Minnesota will be seated as delegates without the necessity of representing any specific group.

Get Your Coal Now, War Production Board Urges

A good, full coal bin now will be your best assurance of a nice, warm house next winter, say War Production Board officials in the northwest.

The advice, originating with Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the WPB, is based on a long range view of the transportation problem in this country next fall.

As production of war materials mounts to new records, more and more use will have to be made of every available transportation means in the country to get them into the hands of the fighting men. War production will be at an extremely high level in the fall and perhaps no transportation will be available for civilian needs.

Coal can be moved easily now, the WPB officials said, explaining that every ton moved into households now will ease up on the problem next fall.

Requirements Covering Enlistments in Marine Corps Have Been Relaxed

Requirements for enlistment in the United States Marine Corps have been widened so that men previously ineligible to enlist can now qualify, according to Capt. W. L. Harding of the Minneapolis recruiting office, in charge of this district.

Especially qualified men between the ages of 30 and 33, and men varying not more than one inch from the present height requirements of 5 feet, 4 inches, to 6 feet, 2 inches will be considered for enlistment. Minimum age for enlistment is 17.

In addition, applicants wishing to enlist in the Marine Corps can now do so immediately, without any waiting period. They may still enlist even though they have been called for induction by the army.

Applicants may enlist in either the regular Marine Corps or the Marine Corps reserve. Enlistment in the regulars is for four years; in the reserves, for the duration of the war. Choice is up to the applicant, and both branches provide identical pay, training, assignment to duty and chances for promotion.

Further information may be obtained at the Marine Corps recruiting offices in room 172 Federal Office building, Minneapolis, and in the postoffice building in Grand Forks, N. D.

HASTE MAKES WASTE FOR FLEEING RABBIT

Lismore—A jack rabbit fleeing from hunters in a field west of here took a flying leap which put him thru the windshield of Rev. H. Tennessen's car and ended the life of Mr. Rabbit. Although powdered with particles of glass, Rev. Tennessen escaped injury, and had only to scrape the remains of the rabbit out of his lap before continuing his trip.

Recently, however, the dog has expanded his retrieving activity bringing home not only supplies for the larder but kitchen utensils as well. Last week he presented his master with an aluminum waterless cooker.

BULLET INTERUPTS SUNDAY BREAKFAST

Lamberton.—While eating a leisurely Sunday morning breakfast recently Mrs. A. Zindel and her sister, Miss Marie Holzman had a rare experience. A stray .22 long rifle bullet passed thru the kitchen window, hit the kitchen stove and landed in a kerosene stove on the other side of the room. The bullet had passed right between the two women, head-high, spattering glass over the whole table. Lucky were they for the course it took.

Minnesota Parks to Open for Season This Week-end

With plant and animal life abounding, Minnesota's great park system officially will swing open its doors this week-end (May 2) for what is expected to be one of the greatest seasons in history, Harold W. Lathrop, director of the Division of Parks, announced. The 21 state parks, four memorial parks and one of the three recreational reserves will be in operation, and that with travel likely to be restricted this year, it is possible the "see Minnesota first" attitude will result in attendance surpassing the 2,500,000 mark set last year.

PROPERTY LEVIES IN STATE REDUCED OVER ONE MILLION

Cut in State Levy to 9 Mills Cause of Decline, Says Taxpayers Group

Real estate taxes in Minnesota are more than $1,000,000 lower this year than a year ago. Although all other taxes are spiraling upward, there is some reassurance in the fact that there have been real estate cuts, according to a report just issued by the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

Total real estate levies have been cut from $114,229,324 last year, to $113,162,350 (payable in 1942).

Reduction of the state mill rate from 10 to 9 mills, effected by the last legislature, resulted in lowering the State levy from $10,978,771, to $9,402,400. This was a cut of $1,576,371 in the state tax. County levies, on the other hand, have shown an increase of $332,000, traveling upward from $30,666,756 last year, to $30,998,759 this year.

Cities and villages have made a slight reduction in levies amounting to $198,891. Last year the total was $34,544,957, while this year it is $34,346,066. Townships increased levies by $236,235. Total township levies a year ago were $6,186,225 and this year they are $6,422,460. School district levies also were increased by $140,027 over last year, growing from $31,852,616 to $31,992,643.

The compilation of the Minnesota Taxpayers Association issued today shows that total real estate tax levy reductions in the state amount to $1,066,994 in the past year. This includes all local units as well as the State mill levy.

About 50,000 tons of iron and steel were saved for our war effort by the WPB order which limits the amount of such metal which may be used in the construction of caskets, grave vaults, and other products used by undertakers.

Minnesota Liquor Tax Receipts up $543,000 in Past Year over 1940

Pointing to growing success in efforts of the state to stop all loopholes and prevent evasion of the liquor tax, J. Norman Peterson, state liquor control commissioner, reported this week that revenue received by the state from liquor and beer taxes and license fees increased 10% in 1941 over 1940 and reached the imposing total of $5,920,341.74.

Further emphasizing importance of liquor and beer taxes as a source of revenue, he said that local governments received approximately $1,000,000 from license fees and profits of municipal liquor stores in 1941, bringing receipts of all agencies close to $7,000,000.

Receipts of the state from liquor and beer taxes and fees increased $513,115.00 in 1941, Peterson said. Income from this source in 1940 was $5,377,225.75.

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT

From where I sit . . .
by Joe Marsh

Whenever I hear about anybody having a big family I think of Dad and Ma Hoskins. The Hoskins' had thirteen children.

They weren't a bad bunch of kids, by and large—but it seemed one or the other of them would always be having a fuss with the neighbors, or would break a window playing baseball, or some other kid trick. Kept Dad and Ma mighty busy all the time.

One day Dad got a bright idea. He called the whole family together for a special meeting at the dinner table.

He told them he was tired of checking up on them all the time. He said he thought they were old enough now to check up on themselves. The older children would watch the younger ones. They would have meetings every so often and hand out rewards or punishments.

Well, it was a crazy idea but the kids liked it and they started behaving better than they ever had before. The idea worked and Dad finally did get a little time for himself.

I mention this story about Dad Hoskins because it's something like what I understand the beer industry is doing to regulate itself.

As I see it, most of the beer industry behaves itself perfectly all right . . . but every now and then, I guess, a retailer comes along who runs a place that isn't up to scratch . . . sort of like a wayward kid.

So like Dad Hoskins' family, the brewers and beer distributors have united together in an industry self-regulation program to help the proper authorities "clean up or close up" offending retail places.

The brewers, who want to protect beer's good name, cooperate wisely with the authorities who enforce the laws.

From where I sit, that's a fine thing for the brewers to do . . . particularly when you realize that after all they're really not responsible for retailing conditions.

BEER belongs with Today's Dinner Pail

Good food . . . good beer. What better combination of fuel and refreshment for today's great army of workers? Beer's importance as a valuable human fuel in today's high-speed war effort is recognized by many medical authorities. Besides having the nutritional ingredients of bread, beer furnishes that reserve of energy needed to meet the demand for greater speed, longer hours of work.

Today's war workers, whose important jobs and skill demand sobriety, know the wisdom of turning to a glass of beer for pleasure after the day's work.

Dear friends:

May we mention a matter entirely outside our province? It is about making a will.

We have seen so many misunderstandings and hardships brought about because the deceased had made no will, that we feel justified in mentioning it. Making a will is very simple. And it so often saves a family from endless worry and uncertainty.

We know very little about legal matters, but we know that much trouble could be avoided if every person made a will.

Respectfully,
Carl B. Larson

Frankly we've always favored Price Control in wartime and have done our best for years to give our customers the best price-for-quality in town. The law now says we cannot sell most of our merchandise at higher prices than we charged in March.

We're for that. We thought some of the prices were getting a bit steep, but there wasn't much we could do about it then.

Now, with manufacturer, wholesaler, and retailer working on the same All-American Team, we will do our best to keep the cost of living on an even keel for the duration.

As always, even before Price Control went into effect, you can expect the most-for-your-money at this store.

Tattooed Man From Maine

The sobriquet, "The Tattooed Man," had its origin in the fact that one of the New York weekly illustrated magazines printed a cartoon representing James G. Blaine as Phryne, before the Athenian judges, and tattooed with the names of the political scandals with which his name had been connected.

SMILEY

Hero

Smiley folks are positively bursting with pride to know that a local lad of ours has already made the ranks of heroism. He is Dale L. Johnson, machinists mate of the battlescarred cruiser, Marblehead, which recently pulled into New York harbor after a 13,000 mile trip from Australia. Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Johnson of this community. Capt. Robinson of the Marblehead recounts an extremely interesting tale of heroism in the May 11th issue of the St. Paul Dispatch. He stated that three months ago they were on an offensive mission under the command of a Dutch admiral with orders to intercept a large, well-protected convoy of the enemy which was expected to affect a landing at Macassar. Their route was intercepted by a large flight of enemy planes. They had little warning with no air cover at all and were under air attack for three hours and 45 minutes after the first Jap bombers appeared they suffered the hit that destroyed their steering apparatus. After they were hit, the ship was in a very serious situation because it was badly flooded, two fires were going, and the main deck was covered with fuel oil and water, and it was difficult to care for the wounded because one of the bombs had demolished the sick bay. Capt. Robinson also stated that he could mention many more specific instances of courage and resourcefulness among the officers and men who moved into dangerous parts of the ship to rescue wounded men and other acts of heroism. He mentioned specifically thirteen men among whom Dale Johnson was one. Dale's address was given as Long Beach, Calif., as that is where his wife and home are located. As soon as the Marblehead reached New York, Dale wired his parents here stating everything was fine. There is a possibility he may come here to visit while the ship is being repaired. Smiley has every reason to be proud. Good for Dale!

Visitors at the Ted Markus home over night Wednesday were Mrs. H. Lampland, Mrs. C. H. Ekness, Wellington, Carmen, Dolores, Charlotte and Joan Ekness all of Grand Forks.

A Savings Bond drive is in full swing in Smiley with Jim McCrum as chairman. His assistants are Casper Wiener, Jr., Ole Lian, Herman Helswenger, Melvin Torkelson, and Arthur Stenseth. The men are meeting with dandy success with their pledges for bonds from local folks. Every penny counts toward Victory!

Mrs. E. Aakre left Monday for Turtleford, to be with her brother who is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lendobeja and son Julian accompanied by a local teacher, Miss Elli Tuura motored to Middle River a week ago Sunday and spent the day with Miss Tuura's folks, the John Tuuras.

Pvt. Alvin Borgie returned to Fort Snelling over the week end after a furlough of about two weeks during which time he got his usual big crop of "spuds" in on his farm.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Aakre daughters Eleanor and Lucille of Duluth spent a week visiting Mr. Aakre's mother, Mrs. E. Aakre and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Markus. The Aakres left Tuesday for their home via Bemidji, accompanied by Mrs. Markus and they all visited at the home of a sister, Mrs. Tim Bjella and family. Mrs. Markus remained at the Bjella home for a week.

Last weeks visitors at the Mark Olson home were Mr. and Mrs. Winton Knutson of Nunedal and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Odegaard of Hazel.

The Jim McCrum's were up to Mavie Monday evening to get a black English Shepherd puppy from Paul Eachar.

Arnold Korupp is in the Cities attending an Aeronautical school. He is expected to finish his course in a week. His family remained in Thief River Falls during his absence.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Huot and son of Big Fork visited in Thief River Falls with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. Coty on Tuesday and also at the Ted Markus home. Mrs. Coty's brother who is in U. S. service was at the Markus and Coty home on furlough.

Springtime

Has anyone noticed how perfectly lovely and fresh everything outdoors is appearing? Have you noticed the scents in the air, of spring blossoms, toward twilight? Have you noticed the new-born things here and there, baby chicks, baby lambs, baby birds, baby this, and baby that? Have you noticed the new shoots of seeds recently sown, and the fields coming green and high? Have you tasted the new rhubarb, the fresh asparagus shoots, the early onion, or radish? If you haven't, open your eyes, folks, to the brilliant knowledge that it is really Springtime!

Mrs. B. Shirley, nee Miss Lillian Ekness, of Orchards, Calif., visited Sunday and Monday at the Ted Markus home. She also visited in Goodridge with the Edseth family and other friends. Mrs. Shirley and her parents were former residents of Goodridge.

Birthday Fete

Ole Lian had a birthday Tuesday. His numerous neighbors, relatives and friends surprised the "wits" out of him by driving into his place Tuesday evening and doing justice to the occasion by bringing refreshments and presenting him with a nice shaving set. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Torkelson were the hosts. There were over fifty or sixty guests present.

Robert Krasmer has had a telephone installed in his farm home.

Word has been received from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phibbs (Wilma Aakre) of Tacoma, Wash. of the loss of the infant daughter, Connie Lou, shortly after birth, April 29. Sympathy is deeply expressed for the Phibbs.

Bulletin Briefs

Mrs. Walter Lendobeja and Mrs. Christ Larson will entertain the Bethania Luther League Sunday, May 24 at the lovely farm home of the Walter Lendobejas.

The Smiley Community Club meets Friday evening, May 29 at the Hall, the program being in a 4-H theme with the local leader, Mrs. Adam Lendobeja in charge. Let's all go and see what the young folks will do. Lunch will be served by the Jim McCrum and Loretta Weckwerth families.

Infant Mortality Slashed

Only 1 out of every 14 deaths in Wisconsin last year was that of a child less than one year of age, compared to one out of every five deaths in the state 30 years ago. Part of the difference is credited to a trailer school-house which visits rural communities to teach child and maternal health.

It was moved by Hulbert that such permit be granted. The motion was seconded by Alderman Petersen and adopted.

Representatives of the local American Legion Post appeared before the Council with regard to use of the Municipal Auditorium and Arena during the District American Legion Convention to be held in the City June 13-14th. YOUTHS 18 TO 19 WILL REGISTER AT END OF JUNE

Registration June 30 Will Complete Man Power Survey

EXPECT 3,000,000 IN U. S. WILL BE LISTED

New Group Cannot be Used for Military Duty Under Existing Law

President Roosevelt Friday summoned about 3,000,000 of America's young men to register on June 30 and complete the survey of manpower available for fighting or making the weapons for combat.

The final batch of registrants under the selective service act will be youths of 18 and 19, plus those who have become 20 years old since the first of the year.

Four previous registrations took care of men 20 through 64 years of age—nearly 40,000,000 of them.

Those 18 and 19 years old cannot be drafted for military service under existing law, but some of them might be mobilized along with older men for service in war plants. The bureau of research and statistics of the federal security agency estimated that as of April 1 there were 2,483,000 men in that age bracket, while probably 500,000 who have turned 20 also will register on June 30.

The army and navy have been urging voluntary enlistments of youths of 18 and 19, and those who have joined the armed forces will not have to register.

From the pool of nearly 43,000,000 men who will have signed up with local selective service board by July, approximately 22,500,000 will be withdrawn for military duty or for work in war factories.

Paul V. McNutt, commissioner of war manpower, asserted last Monday that an additional 10,500,000 war workers would be needed this year and 7,500,000 by the end of 1943.

FORTY MILE SPEED LIMIT IS DECREED BY GOV. STASSEN

New Regulation Becomes Effective at Noon Friday, May 29th

A 40-mile speed limit for all Minnesota motorists, with certain exceptions, was decreed by Gov. Harold Stassen in an executive order issued Monday. The order is effective at noon Friday.

Permitted to travel up to 50 miles an hour, under certain conditions, are the following:

Members of the armed forces of the United States or of the state while on duty.

Persons engaged in authorized defense or war emergency work while on duty.

Commercial buses behind schedules, if equipped with good tires, may be driven on an open, non-congested highway up to 50 miles an hour.

Physicians responding to professional calls.

Gov. Stassen's order, issued in conformity with a request by President Roosevelt to governors of all states, emphasizes that because a state of war exists "there is an extreme shortage of rubber for automobile tires" and that "tires on automobiles are becoming increasingly dangerous to operate at high speed.

"This constitutes a hazard on the highways," Gov. Stassen said. "The toll of injuries in lives lost from automobile accidents has increased within the state and the nation and by operating at lower speeds tires can be conserved and accidents prevented."

The decree specifically states that Minnesotans are "hereby requested not to operate any motor vehicle on the highways of the state at a greater speed than 40 miles an hour." The governor then listed the exceptions provided the motor vehicles are equipped with good tires.

The state highway commissioner was ordered to promptly take down all speed signs in the state which show any speed warnings greater than 40 miles per hour.

University Courses at Summer Term June 15th to be on Wartime Basis

Courses that prepare young men and women for wartime activities will hold the center of the stage during two summer sessions of the University of Minnesota, starting June 15, but there will also be a full offering of courses in the arts and sciences, and courses in education for teachers will be stressed as usual.

Schools of medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, law, and the Institute of technology, including architecture, will conduct programs that have been speeded up with a view to completing the preparation of students so that they may take their places that much sooner in the fighting, industrial or health forces of a nation at war. The school of nursing also will offer special summer work on an accelerated basis, some of its courses providing scholarships with money received from the United States Public Health service. Military drill will be offered during the summer terms.

The department of physical education and athletics will endeavor to come to the rescue of public school systems whose physical director has been called to service. Under state regulations, teachers of other subjects who wish to substitute on a part time basis as physical directors must have had nine hours of work in physical education. This the university department is prepared to offer them during the summer sessions.

State Ranks High in Motor Vehicle Count

Minnesota has nearly one-third more motor vehicles, in proportion to population, than the United States average, there being 31.2 cars and trucks for each 100 persons in Minnesota as compared to 24.3 for the United States. The difference was largest in the unincorporated rural areas, where the average was 29.1 per 100 for Minnesota and 19.8 for the whole United States. In municipalities of 2,500 or less the averages were 40.1 in Minnesota and 34.4 in the United States; in places of 2,500 to 100,000 they were 32.6 and 29.1, and in cities of more than 100,000 they were 28.8 and 22.9. The figures are based on totals compiled by the federal public roads administration from 1940 registrations and from vehicle allocation data from the highway planning survey projects in Minnesota and other states.

Victory Bicycles Will be Rationed Soon by OPA

"It's going to take a government order to get a bike for junior. And the bike he'll get—if he can qualify under the regulations—will be far different from the models that made pre-war biking a fashionable sport. There won't be any fancy doo-dads; just a frame, tired wheels, saddle, handlebars, pedals and mudguards. Rationing of the new bicycles, which have been in production about a month, will be started in a couple of weeks, Office of Price Administration officials in the northwest explained. Applications will be made to the OPA for bicycles, which can be delivered to buyers only on a certificate issued by the OPA.

Be Patient with Your Storekeeper on Price Control Regulations

Be patient with your storekeeper, T. G. Driscoll, state director of the Office of Price Administration asks. The dealer has a big job making the adjustments needed to put the price control system into operation, Driscoll admonishes, and don't jump immediately to the conclusion that he is violating the law if the price on a particular item seems out of line. Talk it over with him in a friendly way and chances are you will find there is an explanation for the seeming discrepancy.

The storekeeper is required to post the maximum legal price, not of all items he sells, but merely those that have been designated cost-of-living items. Prices of a particular item will vary from store to store, Driscoll warned. The government has asked merely that each store sell at prices no higher than it sold this item during March.

Since expenses vary and prices varied in March, they will continue to vary on items under price control. Driscoll also pointed out that no price ceilings have been established on some items, such as fresh fruits and vegetables, eggs, poultry, cheese, butter, mutton lamb and fresh fish.

Dealers are required to file a statement with their local rationing board showing the maximum price they are charging for each commodity. Deadline for filing this statement has been extended from June 1st to July 1st.

Division of Forestry May Employ Women in Fire Protection Work

The manpower shortage in the division of forestry's fire protection organization is becoming more acute daily, and it may be necessary next fall to "man" a number of the lookout towers with women, Henry G. Weber, director of the division, announced today.

In past years, the forestry division has had one or two women lookouts, but this is the first year that a shortage of help may require the hiring of a number of women for this detection work.

There will be little danger of fires in the north woods until next fall, said Weber, as the rains this month have erased the effects of one of the driest Aprils in the state's history. For a time during late April, the fire hazard thruout the timber country was very high and crews were hard pressed to keep the situation under control.

To mitigate the effect of abandonment of CCC camps, whose personnel was available at a moment's notice to fight fires, the Division of Forestry is organizing volunteer protection groups in all communities throughout the area of high fire hazard.

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

Have you ever thought how much a million dollars really is? Sure is an awful lot of nice things a fellow could do with a million dollars . . . if he had it. A million dollars is a lot of money.

Just think . . . it would take about three weeks, counting as fast as you could 24 hours a day, just to count up to a million.

I read in the paper the other day that the beer industry pays more than a million dollars a day in taxes . . . Federal, State and local. Every day . . . more than a million dollars.

I guess the government is glad to get that help these days, what with a war to win and pay for.

Of course, not all of that beer tax money goes to the Federal government. Quite a lot of it goes to the States and is used for such useful purposes as public health, emergency relief, old age assistance, education and public welfare.

Farmers surely ought to like the beer industry, too, from what I hear. Last year the brewers bought nearly two billion pounds of barley malt and nearly half a billion pounds of corn and corn products. And plenty of rice and hops, too. That's a lot of farm products.

Back around '33 and '34, when the tough old depression was biting all of us pretty hard, farmers were certainly glad to sell those extra crops that beer bought from them. And come to think of it, when beer came back it made lots of new jobs for plenty of other people, too. City folks and country folks both.

If I hadn't gone in for this writing business, I think I'd like to have tried my hand at the brewing business.

I'd like to be making a fine tasting beverage that helps the public treasuries so much and that people can rightly call the "beverage of moderation." That moderation incidentally is another of the fine things about beer.

PENNINGTON AUTO WRECKING YARDS TO SUPPLY STEEL

224 Tons Expected from This County, Report Federal Officials

Of a total of 28,128 tons of scrap iron made available to the war production effort in 651 northwest auto graveyards, Pennington county will furnish the government with 224 tons, federal officials said today.

The metal being gathered here, as well as in the rest of the country, is being taken out of auto graveyards, both in wrecking old cars and in gathering up miscellaneous scrap, according to R. F. Grimes of Minneapolis, regional WPB auto graveyard section representative.

This scrap iron and steel, added to appropriate quantities of raw ore from northern Minnesota mines, will aid in building of 3,516 tanks. It will supply the steel for nearly 10 hulls for heavy cruisers, or if turned into production of machine guns, it would equip an army of 5,800,000 men with .30-calibre guns.

There are five auto graveyards in Pennington county. The number of cars tallied in them was 70, and the number of tons of loose scrap, 154 tons. Each car yields a ton of scrap on the average.

YOUR USE OF THE TELEPHONE IN WARTIME

You can help us serve both you and the war effort by observing the following good telephone practices:

1. Use your telephone directory.
If you're not sure of the number, please look it up in your directory. Call "Information" only if you cannot find it there.

2. Speak clearly, directly into the mouthpiece.
You will be heard best if you talk clearly, in normal tones, with the lips about one-half inch in front of the telephone mouthpiece.

3. Answer your telephone promptly.
When you call, however, be sure to give the person you are calling enough time to reach the telephone before you hang up.

4. Cooperate on party lines.
Remember the party-line Golden Rule, which is to share the line with others as you would like them to share it with you.

COMMISSIONER OF TAXES CITES LAW ON ASSESSMENTS

Calls for Complete Report on All Moneys and Credits

Residents of Minnesota may expect the regular annual visit from the assessor at any time now, if he already has not made his official call. This year real estate will be assessed in addition to tangible and intangible personal property. While assessors are charged with certain duties in connection with the performance of their work, property owners cannot escape the responsibility of making a full and correct return of all property owned or controlled by them. Failure to do so may result in a heavy penalty.

Property owners are especially reminded of the law making it compulsory to report to assessors all taxable money and credits. Among those required to make such a return is every person of full age and sound mind, who shall list all his money, credits, bonds, shares of stock in companies or corporations, moneys loaned or invested, annuities, royalties and other intangible personal property.

To assist taxpayers in making a true return of their intangibles the state department of taxation has prepared a new and greatly improved blank on which the property owner shall list his money and credits.

Worthy of special attention are the schedules for listing stocks and bonds, which are taxable against the individual owner. All chattel mortgages are taxable as money and credits, and are to be listed under schedule F. Contracts for sale of real estate located outside Minnesota are taxable, as are similar contracts for sale of real estate in the state on which the registration tax has not been paid. The schedules cover the 14 items listed on page 2, where is provided a place for the oath of the person making the return.

The property owner is reminded that if he does not make a return of money and credits, either owned by him or under his control, the assessor must make an arbitrary assessment, adding 50% as a penalty.

America's war production machine is now operating smoothly. In less than two years our industries have been converted from peace time to war time production needs. And the encouraging thing is that production is now exceeding expectations. Planes, tanks and all the thousands of miscellaneous items needed to equip and maintain our army and navy are rolling off the assembly lines at a rapidly accelerating rate. And the tests American made equipment have been subjected to on various fighting fronts of the world prove that the quality of our products compares favorably with the best the enemy has to offer. It is a remarkable achievement. Finest testimonials come from leaders of the Axis powers. They say it isn't true because it isn't possible. What a headache they are going to have when they learn the hard way that it is true.

Gasoline rationing seems to be the big problem of the day. A program is now being formulated but as yet no one seems to know what the program will be. That there is considerable public confusion on the subject may be attributed not so much to any public fear of what is going to happen as to the confusion of reports that come out of Washington. The men President Roosevelt has selected to make the decisions tell us something will have to be done. Then up pops the President in his most ingratiating campaign manner and tells us to quit worrying—there's going to be plenty of everything. We would suggest, in the best interests of all concerned, that the authorities talk less about what they are going to do, and, when they have reached a decision of what must be done, just issue the orders. We know that mistakes will be made. In our national planning we must prepare for the things that may never happen. Occasionally the best of leaders will guess wrong. But the American people are willing to make whatever sacrifices the authorities conclude are necessary. In time of war they are good soldiers. They will not resent being treated as soldiers. They will resent, however, being treated as Baby Buntings who must be lulled to sleep with nursery rhymes until Daddy brings back the rabbit skin.

Memorial Day is a day of memories, but in its observance this year the memory of the American people is going to dwell more on the battles of Wake and Bataan than on Argonne, San Juan or Gettysberg, and in most American homes there will be thoughts of men now in the service rather than of the men who have sacrificed in wars of the past. But whether we think in terms of our present ordeal or of the struggles that are a part of the history that has been written, it is still Memorial Day, a day set aside for the honor of those who have given their all in the service of our nation and the principles of government for which it stands. This year the American people will not need to be reminded that a heavy price has been paid, and is being paid, for the liberties we enjoy.

Reports from Japan indicate that the islanders are undergoing another siege of jitters. Jimmy Doolittle's visit put the first crack in their confidence by bringing home to them a realization that their islands, too, can be bombed. Now they have discovered suddenly that they have suffered terrific shipping losses. To the end of April their ship losses had totaled 220. Still more discouraging to them are the reports of our ship production. They apparently had believed that we would be knocked out of the Pacific in a hurry. Now they know that they face a long war in the Pacific against odds that are becoming steadily less favorable to them. So this week the Imperial Diet is meeting in an extraordinary session to do something about it. Americans can appreciate their concern because we too have worried a little about ship losses. But in preparedness to replace lost ships we apparently now have the advantage and we know from our experience that the Japs cannot do overnight what it has taken us two years to do. It's nice to know that the friendly little fellows who awakened us so rudely by their attack on Pearl Harbor a few Sundays ago are now beginning to wonder what's going to happen next.

GARDEN and TABLE

By ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

Eldred Hunt, extension horticulturist at University Farm, says there are two kinds of vegetables when planting time comes—those that like to rush the season, and those that don't. Let me explain.

The early birds such as onion, radish, lettuce, peas, and early cabbage should be in the ground just as soon as the soil is in shape. They're not afraid of frost, and they will grow best and taste best during the cool, spring months. On the other hand, you have the warm weather crops such as corn, beans, chard, cucumber, and the melons. These simply will not do well until the soil is warm and a certain amount of "corn weather" is in prospect. These crops will be destroyed by a light frost; and even if you are lucky enough to escape frost, the seed will rot in the ground rather than grow in cold, damp weather.

Lots of folks are in the habit of waiting around until May 10 and then putting in everything at once. Actually, that's not good gardening. The early vegetables will have missed out on several weeks of the kind of weather they want. The late ones are likely to lie in the soil, killing time, until it warms up and then they will come thru weak and in poor stand because the seed has been damaged.

Garden seeds are most of them tiny and must be planted shallow. If the soil is loose and cloddy a shallow seed hasn't a chance to draw moisture and get started, unless, of course, a warm rain comes along. If the seedbed is well pulverized and then firmed down around the seed, conditions are favorable for quick germination. The seed can pick up needed moisture even close to the surface.

Here's a tip. Most of you have waited impatiently for slow seeds such as onion and carrot to sprout and come thru. It seems that every quick growing weed gangs up on these slow plants, because the gardener is afraid to weed the row until the plants are visible. Some plants will be naturally slow under the best of conditions. Sprinkle a few quick-on-the-trigger radish seeds in the onion or carrot row and let them mark it for you. Then you can cultivate even before the main crop is visible.

The alert gardener is always on the lookout for new varieties and vegetable hybrids that make excellent table stock. It's a lot of fun, and sometimes profitable to try something new. We just received from University Farm a list of new vegetables, with information as to where seed may be had. If you are looking for something special and can't find a source of seed, step in at the office and we may be able to help you.

The knock-em-down-and-drag-em out battle with the enemies of your garden should begin right after planting. And we don't mean the neighbor's chickens either. Insect pests are the worst enemy of the victory garden. There aren't so many kinds, and they aren't so hard to handle, but you have to know the bugs and know when and how to apply the blitz treatment. Extension Folder 86, just out from University Farm, is what you want. It describes the most common bugs. It tells you what are the signs of attack. It gives you exact directions for spraying or dusting, and it tells you how to handle the spray materials safely. Stop in at the office or drop us a card for a free copy.

If we were a mayor or a governor, we would be tempted to proclaim this as be-sure-you-have-enough-tomato-plants week. This is the year for tomatoes in quantity. They are easy to can. They require little or no sugar. They are full of health.

Transplant tomatoes into the field as soon as the danger of frost is past—the earlier the better. However, plants put out early in June will often yield a good crop for canning. Set out plants in the late afternoon or on a cloudy day if possible.

If possible, keep a ball of dirt around the roots, or keep them in muddy water until the plants are set in the field. Do not allow the roots to dry out.

The usual spacing for plants in the row is 3 or 4 feet apart. Wide rows for horse or tractor cultivation will save a lot of hoeing.

If cutworm damage is likely, spread poison bran over the area to be planted the night before setting out the plants. One quart of bran, one teaspoon of Paris green, ¼ cup of molasses, and enough water to moisten is effective.

Wrapping the stems, from the roots to the first leaves, with newspaper when transplanting is also effective.

Topics of the Times
By M. A. H.

All folks will join in wishing that a brighter and more settled world outlook might have greeted this year's fine crop of graduates.

Now that enemy submarines are in operation at the mouth of the Mississippi, Minnesota people are hoping they won't extend their activities to the headwaters of the stream.

The lilacs are very prompt this year in keeping their Memorial Day engagement.

Do you know what they raise in damp climates? The Montevideo American supplies the answer: Umbrellas.

Candidates should hesitate to file in the coming election unless they have good tires so they can get around and meet the folks.

It's a good thing to remember that a little stack of war savings bonds will make a nice cushion when the post-war letdown comes.

Wonder how come. The name of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt seems to have disappeared from the newspaper headlines.

The recent wet spell was good for one thing at least—mosquitoes.

Brigadier General Jimmie Doolittle, who led that recent successful air raid over Japan, doesn't seem to have been well named.

Judging by the way American troops are being massed in Ireland, it looks like trouble for the Axis.

The state restaurant association has asked its members to charge for the second cup of coffee. Blame the German submarines.

A lot of "For rent" signs have been taken down hereabouts lately. The wrens are back.

Vacation starts Friday for the school youngsters, but we trust it will be no vacation when it comes to buying war savings stamps.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor The Times:

Last fall and winter seven hospital service units for rural Pennington County were organized. These units have been functioning and many members have received some very fine benefits.

Under the Pennington County set-up any new member wishing to join up with the existing units must do so one month before the semi-annual payments are due. As all payments are due in existing units on July 1 all new members will have to make their application before June 1. There will be a one month's waiting period for all members.

As this hospital service is set up on a non-profit basis no one soliciting receives any reimbursement. There are seven group leaders in the county who will take membership besides myself and the county agent's office. These unit directors are John O. Swanson, C. H. Toomey, Anton Johnson, Mrs. Sadie Ayers, Mrs. Freeman Allen, John Radniecki, and Patrick W. Culkins.

Sugar Is Not Needed to Preserve Fruit, Says OPA

Fruits can be preserved for winter use without sugar, Office of Price Administration officials said today in a recommendation that housewives continue to put up sauces, pickles and preserves as before sugar rationing went into effect.

Any and all fruits can be canned without sugar and will be just as good when put on the table as with it. Persons who want their fruits sweetened can add a little sugar when they eat them.

Suggestions and recipes for canning either without sugar or with a minimum amount will be available before the canning season gets under way. State university extension services will be able to provide the necessary information.

Hit Them Where It Hurts . . . BUY BONDS!

Make no mistake—this is a life or death struggle. Men are dying in your defense. Dying that America may be safe!

Give our fighting men the guns, the planes, the tanks they need! Bonds buy bombs. Every dime, every dollar you put into Defense Bonds and Stamps is a blow at the enemy. Hit them where it hurts—buy bonds! Bonds cost as little as $18.75 up—stamps as little as 10 cents up.

Skippered Lifeboat

Walter Samenov, 17, of Riga, Latvia, was a handy crewman to have on the lifeboat of a torpedoed U. S. ship. He is showing how he rigged a sail of blankets. He steered the ship by the stars and made a camera record of their three-day experience.

NYA Defense Center at Duluth to Train More Young Men and Women

In order to meet the demand by defense industries for more trained workers, the National Youth Administration has increased the facilities for non-resident youth at the Duluth defense work experience center, to accommodate an additional 100 boys and 50 girls. This will permit many more youth from outlying communities to participate in the defense training program available at 4832 Grand ave in Duluth.

At present, approximately three hundred youth are receiving training in welding, sheetmetal, radio and machine shop, as well as food preparation and serving. Youth employed on a resident center base, that is, those youth who come from out of the city of Duluth, are housed in facilities operated by the National Youth Administration and are fed at the experience center through a cafeteria operated by the NYA.

These youth receive $30.00 per month, from which is deducted approximately $20.00 for board and room. Any youth between the ages of 17 and 25, unemployed, out of school, and having at least an eighth grade education is eligible for this training. Applications may be made at the local office of the United States employment service.

Civil Service Jobs Now Open in U. S. Capital

The United States Civil Service Commission today modified its requirements in an effort to secure additional mimeograph and tabulating machine operators for Federal positions. Appointments will be made in Washington, D. C., only, and applications will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met. Applications for all positions must be sent to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. There are no maximum age limits.

The new announcements for mimeograph and tabulating machine operators permit applicants to qualify on either full-time paid experience or a resident course in the theory and practice of operating the machine to which appointment is sought. No written test is required.

For under mimeograph operator the salary is $1,260 a year. The experience requirement is 3 months; the training course requirement is 50 hours, not less than 20 of which were spent in actual production work on the automatic feed electric duplicator.

For tabulating machine operator, salaries are $1,260 for the under grade, and $1,440 for the junior grade. The experience requirement is 4 months for junior; 3 months for under. The training course requirement is 20 hours for junior tabulating machine operator, but 40 hours for junior alphabetic tabulating machine operator. The training requirement for under operators is 10 hours. Actual machine operation must be shown.

Full information as to the requirements for these examinations, and application forms, may be obtained from G. Legvold, secretary of the board of U. S. civil service examiners, at the post office in this city.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear husband and father, Andrew Hanson, who passed away June the 4th, 1941. When the evening shades are falling and we are sitting all alone, there comes a longing in our hearts if you only could come home, but as we cannot change it as God's will it was he took you home to glory and we hope to meet you there and in heaven with joy to greet thee, where no farewell tears are shed, asleep in Jesus peaceful rest, where waking is supremely blest. No fear, no woe shall dim that hour, that manifest the Savior's power. Sadly missed by Mrs. A. W. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Hanson and Orlin, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kriel & Roger. 22p

The June meeting of the Pennington County Sportsmens club will be held next Tuesday evening, June 2, in the Civic and Commerce association rooms, William Borchert, secretary, announced today. The program will include the presentation of two films from the Remington Arms company dealing with fishing and quail hunting. Lunch will be served by a committee headed by Julien Provencher. Mr. Borchert reminded members that June 1 is the final date for turning in points in the crow shoot sponsored by the club.

WEARY WILLIES TRAVEL BY BIKE

Richmond.—It would seem that Weary Willies recognize the restrictions and shortage of tires and less cars on the road. On our way to St. Martin recently we passed one making good time on a bicycle, probably between 10 and 15 miles an hour. Identified as a knight of the road by a red patch sewed on a gray coat, he had two or three suitcases riding on the handle bars.

TERRIER ADOPTS DESERTED KITTENS

Princeton.— Five little kittens were born in the hayloft at the Carl Johnson farm recently and the mother walked out and left them. A four-year-old terrier stood their crying as long as she could, finally climbed into the loft and brought out three fluffy little kittens, two of them had died from lack of care. A basket has been arranged and the little terrier is mothering the three in a very conscientious way.

BEMIDJI H. S. GOLF TEAM WINS REGION 8 EVENT SATURDAY

Billy Bye, Prowler Captain, Accounts for Low Medal Score of 79

The Bemidji Lumberjacks successfully defended their regional golf title here Saturday when their three-man squad, shooting a consistent brand of golf, scored a 247 aggregate to earn a 14-stroke margin over the runner-up Crookston Pirates. Thief River Falls, with a 262 total, trailed the Pirates who won second place with a 261 total.

Billy Bye, the Prowler captain, was the tournament's low medal player, shooting a 42-37 for a 79. Bemidji's Jack Musburger, who was last year's individual champion, and Bob Johnson were runners-up, each scoring an 82. Medals were awarded to Bye, Musburger, and Johnson.

Help the 50,000 Novice Drivers, Is Memorial Day Traffic Safety Appeal

Fifty-thousand novice drivers—conscientious, but relatively inexperienced and, therefore, deserving of courtesy and helpful caution on the part of other motorists— are operating automobiles on Minnesota's streets and highways, Elden Rowe, chief of the state highway patrol, estimated today in an appeal to all motorists to try to safeguard lives over the Memorial Day weekend.

Chief Rowe pointed out that according to estimates of the adjutant general's office 50,000 Minnesota men, most of whom were motor vehicle drivers, are now serving in the armed forces of the United States. Their places in traffic, he said, have been taken by younger brothers, mothers and sisters, who are comparatively unfamiliar with the very serious responsibility that attends the job of driving an automobile.

"Next holiday week-end" chief Rowe said, "the people of Minnesota will pay homage to the soldier and sailor dead of other wars. As we go about our other and more materialistic holiday pursuits, let us all tuck away in one corner of our minds the conscious realization of our obligation to the men of this war, and prove to them that while they are risking their lives for a purpose—for us—we will not permit any act of ours, here at home, in the midst of the security for which these men are fighting, to bring about the needless maiming or destruction of human life."

More than 700 Million Pike Fry Distributed

The tremendous task of gathering and incubating more than a billion walleyed pike eggs, and distributing the 700,000,000 to 800,000,000 fry hatched out has been virtually completed for 1942, the division of game and fish announced today.

This year's spawning run of walleyes was one of the shortest on record, said Verne E. Joslin, director of the Division, and virtually all of the billion eggs were taken in the eight-day period of April 18 to 25. Water temperatures determine when the fish begin spawning.

Indicating the uncertainties which annually face the division in its fish propagation work is a comparison of the 1941 and 1942 spawning and hatching seasons. In 1941, the egg stripping period was spread out over 23 days, compared with eight this year; however, a warm spell in 1941 resulted in all the eggs hatching by May 15, whereas this year the hatching continued approximately 10 days later.

Sixty per cent of the ores which go into the manufacture of iron and steel products in this nation, come from Minnesota.

Airplane Builders Fly Craft

.... With HUCK OLSON

They're are their way up

What'll you bet that the Prowlers won't be regional gold champions in a couple of years? Last Saturday morning, playing over the local course, the Bemidji Lumberjacks shot a three-man total of 247 to win, as expected, their second successive regional golf championship. The Prowlers had a 262 total and were in third place in the standings; but on the Prowler squad you have boys that are on their way up. Billy Bye, who won the low medal honors with a 79, is only a freshman; Jimmy Jorde who shot a creditable 84, is only a sophomore; Jimmy Dokken, who sky-rocketed to a 98 with a pair of 49's, is also a sophomore; and little Keith Jorde, whose clubs are longer than he is tall, shot a 47-49, and Keith's only a fifth grader. By the way, Keith came very close to scoring an eagle ace on the 4th hole, for his tee shot hit the pin. He canned the short putt for a birdie deuce.

In Fast Company

Don Olson and Bruce Biddick concluded their high school track careers Saturday, and they did well, and the Prowlers, on Don's third-place tie in the half-mile run, earned 2¼ points in the state meet. Due to the large number of entries the half-mile event was run in heats, and Don was placed in the same heat as Ralph Ferrin of Minneapolis North. Ferrin set a new record in running the 880 in 1:57.9, and Don, who marked up a 2:03.2, trailed the Minneapolis runner by about fifteen yards. While the 2:03.2 was the fastest half-mile that Don has run this year, he admitted that he wasn't in the best of condition for he "faded" during the final hundred yards. Bruce ran a fine high hurdle race in the qualifying heats on Saturday morning, but failed to qualify in the 200 yard low hurdles. And in the high hurdle finals in the afternoon Bruce barely failed to place, finishing sixth. Ray Tharp, of Minneapolis Washburn, who was the outstanding performer at the meet, won both the hurdle events, and in record-breaking time.

Crookston had their half mile relay team entered in the state meet; and Bill Ericson ran in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Bill qualified in the century, but didn't place in the finals.

An Attractive Card

Chinning with promoter Bill LaFave the other night I learned that he is arranging an attractive program for the boxing card that will feature the American Legion convention here Saturday, June 13th. Tom Sperling, St. Paul Golden Glove champion, and runner-up in the Chicago meet, will head-line the card, and an attempt is being made to get the Minneapolis champion, Lloyd Harder, as Sperling's opponent. Booker Ellis, Negro light-weight, and runner-up in the Minneapolis tournament, has signed to meet Bob Luby, the St. Paul Irishman. Paul Rosten, Plummer middle-weight, who has had considerable Golden Gloves experience, will also be on the card. And Harold Smith, from Grygla, is also expected to box on the program.

Morris Point and Waskish

It appears that local anglers are giving Morris Point, on Lake of the Woods, and Waskish, on upper Red Lake, quite a play and reports are that fine catches have been made. "Bush" Olson and Clem Cote fished Morris Point on Saturday and made a limit catch of wall-eyes, nice ones, too; for one of "Bush's" weighed seven pounds. Orvis Oien was at Morris on Sunday and his party of five caught 22 wall-eyes. And on Monday night, after the rain, Harry Francis and Ed Karwand still-fished off the sand bar at Morris and came up with a near-limit catch, and Francis, he's still excited about it, caught a seven-pound wall-eye. And the reports from Waskish have been just as rosy, and up there you have the additional chance of tying into a big northern. Busher Hallstrom, fishing with Fred Lorentson, pulled in a fifteen-pound northern on Sunday. Others who fished at Waskish on Sunday and who reported heavy strings of fish were Cliff Bjorkman, Roy Brown, Bill Parbst, Roy Shetler, Oscar Ellingson, Cliff Overum, "Clutch" Haug, and Leonard Hanson.

The only fault about Morris Point is the difficulty in finding the place. The easiest way is to go to Pitt and then take the gravelled road straight north until you come to the Morris Point sign. The road out of Williams, unless you are acquainted with all its turns, will just as likely carry you right out into the lake as to Morris Point.

And the warm weather has perked up the river fishing. On Saturday afternoon "Skoogy" Nelson, casting a spoon below the dam, hooked a nine-pound northern pike. On Sunday, Wally DuChamp, Ernie Helquist, and Ole Froseth, fishing off Tindolph Point made a near-limit catch of wall-eyes. Lenny Helquist was along too, but all "Pudge" did was to string fish, cut bait, and get sun-burned.

Risks of Late Seeding are Partly Overcome, Says N. W. School Man

New rust and disease resistant varieties of farm crops have removed some of the hazards of late seeding in the Red River Valley, according to R. S. Dunham, agronomist at the Northwest School and Station, Crookston. Yields of wheat, Mr. Dunham points out, have been the best in those seasons when it could be planted early but this has not held true of oats and barley.

Early seedings of all small grains at the Northwest Station have been better than late seedings the same season but a late spring has not always meant a poor crop. In the past 12 years the average date of seeding at the experiment station has been April 25 for wheat, April 29 for oats, and May 3 for barley. The average date when the crop was up (date of emergence) has been May 10 for wheat, May 13 for oats, and May 14 for barley.

Three of the last 12 years have been early, five late, and four average for wheat. Since the interval between planting and emergence varies widely, the date of emergence has been used to indicate an early or late spring. The average yield for Thatcher wheat in three early seasons is 32.6 bu. and in five late seasons, 23.2 bushels.

LETTER BEHIND SAFE 34 YEARS

St. James.—After laying behind a safe in a business house for 34 years, a letter written from Arizona to a St. James young lady has recently been found and the postoffice department forwarded it to its destination, which now is California. The letter was written in Arizona, mailed in July 1908, addressed to Miss Helen Minder. It had been delivered to the E. F. Minder Jewelry store instead of to Miss Minder, where it apparently fell behind the safe and remained for 34 years. She is now Mrs. Olaf Olafson of Los Angeles.

LAFAVE PREPARING BOXING SLATE FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 13

Mike Gibbons, Widely Known Prize Ring Expert, to be Referee

Bill LaFave, local sports impresario, announced today that plans are rapidly nearing completion for the boxing program to be staged in this city Saturday evening, June 13, in connection with the Ninth district convention of the American Legion.

In addition to an outstanding list of well-known boxers, the card also will feature matches in which a number of promising young battlers with experience in Golden Gloves events from Bemidji and other towns will participate.

Among the officials who will be present for the program are Mike Gibbons, famous boxer who will serve as referee; James Watters, state boxing commissioner; and William Colbert, manager of the St. Paul gymnasium.

Mr. LaFave stated that any local boys interested in boxing are invited to appear at the arena Wednesday or Friday evenings.

Lions Club Selects Two Convention Delegates

Archie Hensrud and B. I. Froiland, respectively president and secretary-elect of the local Lions club, were named delegates at Wednesday's luncheon meeting in the Palm Garden Cafe to the district Lions convention to be held in Winnipeg in June. Named alternates were Dr. E. S. Amesbury and George W. Werstlein. At the session Robert Peterson was inducted into membership, and arrangements were made to enter a float in the district Legion convention parade in this city June 14.

Victory Gardener Must Take Steps to Protect Crop from Enemy Pests

Fifth columnist bugs may destroy the victory garden unless the gardener takes pains to arm against these enemies. After the garden is once planted, pest control is necessary to insure uninterrupted and healthy growth. Control is neither difficult nor expensive, but it calls for alertness to head off bugs before they do serious damage.

Every gardener should have a list of pests which commonly attack Minnesota vegetables, and he should refer to the list constantly for tips on what bugs to expect and what spray or dust to use in killing them. Such a list is found in Extension Folder 86, "Control Vegetable Insects," which may be had from the county agent or by writing direct to Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul.

H. L. Parten, author of the publication, says that gardeners who have plenty of land can avoid much trouble from insects by changing the garden location from year to year.

Bug control should begin promptly, he says. Tomato plants should be protected from cutworms just as soon as they are set out. This may be done by wrapping the stems in paper or by sprinkling a poison mixture near the plant.

L. H. Larson Is Officer of District Florists

L. H. Larson of the Larson company and Clarence Reinschmidt, manager of the firm's floral department, were in Grand Forks on Friday to attend a meeting of the seventh district of the Florists Telegraph Delivery association, embracing Northern Minnesota and the state of North Dakota. In the annual election of officers Mr. Larson was named vice president for the ensuing year.

Fly Around World Often

Ornithologists and seamen have good reasons to believe that most albatrosses fly around the world several times during the course of their lives. Incidentally, these great birds, which can be buffeted for days by ocean gales, become very seasick when standing on the deck of a moving ship.

Request Rooms for Ninth Dist. Legion Convention

With a heavy demand anticipated for rooms during the Ninth district Legion convention in this city June 13 and 14, W. G. Claffy of the housing committee asked that anyone having rooms available for those days call either Mrs. Leonard Hanson, phone 668, or Mrs. R. E. Looker, phone 489. The committee also desires to obtain the loan of single cots for use during the convention.

Robert Hanson Will Get Gustavus Degree June 7

Robert Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hanson of Thief River Falls, will receive his B. A. degree from Gustavus Adolphus college at the commencement exercises in the college gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, June 7, at 2:30 p. m. Hanson has captained football and swimming teams, was on the gym team, and was a member of the Greys social fraternity and the G. Club. He has majors in physical education and biology. He plans to assume the duties of assistant coach at Gustavus under the recently elected athletic director, Lloyd Hollingsworth. President Walter C. Coffey of the University of Minnesota will address 102 seniors.

John Thompson, Potato Seed Man, Dies Sunday

John J. Thompson, 43, seed expert associated with the Weyl-Zuckerman company of Stockton, California, who had made his headquarters in Thief River Falls during the potato growing season the past fourteen years, succumbed to a cerebral hemorrhage in Crookston Sunday morning. Surviving are his wife, a son Kennedy and a daughter Catherine. The body was forwarded to Stockton for final rites and interment.

Horse Killed on Highway 59 When Struck by Auto

The driver had seen one of the horses and had avoided it, but the other came up out of the ditch onto the highway and was struck.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

STATE DEBT DOWN TO $106,000,000 BY END OF JUNE

Reduction of 23 Million Is Made Since December 31, 1938

Officials of the state of Minnesota will be able to report on June 30th that debt of the state has been reduced fully $23,267,223 in the last three and one-half years, or nearly 20%, accountants for the state pointed out this week in an analysis of the state's outstanding obligations.

Debt of the state stood at $129,787,661 on December 31st, 1938, when the previous administration wound up its work and Governor Stassen and other officials of the present administration prepared to take over, the report showed. By June 30th, the total will reach $106,520,438, or the lowest mark in eleven years, accountants in the office of Leslie M. Gravlin, commissioner of administration, estimated. Reduction made in the state debt during the current fiscal year ending June 30th, they said, will reach $9,082,051.

Good news to taxpayers is afforded by announcement of the state division of social welfare that the state's general relief load has dropped around 30% compared with the first four months of 1941 and fully 50% compared with figures for the first four months of 1939.

Obligations incurred by the state for general relief amounted to $2,305,852 in the first four months of this year, and the average number of cases per month was 23,719. In the first four months of 1941, relief obligations were $3,284,803, and the average monthly case load was 34,899.

Building Construction Reveals Big Shrinkage

Construction reported from throughout Minnesota was 48 per cent lower in April than it was a year ago while building for the first four months showed a 32 per cent drop when compared with the like period in 1941. Building permit valuation in Thief River Falls during the month of April, 1942, amounted to $3,050.00 and was far below the corresponding month of 1941 according to figures reported to the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis. Local construction for the first four months of 1942 amounted to $4,250.00 and compares with $21,350.00 for the similar period a year ago.

Salvation Army Again at the Front

AMERICA'S FIGHTING MEN in the Asiatic, African, and European combat zones today are coming to the Salvation Army canteen for doughnuts and coffee, just as many of their fathers did in 1917-18, according to Salvationist officers here. This mobile unit (above), at a remote coastal outpost, is one of four serving the Hawaiian Islands. The Army not only has Red Shield clubhouses catering to American forces in Australia, New Zealand, Iceland, and the British Isles, but it operates 74 United Service Organizations centers in 29 states from Maine to California.

INCREASED GRAIN STORAGE GOAL OF USDA WAR BOARD

With the Northwest facing an acute shortage of adequate grain storage facilities, an extensive campaign has been launched over the state under the guidance of AAA committeemen and USDA war board members to alleviate the situation, according to Charles W. Stickney, state chairman of the AAA and USDA war board.

"Our first job, that of making available the necessary materials for construction of farm storage facilities, is already under way," Stickney said, pointing out that priority requests for the necessary materials are already in the hands of the proper officials in Washington.

County USDA war boards have been advised to pass immediately on applications for needed farm storage structures costing more than $1,000, so there will be no delay for farmers wishing to build immediately.

According to Stickney, priorities have been asked on more than 642 tons of the various nails needed, and clearance is expected shortly on lumber and other construction materials that will go into the structures.

Of additional aid to farmers is the seven cent a bushel storage allowance of the Commodity Credit Corporation on farm stored grain. An additional five-cent allowance is granted the second year, thus cutting actual cost of construction considerably.

Sounds We Don't Hear

It is curious that our universe is found with a mighty chorus of sounds and songs which we human beings never hear at all, just as according to one entomologist it is full of lights and colors that ants see perfectly but we do not.

BURIED ALIVE, RESCUED BY MATES

Hopkins—Peter Carlson feels an unnerving experience which might have ended his days on this earth had some merit. He learned if one must fall in a ditch, best to land on one's elbow. With a couple of other men he was at work digging a drainage ditch when a cave-in occurred and buried him in about five feet of dirt. His fellow workers rushed to his aid and pulled him out unconscious but he recovered quickly with the aid of the fire department's inhalator. Carlson feels the fact that he had fallen on his elbows allowing him to rest on them and in that manner get a little air for breathing, was important in his revival.

Food Production to be Theme of 4-H Club Week at Crookston June 1-6

"Food production and food preservation" will be the theme of the annual 4-H Club Week at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on June 1-6. Gardening, livestock, and poultry projects, which deal with food production, and canning of fruits and vegetables will be subjects given special consideration at the camps, according to H. A. Pflughoeft, district 4-H club agent. A large staff of instructors from the Northwest School of Agriculture and the agricultural extension division will be available for instruction in the club projects. Contests in music and dramatics are in progress now to select county representatives to compete in the regional contests during 4-H Club Week. A full program of recreation and sports contests have been arranged by Mary Anne Mather of the agricultural extension division and R. J. Christgau, athletic director at the Northwest School.

WPB's order ending use of steel in toy manufacture will save 100,000 tons for war purposes.

THEY'VE GOT "GOTTA MOVE AGAIN BLUES"

Farmington—Professor Jonas J. Christensen of the University who with his family recently moved to the Rosemount project area, seems to be a magnet for defense plants having to move the second time because the government is buying land for an ordance plant. Six years ago the Christensens bought a 40-acre farm at New Brighton. Then Uncle Sam politely told them to "get off". Last fall they bought a farm of 240 acres located southeast of Rosemount and now comes the government telling them they must move again as Uncle Sam wants the land for a project.

Patrol Halts 6,702 Traffic Violators in Month of April

Minnesota state highway patrolmen nipped 6,702 traffic law violations during the month of April, of which approximately 6,000 were potential causes of traffic accidents. Eight hundred and seventy of the more serious offenders against the state's traffic safety laws were arrested and haled into court during the month, while a total of 5,832 were given written or verbal warnings against repetition or tagged for operating vehicles with illegal or dangerous equipment.

During the same period of time patrolmen gave aid to 3,213 motorists of which 1,268 required an officers help in making minor adjustments or repairs to their vehicles stalled on the highway. Ninety-six cars were pulled out of ditches, gasoline was delivered to 102 stranded motorists, and first aid was given to 21 accident victims. Patrolmen checked 7,605 drivers licenses and 2,560 sets of lights and brakes.

Of motorists arrested in Minnesota during April, 127 paid their penalties for driving at excessive speeds, 109 for careless driving, 101 for driving while drunk, 87 for going through stop signs, 84 for improper passing, 81 for driving with dangerously defective equipment, and 17 for driving in the wrong lane. These violations have been the principal causes of Minnesota's recent high toll of traffic deaths and injuries.

Drunken drivers paid $6,160 in fines; careless drivers $2,070.60; and speeders $1,282 during the month. Fines imposed in April totaled $14,379.

OVER 8,000,000 BIBLES DISTRIBUTED IN 1941

A distribution of 8,096,977 volumes of Scripture during 1941, which exceeded that of any year since 1941, was reported by the American Bible Society at its 126th annual meeting held this week at its headquarters in New York City.

This increased call for the Scriptures, the Society feels, is undoubtedly a direct result of the war. Its service to the fighting men of this country, where distribution is made entirely through the chaplains, and the fact that the Society is the principal source of supply of Scriptures for war prisoners in Europe and elsewhere, accounted for the circulation of nearly a half million copies. A dozen languages were required to fill the needs of the European prisoners and refugees. Acknowledgement has been received by the Society's office in Geneva of the receipt of 95% of these war packages.

The new solidarity of the Americas, crystalized by the war, is supported by the continuous demand from virtually everywhere in Latin America for the Scriptures in the common speech of the people. All but one of the Society's seven agencies reported a larger circulation than in 1940.

War-torn China, whose demand for the Bible has never been equalled in any missionary country, cabled the distribution of over a million and a half copies of Scripture. The Society's chief problem there was the maintenance of production and transportation. Unusual measures were taken, however. A tiny New Testament was produced that could be mailed for letter postage. Truckloads of Scriptures amounting to 30 tons were sent up the Burma Road and into Free China.

War Expenditures Rise Rapidly During April

Average daily expenditures for war purposes during April jumped to $131,600,000 or somewhat more than $91,000 a minute, War Production Board officials said today. During the month, total disbursements for the war were $3,421,000,000, compared with $2,987,000 for March. War Production Board officials said that these expenditures reflect the growth of production of materials for the men on the fighting fronts. Americans, they said, can draw considerable satisfaction from the picture, which means that a mighty mobilization of materials, machines and manpower is proceeding at a rapid pace.

FOUR GRANDPARENTS, NO CHANCE TO HAVE UNCLES

Lester Prairie.—Marlene Ruth Kloempken, Green Isle, has four grandparents. That's not so particularly unusual but the fact that she will never have an uncle, aunt or cousin, is unique. Neither her mother or father has a brother or sister.

ADDED SUPPLY OF SUGAR AVAILABLE AT CANNING TIME

State Director Authorizes Ration Boards to Make Allotments

You can now go to your local rationing board and get permission to buy additional sugar for canning. Instructions for the issuance of such permits have been forwarded the local boards, T. G. Driscoll, state director of the Office of Price Administration, reports, and the boards are free to grant reasonable amounts.

To can fresh fruits, an individual or member of a family may obtain not to exceed one pound of sugar for each four quarts of fruit to be canned. An allowance also can be made of one pound of sugar per person per year for preparing preserves, jams and jellies.

Applicants must state the number of quarts canned in the preceding year, number of quarts of fruit in possession, number of quarts to be canned and supply other information so the rationing board may determine the reasonableness of the request.

Lake of the Woods Bible Camp Week Open June 22

The annual spring meeting of the Lake of the Woods Luther League Bible Camp Association was held at Badger recently in the parish of Rev. J. M. Runsetad. Final arrangements for the 1942 session of the camp were discussed. Bible Camp week will be conducted beginning Monday, June 22, and close Sunday, June 28. A camp cleanup is planned for June 2nd and 3rd. At this time each pastor of the Thief River Falls and Crookston circuits will call upon a number of men to accompany him to Baudette and the camp site to spend the time in making repairs where necessary.

4th Annual Greenbush Sheep Day Scheduled for Saturday, June 13

The Fourth Annual Greenbush Sheep Day which is sponsored by the Greenbush Association of Commerce in cooperation with the Greenbush Farm Bureau, will be held this year on Saturday, June 13th. In connection with this celebration will be held the sheep shearing contest, which originated with the Greenbush Sheep Day, in this state.

The sheep shearing contest will be held in cooperation with The Farmer magazine of St. Paul, and winners in it will be entitled to enter the state contest during the state fair to compete for the title of state champion and the privilege of entering the international contest at Chicago.

An interesting feature of the contest this year will be the presentation of a special contest for junior amateur shearers under the age of twenty-one. Entries in this contest may be made through the county agents of the various northern Minnesota counties, or through The Farmer. The two requirements for it include that the shearer must be under twenty-one and that he has never sheared for money. The Greenbush Association of Commerce is putting up cash prizes for this event, and the winners in it will have the privilege of competing in the Junior State contest at the State Fair.

The program for the day will begin at ten o'clock in the morning, with educational talks and answers to questions which will be given by experts from the University Farm. F. E. Bartlett of Chicago is scheduled to be on hand to give a shearing demonstration. Mr. Bartlett is a former international champion shearer and has sheared in many countries.

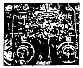
Navy School at G.E.

Just one evidence of the cooperation between the armed services and our vast industrial army—a school for submarine electricians conducted at one General Electric factory.

1. Electricity is vital to the running of every submarine. It does an amazing variety of important jobs, from turning the propeller to cooking the coffee.

2. For that reason, there must be well trained electricians on every underwater craft. At this school, Navy electricians attend classes taught by G-E engineers . . . .

3. . . . . and go out into the shops where they watch workmen construct the same kind of electric equipment that will some day be put in their charge.



4. This is but one proof of the thorough training which the U. S. Navy gives its men, so that the vital equipment of war will always be ready for action.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

125 GRADUATE IN RITES HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

BE PREPARED TO BE CRITICIZED, HE WARNS

Orville Jensen and Maurine Rhodegard Win Legion, Auxiliary Awards

In impressive rites Friday evening in the high school auditorium, which was packed to capacity for the occasion, 125 members of the Lincoln high school graduating class of 1942 received their diplomas, and teachers' certificates were given to fourteen graduates of the teacher training department.

Leo H. Dominick, superintendent of the Fergus Falls schools, delivered a stimulating commencement address, enlivening his more serious thoughts with bits of humor.

Calling to the necessity of at least a high school education in these complex times, not only for the accumulation of facts but also for training in getting along with their associates, Mr. Dominick urged the graduates to be satisfied with nothing less than the best they are able to do.

The speaker reminded his hearers that whatever they do or fail to do, they are certain to be criticized, and he urged them to profit by constructive criticism and learn to disregard the malicious variety.

He stressed the importance of loyalty to their trust and to all with whom they come in contact, asserting that this means the difference between success and failure in life.

The valedictory and salutatory were ably given respectively by Orville Jensen and Robert Lund, Jr. Musical numbers included the processional and recessional marches played by the Lincoln school band directed by Glendon E. Ahre, and vocal selections by the girls sextet, mixed octet and mixed chorus, all directed by Miss Grace Omundson.

THREE PARADES SET FOR LEGION CONCLAVE HERE

BUSINESS DISTRICT WILL BE DECORATED

Cash Prizes Offered Musical Groups, Marching Units and Floats

That the Ninth district convention of the American Legion and auxiliary and the International War Veterans alliance in Thief River Falls Saturday and Sunday, June 13 and 14, will be a colorful spectacle was revealed in the announcement today by Alex Cloutier, parade chairman, that three outstanding parades will feature the two-day conclave of World War veterans and their ladies.

The first of the series will be sponsored by the 40 & 8 organization in connection with the 40 & 8 Jamboree late Saturday night, June 13, when many comic entries will be in the line of march.

Chairman Cloutier stated that more than 45 units have been entered to date in the main convention parade Sunday afternoon, June 14, at 2 o'clock, including fifteen musical organizations in addition to many floats and marching units and possibly an army "jeep". The procession will form at the east end of the Third st. bridge, and will proceed thru the business district and then to the fair grounds, where a brief program will be presented. The memorial parade Sunday evening to the Elks park will be the final spectacle of the convention.

Prizes of $10 each will be awarded to the most active band, most active drum corps and best marching unit, with a $15 prize for the most attractive float.

The city will present a festive appearance during the convention, with a professional decorator engaged to adorn business places with flags, bunting and insignia. This feature is being handled by a committee of which Carl Kretzschmar is chairman.

Rain Interferes With Memorial Day Program

The Memorial Day observance in this city Saturday was transferred to the Auditorium when a morning rain necessitated the cancellation of the parade to the Elks park, where the program was originally scheduled. In spite of the unfavorable weather, several hundred citizens attended the rites.

Pointing out that the American people today appreciate the significance of Memorial Day as never before, State Senator A. O. Sletvold of Detroit Lakes, the speaker of the day, stated that America is a peaceful nation by nature and hence cannot be criticised for not having been prepared for the present war.

The speaker contrasted the philosophy of life in the United States with that of the enemy countries, calling attention to the existence here of civil and religious liberty which, he declared, are well worth fighting for. All citizens, he said, must play a part in the war, and must be united here at home and forget about partisan politics.

The program, over which W. G. Claffy presided, opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, accompanied by the Lincoln high school band directed by Glendon E. Ahre. The invocation was given by Rev. G. S. Thompson, after which the Junior Chamber men's chorus sang two selections under the direction of Truman Rivers and accompanied by Mrs. Walter Larson.

Following Senator Sletvold's address, Dr. A. R. Hulbert, adjutant of the local Legion post, read the roll call of departed veterans, and wreaths were deposited in front of the stage by Boy and Girl Scouts. The audience remained standing while P. G. Pederson sounded taps, and the program closed with the rendition by the band of "The Star-Spangled Banner".

CHURCHES, LODGE GROUPS INELIGIBLE FOR SUGAR RATION

Local Rationing Board Has Received New Orders from Capital

George W. Werstlein, chairman of the Pennington county rationing board, during the past week received from state headquarters a bulletin quoting a telegram from the office of price administration in Washington which prohibits ladies aids, lodge groups and similar organizations from receiving further sugar rations.

The telegraphic order, which affects more than fifty groups in this county, reads as follows:

"Legal department has ruled that unless applicant maintains a regular establishment for the service of food or meals and through that establishment serves meals at least four times per week they cannot receive sugar on an institutional basis that includes churches, lodges, etc., or any other activity such as wedding or picnic. Members or participants or guests may furnish own sugar."

Because of many requests coming to the head office from picnic, ice cream and strawberry festival groups and other unimportant festivities, this ruling has been released from T. G. Driscoll, director of the rationing boards. The local board has been advised to reject any applications from such organizations or groups.

IMPROVEMENT OF SHEEP THEME OF DEMONSTRATION

Meetings Arranged for Next Wednesday on Two County Farms

Better wool and more profitable lambs from Pennington County flocks this year will be the goal of a sheep improvement demonstration to be held at Bray Township farm of V. C. Noper Wednesday, June 10, at 10:00 A. M. and Frank Hardisty farm, June 10 at 1:30 P. M. reports County Agent Ernest A. Palmer.

On that day W. E. Morris, extension specialist from University Farm, will be here to show the best way to shear and handle wool for market and to discuss parasite control, trimming, and adequate pastures for the summer months.

Demand for wool, which is at a new high this year because of army needs, is likely to continue, and sheep men will profit by marketing their wool crop in the best possible shape. A great deal depends on the wool being sheared dry, kept clean, tied and stored properly, says Mr. Palmer. Wool grades, prices and prospects will be stressed this year in the demonstration.

The demonstrations June 10 will include a number of spring and summer practices which will help sheep men put top wool and top lambs on the market.

Successful treatments for worms will be discussed and methods of drenching shown. Dipping to control ticks will also be stressed, with suggestions as to how farmers can get this done with the least inconvenience and expense.

Providing enough pasture for summer feed and rotating the pasture so as to avoid parasites are two important summer sheep problems that will be discussed at the meeting.

Road Maintenance Is Excluded From New Restriction Orders

Word received from Washington by the state highway department, and at the request of the Public Roads Administration passed along to cities, counties and other local units of government this week, disclosed that necessary road and street maintenance and repair work are excluded from the War Production Board's recent order No. L-41 imposing far-reaching restrictions upon road and street construction.

As understood by the state highway department, the modified interpretation of order No. L-41 will permit not only the state department but local county and municipal road authorities to proceed with necessary oiling operations and essential surface retreatments.

Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann expects in the near future to be able to provide county and city authorities throughout the state with a memorandum explaining in detail rules, regulations, and procedure under which essential street and highway construction operations may be authorized under existing federal wartime restrictions. All county and municipal road and street construction must clear through the State Highway Department and, like all state trunk highway projects, must be approved by the district office of the Public Roads Administration.

First word of the more liberal interpretation placed upon the L-41 order by Washington authorities was telegraphed Commissioner Hoffmann by United States Senator Joseph H. Ball, and confirmed by Thomas H. MacDonald, U. S. Commissioner of Public Roads.

The War Production Board's message stressed the point that "Although the supply of bituminous materials and cement may be adequate in some regions, transportation facilities are becoming critical, and for that reason these materials should also be conserved wherever possible."

Times Owes River Falls Township an Apology

The Times owes an apology to River Falls township, it developed this week when Paul A. Londgren, chairman of the county war savings bond campaign, called attention to credit given erroneously in last week's issue to Black River township for being the first township in Pennington county to sign up 100 per cent under the bond purchase program. Mr. Lundgren points out that this distinction rightly goes to River Falls township, and the Times is glad to make the correction.

NO ENDORSEMENTS MADE AT MINN. F-L CONCLAVE FRIDAY

Set up Committee of 21 to Aid in Drafting Party Platform

The Farmer-Labor party state conference, carefully sidestepping any move that might antagonize the leftist F-L association, adopted these resolutions at its closing session in St. Paul Friday.

Urging all AFL, CIO and Railroad Brotherhood unions to resume their affiliation with the association, from which many of them had seceded during the past year's left-right split, and setting up a committee of 21 to work with a like committee from the association in drafting a party platform and deciding whether to indorse candidates before the Sept. 8 primary election.

The conference indorsed no candidates, and no names were presented to it for that purpose, but it left the question of whether the association convention to be held in the Nicollet hotel June 27 should indorse.

The committee of 21 is composed of John S. Findlan, chairman of the F-L state committee; Gladys Goegll, vice-chairman and Carl J. Carlgren, secretary and two delegates from each congressional district. Representing the Ninth district are August Wilkowski of Perham and Verner Nelson of Roseau.

PEDER ENGELSTAD, PIONEER CITIZEN, SUCCUMBS FRIDAY

work in the field of agriculture, he received much public acclaim, climaxed in 1925 by a laudatory sketch of his career published in the American Magazine.

In 1900 Mr. Engelstad, in company with the late Peter C. Wold and Mikkel Becken, introduced the first purebred sire into what is now Pennington county, and four years later he purchased his first purebred Guernsey sire and started developing what resulted in one of the largest herds of Guernseys in this section of the state. He also is credited with having been the first dairy farmer in the county to construct a silo.

In addition to his farming activities, Mr. Engelstad found time for work in other fields. He was one of the organizers of the Thief River Falls cooperative creamery, and its secretary for more than 15 years, and had been a director of the Bray Mutual Fire Insurance company since its inception.

He served his home community in the capacity of clerk of the school district for nearly a half century, and held the office of town clerk in Rocksbury for thirty years, as well as having been town supervisor and justice of the peace.

He had been associated for a long period of years with the former Thief River Falls Commercial club and with its successor, the Civic and Commerce association. He also was affiliated with the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges and with the Royal Neighbors lodge.

Mr. Engelstad and his faithful helpmeet were honored on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary August 12, 1931, when a large gathering of relatives and friends, including 100 local business men, assembled at their farm home to pay them a well-deserved tribute. The venerable couple quietly observed their sixtieth anniversary in August, 1941.

Included in the surviving family, in addition of Mrs. Engelstad, are seven sons, Mons, Paul, Axel, Christian, Ole of this community, Lars, of Moorhead; and Melvin, of Chicago; two daughters, Mrs. Edwin Hanson and Mrs. Louise Anderson; 26 grandchildren and eight greatgrandchildren. He was preceded in death by two sons, two daughters, two grandchildren and two greatgrandchildren.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

When you consider the new products we've seen developed in our time... you'd think that just about everything worth while in the world was invented in the last few years.

It's kind of refreshing, for a change, to find out that some pleasant things in our modern life date way back to ancient days.

For instance—I read the other day about a piece of pottery some scientists dug up in Mesopotamia. On the pottery was a picture of two brewery workers making beer.

That picture was 6,000 years old!

You know, that's something to think about. Beer—6,000 years ago! I wonder if it tasted anything like the good lager beer I have sent up to the house every now and then.

Somewhere else, I read that beer came over on the Mayflower—in fact, if I remember right, a shortage of beer was one of the reasons why the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock instead of somewhere else.

Interesting, isn't it, the way a simple, everyday beverage like beer can get tangled up with history!

Maybe it's because there's something fundamental and human about beer. It's the beverage of moderate, sensible, well-behaved people in every part of the world, and always has been.

Personally, I like it because it tastes so good and is so refreshing ... and I know I can trust it. And I get a thrill out of thinking that maybe some writer fellow back in ancient Egypt or ancient Mesopotamia, thousands of years ago, felt the same way about beer as I do.

It's a small world, after all...

Japan's raid on Dutch Harbor was not unexpected. Many observers have predicted Japan would attempt to gain a foothold in Alaska as a means of cutting the northern supply lines to Siberia and the reason this attempt has not been made probably is because of the limitations of Japanese armed forces. Had they pointed in that direction at the start of the campaign there is little doubt that they would have been able to establish themselves. Now, six months after Pearl Harbor, our defenses have been strengthened tremendously and the advantage in the North should be on our side. The north route to Asia is the short cut route and it is by this way that American supplies will go to the Chinese and Siberians when things are ready. Japan may advance that time by an attack on the Russians, knowing that such a fight is inevitable. Russia will not precipitate the fight until the circumstances are more favorable. The United Nations will not attempt an offensive in Asia until the northern supply route has been established and adequate supplies have been made available. Then look out.

If there were any Thief River Falls taxpayers who complained about the size of the tax bill this year we don't know who they are. All those we discussed the question with were pleased with the reduction that had been made. And because of the reduction Thief River Falls property owners are substantially richer than they were. Not only in the amount they actually saved by paying less are they wealthier. But for each five dollars their taxes were reduced, their property increased in value one hundred dollars, figuring their property as a five per cent investment.

Maybe it would be proper to say a word in behalf of the large number of civilians who are doing a peach of a job for the government at considerable sacrifice but who are often accused of drawing fat salaries. We cannot name them all but a few of the many who belong in this classification are the members of the draft boards, the local doctors who make preliminary examinations of selectees, and members of the various boards and committees who do the hundred and one odd jobs that must be done in each community. With the exception of a few full time employees, none of them are paid for their work or worry or even their expense. No one is making a profit on the war bonds and stamps that you buy. Banks and stores sell them as a public service. We know that most people know these things. Those who don't know it, and who make careless statements about how much somebody else is getting out of a particular assignment, should be told.

To Black River Township the Times last week gave credit for being the first over the top in the War Bond drive. The honor should have gone to the people of River Falls township. We're sorry. Some time when Black River comes in with a first we'll give the glory to River Falls and even the score.

Mexico's declaration of war on the Axis powers may be of little importance from a strictly military standpoint but from some angles it is highly important. For one thing it will add to the difficulties of the Axis powers in maintaining their espionage systems on the North American continent, making possible closer co-operation between our governments in combating the activities of enemy agents. Greatest value of this declaration, however, will be its influence upon the thinking of other Latin American countries, and more indirectly the thinking of the people of Spain and Portugal. Mexico's formal declaration of war is another one of those things we have reason to feel good about. It is tangible proof of the wisdom of the administration's good neighbor policy.

Among other things we should be glad about, lets be thankful we didn't get that seven inch rain that soaked southern Minnesota.

GARDEN and TABLE

By ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

If you have plenty of garden room, give squash a high priority rating among your victory vegetables. There's a lot to be said for the lowly squash, especially this year when canning room is at a premium. The squash is a rich source of Vitamin A. It keeps very well for months in an attic or dry furnace room. No coddling is necessary. Perhaps you know only one variety, Hubbard? If so, why not try Buttercup or Greengold, small squashes that are handy in size and choice in flavor.

Squash plants need plenty of room. They are ordinarily hardy if protected from the squash bug and cucumber beetle. We can supply you with a folder which shows just how to head off these pests.

If transportation becomes more difficult, Minnesota may have to supply its own Vitamin C next winter. Fortunately, our tomatoes stand up well alongside of the citrus fruits we normally look to for this important vitamin. A cup of tomato juice delivers as much Vitamin C as a half cup of orange juice. Another nice thing about tomatoes is that they can be canned in quantity without sugar. You should have about 25 plants this year for every member of the family. If you want to save some work, plant them in wide rows for horse or tractor cultivation.

The wise homemaker will spread her canning as much as possible this year. Look over the equipment now to be sure everything is ship-shape. Lay in the supplies you need. Don't hoard. It isn't patriotic, nor is it necessary. You can put up fruits without sugar or at least with a smaller amount of sugar. The sweetness needed for pleasant eating can be added as the sauce is served. You may find after a while that you enjoy canned fruit with much less sugar than you have been using.

Don't forget that when the corn grows, weeds also have their field day. Don't neglect to cultivate and weed the garden these days. Weeds and bugs are the enemies of your garden. Lay them low now and save trouble later.

ORE MOVIE SHOWS VAST ORE MOVEMENT

The story of the part that iron ore plays in the winning of this war is told in a movie, "Lake Carrier", released to northwest theaters this week by the Office for Emergency Management. The picture shows the production of ore on the Iron Range of northern Minnesota, its transportation to Duluth and Superior docks, the loading of the huge ore boats and over the Great Lakes to the steel mills for fabrication. Frederic March, the movie star, gives a running account as the movie unfolds the details of the production.

Origination of Feasting

Feasting has always been an important part of the wedding ceremony. Among some ancient tribes a man and woman eating together signified they were married. The wedding cake is always an important part of the wedding feast. The English wedding cake of early times was small spiced buns. The guests would make a huge pyramid of these buns in the middle of the table and force the bride and groom to try and kiss over them. If they succeeded it meant lifelong prosperity. At one wedding a French cook became greatly irritated because the small buns kept falling off the top, so he solved that difficulty at the next wedding by producing one large, pyramid-shaped cake.

One quarter of the average July and August fish catch in Minnesota is crappies; sunfish run 44%.

Excessive Exercise Not Fatal

College athletes do not shorten their lives by excessive exercise, according to Dr. Louis Dublin, statistician. Over a period of 20 years he has compared the deaths of 3,000 college athletes with an equal number of men of the same age who were healthy enough to secure life insurance and has reached the conclusion that exercise has not injured college athletes.

84-YEAR-OLD WOMAN CALLS DOCTOR FIRST TIME

Lester Prairie.—For the first time in her almost 87-year life span, Mrs. Fred Kuhlmann, Sr., called a doctor recently while suffering with a pain in her back. Some 15 years ago she consulted a doctor in his office. Another record Grandma Kuhlmann is proud of, is that she has not missed a breakfast at the table, nearly always prepared by herself, since her last child was born about 46 years ago.

RECREATION HIGHLIGHTS

The recreation program is sponsored by the city council in cooperation with the Work Projects Administration.

Baseball

All boys interested in playing midget or junior baseball are urged to meet at the fairgrounds for practice weekday evenings from 6:15 to 8:00 o'clock. The junior team is sponsored by the American Legion and plays games in a four-team league which includes Warren, East Grand Forks, Oslo and Thief River Falls. For the younger boys midget teams will be organized to play in a city league. Outside games will probably be arranged for the midget team also.

Arena and East-Side Park

Activities of the recreation program are confined mostly to the arena and East-side park at the present time. At the arena the game room is open every weekday afternoon. At the same time, the puppet work is carried on. The arena is also the meeting place for children going on the weekly camp trips, which come every Wednesday. Notices at the arena tell about the hours of the hikes and other information pertaining to them. The craft shop in the arena basement will not be open long hours during the summer, but will be kept open some for those wanting to work on craft articles. All those wanting to work in the shop are asked to get in touch with leaders at the arena for information concerning open hours. East-side park is open from one o'clock in the afternoon until nine at night. Tennis, softball, baseball, volleyball, badminton, ping pong, horseshoe, archery, croquet, and other game equipment is available without charge.

Softball and Roller Skating

The softball league got under way Tuesday of this week at East-side park. Because most teams are short of players, league officials have encouraged high school boys and middle age men to take part in the activity. Roller skate at the arena every Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday nights.

Tindolph Park and Pool

Equipment will be installed in Tindolph swimming pool late this week or early next week. After the equipment is in the water life guards will go on duty. Hours at the pool may be shortened this year because of the life guard shortage. Parents are urged to keep in touch with the paper for information concerning any change in hours that might come about. Two First D-Ball Games Resulted in Defaults

The City D-ball league got off to an inauspicious start this week when two of the teams scheduled to play failed to put in their appearance. The defending champion Harts defaulted to the DeMolay in the game scheduled for Tuesday night; and last night the Land O' Lakes failed to appear for their game with Red Owl. Bridgeman's vs. Kiewel's are scheduled for tonight, and the two managers, Stan Cockrell of the Bridgeman's and Ole Ness of the Kiewel's, have promised to have their teams on the field.

April Traffic on State Trunk Highways Is 18.2 Pct. Less Than in 1941

April traffic on Minnesota trunk highways was 18.2 per cent less in 1942 than in 1941, according to counts by automatic traffic recorders operated by the highway planning survey, joint project of the department of highways and the federal public roads administration. Most noticeable was the decrease in Sunday traffic, some stations showing fewer vehicles on Sundays than on week days and all showing a substantial decrease from normal Sunday traffic. Saturday and Sunday traffic in April, 1942, averaged only 2? per cent higher than Monday to Friday traffic, whereas in 1941 it was 41 per cent higher.

Minnesota traffic decreases are in line with national trends. In February the decrease in Minnesota was 6.5 per cent compared to 7.6 per cent average decrease in 42 states operating automatic recorders. In March the decrease was 11.5 per cent in Minnesota and 11.6 per cent average in 18 other states so far reported.

All of the 22 stations in Minnesota for which comparative figures are available for both years in April showed decreases varying from 1.9 to 28.9 per cent. Individual stations were affected by local road and weather conditions, industrial activity, and special events, but the 18.2 per cent average decrease indicates a growing tendency to conserve tires and vehicles during the emergency.

.... With HUCK OLSON

Plenty of Problems

Ferd Elstad, in his second season as coach of the American Legion junior baseball team, is having plenty of trouble in organizing the team for the season's opening game, which is scheduled to be played at Warren on Sunday. Of last year's team, which came within a put-out of reaching the district finals, pitcher Lenny Lorentson, catcher Doug Snelling, second baseman Ralph Hunt, and shortstop Johnny Campbell, have passed the age limit; first baseman Don Berg has a job and doesn't think that he will find time to play; and outfielder Homer Matheson is employed out of town. That leaves Milt Reierson, Noly Ness, Vern Tormoen, Bob Baker, and Marlyn Dorn as the nucleus for this year's nine.

Several of the squad's newcomers—Billy McKechnie, Billy Dye, Virg Evenstad and Don Fretland—have shown promise, and Elstad plans on using these boys in his line-up. But the club's most vital need is for a pitcher, and of the candidates that have appeared at the practice sessions there hasn't been a hurling prospect.

It is rumored that several of the St. Hilaire boys will try out for the local team, and that would be quite a boost for Ferd's team for there are a number of boys down there who are first-rate junior baseball players. There may be a pitcher down there, too.

Coach Elstad wants all young ball players, those whose birthdays follow Jan. 1st 1925, to report at the Fair Grounds diamond at 6 p. m.

He Has Problems, Too

Ole Ness, manager of the city ball teahm, has his problems, too, but his chief problem is in arranging a schedule of games for his team. The ball club, and it's a pretty fair lineup, is ready to go, but they haven't been able to find any opponents. Ole called Red Lake Falls, Warren, Alvarado, and Oslo, and learned that those towns weren't indulging in independent ball this year. But Ole hasn't given up and he may be able to scrape up a game for Sunday.

I see where Plummer's Ray Ste. Marie is playing third base for Shorty Dekko's Crookston team; and Plummer's catcher, Harold "Brownie" McCrady, is doing the catching for the Henning team in the North Central league. Stan Cockrell spent the week-end at his home in Henning, and played first base for the Hennings in their game against the Fergus Falls Red Sox. Harley Oyloe pitched fine ball to give Fergus a 3 to 1 decision.

Those Headaches Again

Whenever Harold Eide looks at the American League standings he gets headache spells, and these spells have been pretty terrific the last week for the New York Yankees are about eight games in the lead. Harold, you know, is so anti-Yankee that it's funny the FBI hasn't checked on him. With the Yanks apparently a cinch for the pennant, the only reason that Harold looks at the A. L. box scores is to gloat over the troubles that the Yanks' Joe DiMaggio is having in getting started this year, and to rave over the hitting of Boston's Ted Williams and his r. b. i. record. It didn't help his headache to have the Yankees' Joe Gordon take over the leadership in the American League's batting averages. Harold just took a couple more pills.

Should Have a Lot of Fun

It appears that the city golf league, which has been in a "budding" stage for several weeks, will blossom into a reality next week. A number of city firms—The Pharmacy, Bratrud Clinics, Poppler's, The Times, Soo Line, The Mint, Oen's and perhaps the Rex Cafe and the postoffice—have expressed interest and willingness to sponsor a team. That would make a ten team league and should create considerable friendly rivalry.

Now that the suspension bridge, and it's an attraction, has been spanned across the river it's going to be interesting to watch the boys play holes 8 and 9. When it was impossible to play those holes some of the golfers, and one in particular, were bragging about what a cinch it was to score a birdie on 8 and a par on 9. They'll do it every time.

And don't forget, golfers, that there will be a merchandise tournament Sunday afternoon. Hub Baum is sponsor of Sunday's tourney, and he will present awards to the various winners.

Guess I'll Have to Try It

So many glowing reports have been received about the fine wall-eyed pike fishing at Waskish that I guess I'll have to try it this week. Henry "Curly" Boe, one of the many anglers that reported limit catches there during the week-end, tells me that all I need is a pre- [illegible] a pail of minnows, and a stringer.

Bury the Hatchet

In pioneer days the tomahawk was a favorite weapon of both Indian and settler. It also was used by the Indians as a ceremonial symbol. They buried the hatchet when they made peace and dug it up again on the breaking out of war.

CIVILIAN AIDES IN MINNESOTA RISE TO 100,000 TOTAL

Total of 26,745 Air Raid Wardens Now Enrolled in State

Moving ahead in organization for civilian and military defense, officials in charge of Minnesota's rapidly expanding war program were able to report this week that more than 100,000 men and women had been enrolled as volunteers in the various activities embraced in the program.

Few states if any have made such progress. Federal representatives, inspecting Minnesota's organization for civilian defense, have reported it is one of most advanced in the country, and the state's military preparations in particular have been singled out for commendation.

Air raid wardens enrolled now number 26,745, C. A. Zweiner, chief of staff, state office of civilian defense, reported this week, as the wardens here and in other counties throughout the state prepared to start classes of instruction on their duties. Representatives of the warden organization from virtually all counties attended a school of instruction at the University of Minnesota during the past week. The county leader selected to take this course in each case is to instruct the local wardens. Arrangements were being made this week for the classes, and it was expected that they would get under way in most counties within a week or two.

Reporting progress made in other branches of civilian effort, Zweiner said that auxiliary firemen enrolled now number 8,100 and auxiliary policemen, 2,539. Victory Aides enrolled have reached 31,448. Other groups utilizing civilian volunteers include the aircraft spotting service, with 8,781 enrolled; councils of defense, with 4,370 members, and the recreational program, with an enrollment of 10,491.

"First aid instruction, though not started until March 18, is now a functioning part of 38 or more defense councils," Zweiner said. "We hope soon every Minnesota volunteer will be taking or has finished the official first aid course."

Sixty-one counties have enrolled the number of air raid wardens requested as a minimum standard by the state office of civilian defense, Zweiner said, and most of the others have the work well under way. Organization of the Victory Aides, who are to direct the far-reaching program among the women, has progressed almost as rapidly.

Organization of Minnesota's home defense force, first to be formed in the nation, has been the occasion of special commendation. The force, recruited and organized by Adjutant General Ellard A. Walsh, now numbers 438 officers and 5,842 men, well equipped and trained. Included in a medical battalion, made up of 284 officers and men, and a nurses corps, consisting of 282 officers and nurses, equipped and ready for any duty that might arise in case of an emergency.

LIGHTNING KNOCKS JAPAN OFF GLOBE

Elbow Lake.—Why couldn't it have been the Allies instead of lightning which knocked Japan off the globe recently? Shortly after the pupils had been dismissed for the day in Meadow Lark school, the school building was struck by lightning, damaging the belfry, ripping the roof, knocking out windows and considerable other damage. Strangest part of the lightning activity is the fact that it sent a splinter through the island of Japan on the globe as neatly as the Allied Nations will eventually do.

TWO LEGS NOT ENOUGH FOR CHICK

Janesville.—Ben Frank and Howard Wagner, local hatchery men are busier than the dickens these days. All because of the arrival of a four-legged chick at their establishment recently. They are giving the chick super-care with a view to having him ready for Ringling Bros. circus soon. The two extra legs are carried behind the body of the bird and almost appear to be an addition to the tail.

WOMEN'S CAMP AT N. W. SCHOOL WILL START JUNE 8TH

Lectures, Demonstrations and Handicraft Work to be Features

The seventeenth annual women's camp, to be held at the Northwest School, Crookston, on June 7-11, will provide a program of more than usual interest to Red River Valley women. An increasing number of women each year are taking advantage of the opportunities for instruction, rest, and recreation offered at the women's camp. Considerable latitude in program schedules is allowed at the camp to best serve the needs of the women enrolled.

The program committee for the camp has been very fortunate this year in securing outstanding specialists for the lectures demonstrations, and handicraft work. Miss Retta Bede, home economics specialist, and R. J. Halvorson, registrar, will act as camp leaders. Lecturers for the camp include Miss M. Beatrice Johnstone from the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks; Wm. F. Munch from the Minnesota state department of conservation, and Dr. Paul Hagen of Crookston.

Food demonstrations in keeping with the war-time foods program will be of unusual interest this year. Miss Ina B. Rowe of the Minnesota agricultural extension division has been secured to bring to the campers the latest information on the utilization of dairy products in cookery. Miss Alma Swenson, a demonstrator from the Wheat Flour Institute in Chicago, will give recipes and demonstrate baking a variety of foods under war-time rationing conditions. Demonstrations on cuts of meats and boning poultry will be given by O. M. Kiser and A. M. Pilkey of the Northwest School faculty.

Handicraft work, which has proved very popular in former camps, will be given again this year. At the request of 1941 women's camp members, wood craft will be given two laboratory periods. Mr. A. M. Foker and W. R. Peterson, instructors in woodcraft, state that materials for the three articles to be made will cost the campers fifteen cents. Weaving of articles on small inexpensive hand looms will be taught by Miss Martha Lehman of Crookston.

April Retail Trade in Valley Exceeds 1941

Department and general store sales in Minnesota's Red River Valley section during the Easter month of April were 18 per cent above those for the corresponding period of 1941, according to figures reported by stores in this area to the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis. The cumulative total for the four month period ending with April 1942 stood 27 per cent above that for 1941. Reports from stores throughout Minnesota put April 1942 8 per cent above April last year. Sales figures for the first four months of 1942 were 24 per cent above those for the corresponding period in 1941.

SHEEP SHEDS 18 POUNDS OF WOOL

FAITH IN HONESTY OF FELLOWMEN REVIVED

Elk River.—An incident such as this one serves as a lesson to keep up one's faith in his fellow men. A traveling salesman stopped at a local business place recently in a cheerful and generous frame of mind, treated a number of bystanders and joined in social chit chat. Following his departure a number of valuable fountain pens which had been on display were missing. Two days later the same man appeared and insisted upon paying for the pens, explaining he had taken them while more or less foggy, due to imbibing too much and too frequently.

40-Mile Speed Limit May Ease Other War Travel Restrictions

Wholehearted cooperative obedience to the new 40-mile maximum speed limit, made effective throughout Minnesota by executive war-emergency decree last Friday, may, in the opinion of state highway officials, be the midwest motorists' way of avoiding far more onerous and discommoding travel restrictions to compel the conservation of rubber and automobiles.

In a state highway department news bulletin today Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann reported that all posted speed zone signs in excess of 40-miles per hour have been removed from the entire 11,267 miles of state trunk highway system. In compliance with the executive decree of Governor Stassen, issued in conformity with President Roosevelt's war emergency message to the governors of all states, highway patrolmen and local enforcement officers alike are now responsible for enforcing public compliance with the new speed regulations.

"We cannot over-emphasize the importance of wholehearted public compliance and of cooperation on the part of each individual motorist to see that the new restrictions are observed and enforced," Commissioner Hoffmann said.

Minnesota University Commencement Slated for Saturday, June 13

First war-time June commencement of the University of Minnesota since the summer of 1917 will take place in Memorial Stadium Saturday, June 13, at 8 P. M. In the neighborhood of 1800 degrees of all grades will be awarded and around 100 young men will become eligible for commissions in the army because they have completed the ROTC course. President Walter C. Coffey will be the speaker.

The Rev. Dr. Roy L. Smith, editor of The Christian Advocate, has been selected to preach the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class, speaking in Northrop Memorial Auditorium Sunday morning, June 7.

Registrations for the summer sessions of the University of Minnesota will begin Monday, June 15, leaving no idle period between the close of one college period and the start of another. Many colleges, including law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, nursing, architecture and the Institute of Technology will offer accelerated schedules during the summer to enable students to finish their college work sooner and enter some phase of the nation's war effort.

That's Gratitude in Reverse

There is a limit to the Good Samaritan act. A man in St. Joseph, standing near a fire box turned in an alarm at the request of a trolley motorman who had just been robbed of $30. Police, arriving with the firemen, arrested him.

STASSEN OFFERS PLAN FOR WORLD PEACE AFTER WAR

Governor Submits 7-Point Program in Nation-wide Broadcast

Declaring it is time to begin the formulation of a program that will bring lasting peace to the world, Governor Harold E. Stassen in an address broadcast in Minnesota and other sections of the country this past week proposed the formation of a World Association of Free People and charted out lines of co-operative action on the part of the free nations designed to reach this goal.

Addressing the Northern Baptist Convention in Cleveland, Stassen said that the peace after this war, if it is to be lasting, "must be in keeping with the basic concepts of religion" and then mapped out plans for a world association to make this ideal effective, with seven concrete steps, including a world legion, or police force, to enforce the administration of justice.

All of the united and neutral nations should be invited to join this association, Stassen said, provided they agreed to certain minimum requirements as to rights and liberties of their citizens, including freedom of worship, a fair system of internal justice and the right of the people to participate in the selection of their leaders. Definite steps which this association well might take, he said, are:

First: Establish temporary governments over each of the Axis nations, utilizing citizens of the united nations descended from the nationality involved, to serve until opportunity can be given for the people of the Axis nation to set up a proper government.

Second: Establish an airways commission to have control of the great international airports of the future.

Third: Establish an administrative body to take control of the gateways of the seven seas.

Fourth: Establish a commission to increase the literacy of the peoples of the world.

Fifth: Establish a code of justice for the relationship between the peoples of the nations of the world and machinery for its administration.

Sixth: Establish a trade commission to increase world trade, seeking to prevent stifling obstructions or heavy dumping of goods.

Seventh: Establish a world legion to be the world police force to enforce the administration of world justice and make effective administration of the airways and seaways.

Governor Stassen said he presented his proposals to stimulate discussion, expressing the hope that by the time the war ends there will be "a plan for action in peace, understood and accepted by a majority of the people of this country and accepted by our allies."

BARKING DOGS ANNOUNCE OPPOSSUM

Young America.—It wasn't the usual visitor to his farm that Henry Grimm found when he responded to the bark of his dogs one morning recently, but none other than an injured oppossum. Leg injuries prevented it from using its hind legs and the animal was only able to pull itself with its forelegs. The tail and ears had been frozen off sometime during the winter. The animal is rare in this state and Minnesota game laws do not protect oppossum so Game Warden Boyle disposed of the injured animal.

In Sherburne County, north of Big Lake and Elk River, is the new state forest, the 978-acre Sand Dunes tract.

OLD SETTLERS PICNIC DRAWS CROWD SUNDAY

Perfect Weather Favors Occasion Sponsored by Farm Bureau

STATE FARM BUREAU SECRETARY SPEAKS

Arrangements Made at Outing to Form Permanent Organization

Favored with ideal June weather and with the beautiful tourist park furnishing a most attractive setting for the occasion, the first of what promises to be a series of annual old settlers' picnics was held Sunday under the sponsorship of the Pennington county farm bureau, a gathering of approximately 1,000 persons assembling for the occasion.

Registration was made at the outing of all persons present who have lived in this locality 35 years or longer, and these names will furnish the nucleus for an Old Settlers association to be formed in the near future by township, village and city chairmen, with Iver Iverson of Rocksbury named temporary chairman of the committee. Robert J. Lund outlined the procedure for forming an organization.

Following a group of well-rendered selections by the Thief River Falls municipal band directed by Vern Keifenheim, Paul Engelstad, presiding as chairman, introduced Rev. E. L. FARM BUREAU TO OFFER SERIES OF MOVIE PROGRAMS

Safety Director of State Federation to Hold Meetings

County Agent Ernest A. Palmer and Paul Engelstad, president of the Pennington County farm bureau, announce that the services of W. A. Dickinson, safety director of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, has been secured to hold a series of free sound motion picture shows in Pennington County as follows:

Monday, June 15, Smiley community hall; Tuesday, June 16, Highlanding community hall; Wednesday, June 17, school auditorium, St. Hilaire; Thursday, June 18, City Auditorium, Thief River Falls; Friday, June 19, school auditorium, Goodridge. All meetings begin at 8:30 p. m.

Each show includes a talk by Mr. Dickinson, a fluent speaker who enjoys the reputation of holding the closest attention of his audience in his dramatic presentation of the highway accident situation and some things that may be done about it.

The pictures are the best obtainable and are educational as well as highly entertaining. No one interested in farmers organizations or accident prevention on the highways can afford to miss them, Mr. Palmer stated.

In "You and Your Neighbor", new film, the scenario of which was written by Leland Melrose, editor of the Farm Bureau News, is depicted in a most graphic manner the activities of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation and the Farm Bureau units. The show closes with a mirth provoking feature film which is actually a whole Farm Bureau unit program in itself. It deals with the experience of one "Silas Scott" on the highway and the trouble he had in getting home from the "meetin'".

A round of cheers to the sponsors of the Old Settlers picnic at the tourist park Sunday. As long as we have a few of the original settlers of the community with us such recognition should be an annual event. Making proper arrangements for a large gathering of that kind involves a lot of work for a few individuals and the individuals who did the chores this time should receive credit for doing a swell job. So to them, a round of cheers.

Thief River Falls will be host this week to two veterans' organizations, the ninth district American Legion convention and the annual reunion of the International War Veterans Alliance. In entertaining these groups the community's facilities will be taxed to the limit but thanks to the cooperation of individuals and organizations the city will do its usual good job. Conventions of this kind are colorful spectacles. They have their serious sessions too, but for the public there is always an abundance of street activities that make the annual meetings of the Legionnaires interesting. The week-end in Thief River Falls is going to be busy—and noisy.

Our friends, the Nips, tried to repeat their Pearl Harbor success last week but this time it was the visitors who were surprised. In this attack their losses were just as staggering as were ours six months ago, and in many respects more serious. The Japs now know the taste of a naval defeat. A few weeks ago their navy was turned back in the Coral Sea but they claimed that to be a victory. Now, for the first time in their modern history, they are "explaining" to their people that occasional reverses must be expected. Ever since they destroyed the Russian Asiatic fleet nearly four decades ago they have believed themselves invincible. Their more recent successes in China and thruout the Far East no doubt had them convinced that they were a superior race. What a let down it is going to be when they are finally forced to admit that at best they are only second raters.

For a few weeks at least, it seems, we are not going to have to worry about gasoline rationing. President Roosevelt is going to conduct a survey of his own to ascertain the facts and then, presumably, we will be told what to expect. That sounds like a sensible thing to do except that we can't keep from wondering what the experts Roosevelt has appointed to handle these details for him have been doing all this time. We have presumed, when told by them what we should do, that they have known something of the problem to which they have been assigned. Now, maybe, we will get our information from a special group of super-specialists. Why were not these matters referred to them in the first place?

Nazi spokesmen have admitted unofficially that not enough planes are available to meet the demands of their active war fronts and at the same time defend the cities of their homeland from the attacks of the British air force. Such an admission betrays a grave weakness in their military machine and the fact that the leaders permit continual bombing of their own cities while they use all available air power in their attempt to drive to the Southeast indicates how desperately they need to tap the oil supplies of the Caucasus. They apparently are gambling everything on this one issue. If they fail to defeat the Russians they are done. If they are able to gain control of the territory surrounding the Black Sea then they will have at their disposal most of the oil of Europe and the Near East, strengthening their position as much as it weakens the enemy. That is why strategists look upon the outcome of the battle now in progress between the Germans and Russians as the factor that will determine whether or not we will have a long war. The Russians are not beaten yet—but neither is Hitler.

Harold Hagen is the first entry in the race to succeed Congressman Buckler and he undoubtedly will be one of the leading contenders. As secretary to the Congressman he has made many friends thruout the district. He is a hustler and he doesn't neglect his correspondence. It will take a good campaigner to beat him.

Hitler, we hear, holds Great Britain responsible for ending the career of Nazi Hangman Heydrich. That's quite a compliment to the English.

Bears are killing a lot of sheep over around Grand Rapids, and it sounds like an unbearable situation.

In this war, unlike the last one, you don't hear about men buying $20 silk shirts.

Not all the lubricants needed to win the war come from the ground, says a Duluth commentator. There's elbow grease, for instance.

That must have been a rare spectacle at the recent Farmer-Labor conference in St. Paul when Elmer A. Benson and Hjalmar Petersen appeared on the same platform without exchanging acrimonious remarks.

We won't feel quite at ease over the outcome of the war until this country gets control of the U-boat situation.

If you have a dollar to spare, better turn it over to Ralph Luhman, chairman of the local USO campaign for the benefit of the men in service.

We can't get cuffs on the suit now, but a colleague is more worried about not being able to get suits on the cuff.

Leon Henderson, price control administrator, asks for a staff of 80,000 to enforce the regulations. At that rate, there soon won't be anybody to check up on except government employes.

In the language of war bond quotas, the treasury department tells us I. Q. stands for Independence Quota.

That rasping noise you hear is the sound of candidates filing for office since the season opened yesterday.

DIAMONDBALL IS NOW IN PROGRESS WITH 4-TEAM LOOP

Bridgemans Defeat Kiewels and Kiewels Win from The Red Owl

City D-ball League

Bridgeman's	1	0	1.000
Kiewel's	1	1	.500
DeMolay	0	0	.000

Next week's schedule:

June 11th, Bridgeman's vs. DeMolay.

June 15th, Kiewel's vs. DeMolay.

June 17th, Bridgeman's vs. Red Owl.

The failure of the Hartz and the Land O'Lakes teams to appear for scheduled games forced the D-ball league directors to revise the schedule into a four-team circuit, with Bridgeman's, Kiewel's, DeMolay, and the Red Owl being the member teams. The schedule will have Bridgeman's playing the DeMolay tonight, Kiewel's playing the DeMolay next Monday night; and Bridgeman's meeting the Red Owl on Wednesday night.

Bridgeman's, 15; Kiewel's, 8.

Stan Cockrell's Bridgeman's team opened the D-ball season last Thursday night by clubbing out a 15 to 8 decision over Ole Ness' Kiewel's team. Stan pounded out a triple and double in four tries; and Eli Pomerenke connected for three hits in four trips to the plate. Wally DuChamp, who hurled the first three innings for the red-shirted Kiewel's, had "three for three".

Bridgeman's	421 313 1	15	12	3

Batteries— A. Lorentson and Johnson; W. DuChamp, Anderson, and M. Carlson.

Kiewel's 6; Red Owl 3

In a well-played game last night the Kiewel's took a 6 to 3 decision from the Red Owl. Kiewel's Wayne Anderson collected seven strikeouts, while Doc Elstad marked up five strikeouts. Steve Alnes, in leftfield for the Red Owl, played a splendid game, making three running catches.

Red Owl	100 101 0	3	4	2
Kiewel's	015 000 X	6	0	1

MOSQUITO PLAGUES CONQUERED!

Thief River Falls, Minn. — The mosquito "plagues" of the last two years have brought to light a new, efficient and lasting weapon with which milk producers are fighting this insect. Mosquitoes and flies were causing serious losses in production so something just had to be done. Sprays and vapors were used with only limited effect, they evaporated too quickly. Then, came the "new idea"—thorough, lasting protection from dust. Dust that kills insects only, by contact, and is non-poisonous, harmless to humans and animals. Dust that is clean, safe, easy to apply, inexpensive, practically odorless. Dust that gives instant control over not only mosquitoes and flies but also over, Ants, Cockroaches, Crickets, Flea Beetles, Leaf Hoppers, Cabbage Worms, Webworms, Aphids and Potato Bugs—and (Sh-h-h h!) —Bedbugs, too! That dust is called Pyrocide Dust and it is sold under the guarantee that it must give absolute satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded in full. Maruska's Seed and Produce House, the Jay-Bee Drug Store and the Thief River Farm Supply all recommend Pyrocide Dust and urge their patrons to come in and talk over their insect problems. There is no obligation to buy. 24c

Fine Boxing Card at Auditorium Saturday

Several of the Northwest's top-flight Golden Glove boxers will feature the six-bout amateur boxing card which promoter Bill LaFave has arranged for the Auditorium Saturday night, June 13th. Booker Ellis, Negro lightweight from Minneapolis, will face Bob Luby, Irish lightweight from St. Paul, in the six round wind-up.

In the semi-windup, Tom Sperling, Northwest Golden Glove bantamweight champion, and participant in the Chicago Golden Gloves tournament, will meet Lloyd Harder, Minneapolis featherweight champion, in a four-round bout. One of the program's high-lights should be the three-round bout between Bill Zuke, University of North Dakota athlete and the Northwest Golden Glove heavyweight champion, and Sid Nelson, Bemidji's 215-pound heavy-weight contender.

Other bouts on the card will pit Harold Smith, 145-pound boxer from Grygla, against Arnold Ewing, 140 pounds, of Bemidji, in a three-round bout. Rolly Brooks of Bemidji and Jerry Jespe of Grand Forks, both welterweights, will meet in a three-round bout. And Plummer's Paul Rostan, 165 pounds, will box Jack Heinzan, 165-pound Grand Forks amateur, three rounds.

Mike Gibbons, the famed St. Paul Phantom, and former contender for the world's middleweight championship, will referee several of the bouts. Jimmy Waters, secretary of the Minnesota boxing commission, will be in attendance and will present the franchise to the local management.

T. R. FALLS JUNIOR BALL TEAM WHIPS WARREN SUNDAY

Virg Evenstad Pitches Fine Brand of Ball for the Local Club

Piling up six runs in the second inning, when the Warren defense collapsed, the Thief River Falls junior team defeated Hersch Lysacker's Warren team, 10 to 4, in a game played at Warren Sunday afternoon. The locals' young freshman pitcher, Virg Evenstad, hurled a surprisingly fine brand of ball, collecting eleven strikeouts during the seven innings.

Billy Bye, with a double and two singles in three trips to the plate; Bob Baker clouting out a triple and two singles; and Vern Tormoen's two singles, led the Thief River attack on Warren's Glen Lindberg. The only Ponies who were having success in solving Evenstad's delivery were Maynard Ranstrom, who pounded out two triples, and Warren Fulks who cracked out a couple of singles.

Fern Elstad, the locals' coach, announced that the next league game is scheduled to be played here Tuesday evening, June 16th, when the district champion East Grand Forks team will oppose the locals on the fair grounds diamond.

Civic & Commerce Assn. Instructs Committee to Seek Airport Action

With interest in airports accentuated by the government's current expansion of air training courses in communities thruout the nation, the Civic and Commerce association at its luncheon meeting last Thursday noon passed a motion instructing the organization's airport committee to confer with the city council to urge continued action toward securing an airport for this city. Local merchants met following the session to discuss federal regulations dealing with charge accounts and installment sales, no formal action being taken by the group.

They'll get Started Tomorrow

The City Golf League, with ten teams on its roster, will begin play on its schedule tomorrow evening. Team captains are requested to have their members at the first tee by 6 o'clock. By getting off the first tee before six thirty the teams will be able to play eighteen holes of golf, and that's the purpose of the league—to play golf. The following teams have entered the league: Lincoln Life (Lloyd Bennes), Rex Cafe (Phil Larson), Soo Line (Frank Kobliska), J. & B. Drugs (Dr. A. Jacobson), Bratrud Clinic (Ben Frolland), Poppler's Furniture (Stan Larson), Oen's (Roy Oen), Hartz Bakery (Ed Carlson,) Times (Cal Colvin), and Cerny's Mint (Oscar Cerny).

Lysaker Moves

Herschel Lysaker, athletic coach at Warren since 1936, has accepted the athletic coaching job at Crookston's Central high school. It's no secret that Hersch hasn't been too happy at Warren the past couple of years. The basketball fans, in particular, have subjected Lysaker to considerable heat, for they felt that the Ponies should have taken several district championships. Lysaker has turned out some fine teams at Warren, and I look for him to come up with some first-rate clubs at Crookston. Hersch's transfer to Crookston should be good "box office", and the rivalry between the Pirates and the Ponies should be intense next year.

And speaking of coaches, I see where my old room-mate, Mark Almli, has been named basketball and baseball coach at St. Olaf college. Since his graduation in 1931 Mark has coached at Ironwood, Mich.; Eau Claire and Marshfield, Wisc; and for a number of years he played "pro" baseball with the Superior Blues in the Northern League. Mark, especially in his freshman and sophomore years, was the most baffling basketball dribbler I ever saw. Swede Carlson, a member of the local American Legion team in the early 20's, had an effective dribble, but he didn't have Almli's change of pace. Swede, of course, was an all-round player who was a genius at setting up scoring plays.

One Game for Sure

Manager Ole Ness has arranged a home-and-home series with the Gatzke ball club, so the local fans are sure of witnessing one home game this season. And it appears that Plummer is going to make an effort to organize a team. That was the impression I got from a conversation I had with Plummer's "young" Jimmy Gilbertson this week. While Jim didn't say so, I gathered that he was anxious to get another chance at chucking against the local club and that he believes he can mark up a win over Thief River. I wouldn't bet against Jim either. A series with Plummer would be quite an attraction, and at the close of the series the two teams could combine into an all-star aggregation and play Shorty Dekko's Crookston Pirates.

Plenty of Fireworks

That's what is on the program for Saturday night when promoter Bill LaFave's card of top-flight Golden Glove amateur boxers perform in the Auditorium. The boxing show will be one of the features of the Ninth District American Legion convention.

Bill was fortunate in being able to secure two Northwest Golden Glove champions—Tom Sperling and Bill Zuke. Zuke, a University of North Dakota athlete, won the heavyweight championship and made a creditable showing in the Chicago tournament; while Sperling, who's a bantamweight, also fought in the Chicago tournament but an injured wrist forced him out of the tourney after he had won two bouts. Zuke's opponent Saturday night will be Bemidji's 215-pound Sid Nelson, and this three-round bout should be one of the card's high-lights. Nelson, who graduated from Bemidji high school this year, is capable of upsetting Zuke.

Sperling, in his four-round semi-windup bout, will face the Minneapolis Golden Glove featherweight champion Lloyd Harder. The two boys have faced each other before and Harder has punched out decisions in two bouts while Sperling has won the nod in one match. The windup will pit Booker Ellis, Minneapolis Golden Glove lightweight champion, against Bob Luby, St. Paul lightweight champion. Ellis, a Negro, is favored to defeat the St. Paul Irishman in the six round bout.

Mike Gibbons, who isn't a stranger to these parts, will referee the main bouts. Mike, you recall, was one of the world's best boxers, and for a number of years was a leading contender for the world's middleweight championship.

Waskish

Well, I fished Waskish last Friday, and Dad and I caught our limits of pike, mostly sand pike, for they weren't very large. But the fellows that were having fun out there were the boys that were after the great northerns. Harold Elofson and Carl Melby were there over the week-end, and they hooked and landed about twenty big northerns. Harold had one that tipped the scales at eighteen pounds, and several that were around the fifteen pound mark. Dick Hornseth was a northern pike fisherman out there Friday, too, and he came back with a fine string. Dick had a fifteen pound northern, and he lost a couple that would have gone over that mark. There's no kidding about it, the northerns up there are tackle busters.

About the finest string of wall-eyed pike that has been brought into town this season was brought back from big Winnibigoshish lake by Harry Glander, Oscar Ellingson, Art and Clarence Dicken. The wall-eyes were a five-pound average, with several of the big golden-bellied pike weighing seven pounds. The party trolled in the vicinity of Raven's Point, but they had their best luck trolling in about fifteen feet of water at the mouth of Raven's creek. Their tackle took a beating, too, because of the large number of snags.

FARMERS SHOULD CONSERVE TIRES, WAR BOARD SAYS

County Chairman Suggests Pooling of Automotive Resources

"I think the day is nearer than we think when repair parts and tires for cars and trucks will be unobtainable," Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the Pennington County USDA War Board, said today in warning county farmers to conserve their tires, cars and trucks to protect wartime food production.

Members of the USDA War Board, local leaders in the wartime farm production drive, urge that farmers give immediate thought to ways of cutting down on driving, such as "share-your-car" and "share-your truck" methods of neighborhood pooling.

Preference ratings with local tire rationing boards won't do any good when tires are gone, nor will there be any more repair parts after automobile and truck supply shelves have been cleaned out," Anderson said.

"You should drive your car and truck as carefully as though you weren't expecting a replacement tire or repair part for the duration," he said. "Every farmer should let his neighbors know when he goes to town and offer to take them or run errands for them. All of us should drive as little as possible, but when a trip is necessary it should serve more than one family."

Gov. Stassen to Lead Town Hall Program at Crookston June 18th

A town hall meeting, for an open forum discussion of Wartime Service—Minnesota in Action— is scheduled in Crookston Thursday, June 18, at 7:30 P. M., with Governor Harold E. Stassen as leader of the program.

This announcement was made by Mrs. E. H. Harding, ninth district Republican chairwoman who is general chairman of arrangements for the event. The program will take place in the high school auditorium.

Town hall meetings, similar to the one to be held in Crookston, were first sponsored by the Good Government conference committee of the Republican woman's organization.

The public is given the opportunity to voice opinions, ask questions and exchange ideas, and the sponsors have announced that they will welcome and appreciate frank discussion during the meeting, as an example of democracy in action.

GOVERNOR PLANS REORGANIZING OF STATE INSPECTORS

Orders Study of Possibility of Combining Various State Services

Embarking upon the first venture of its kind in the nation, research men for the state are engaged upon a study, ordered by Governor Harold E. Stassen, looking toward the possible consolidation of many of the inspection services of the state and the adoption of a coordinated program that will eliminate unnecessary duplication.

Minnesota has 1,082 inspectors, examiners and auditors engaged in 75 different varieties of inspection and auditing services, ranging from bullhead fish inspectors and wild rice harvest inspectors to boiler inspectors, the study has disclosed.

Cost of these services has not been determined as yet, for the items are buried in the budgets of many state departments, but conservative estimates place the total above $2,500,000 a year. State inspectors travel through the state working for a dozen different departments, and large numbers, too, are concentrated at important terminals, carrying on inspection programs that have expanded and developed in a hap-hazard pattern as new statutes were enacted calling for new inspections.

The study, now being carried on under the division of administrative management and research, headed by L. M. Guinan, is to determine how far the governor can go in reorganizing these services and eliminating duplication. What form the reorganization will take has not been decided, but the need for it has been made clear.

THIS HAPPENED IN MINNESOTA

Fergus Falls.—Incidents such as this one usually take place in the south, at least we northerners have many a laugh over similar tales originating among the backwoodsmen down there. A farmer residing near New York Mills recently had a rude awakening when he went to town to buy sugar, and found he couldn't do it as he wasn't registered. He was referred to the local rationing board where he learned to his great surprise that we are at war. He reads no paper, does not have a radio, stays on his farm and attends strictly to his own affairs, he says.

Municipalities League to Meet in Ely Monday

Wartime problems of local government will be the overshadowing theme of the program at the twenty-ninth annual convention of the League of Minnesota Municipalities at Ely, June 15, 16, and 17, according to announcement made by C. C. Ludwig of Minneapolis, executive secretary. Several federal and state officials will be present to speak and consult with the municipal officials regarding specific phases of the nation's all-out war effort which touch municipal government. Sessions will be held in Ely's new community building. More than 500 city and village representatives are expected to attend.

Express Service for Armed Forces Improved

Under a new plan now in effect, packages sent by express to men in the armed forces who have been transferred, will now be reshipped to them in this country at no extra cost, said L. O. Head, president of Railway Express Agency.

This arrangement applies to personal shipments 20 pounds or less, addressed to domestic military or naval posts and camps. Such packages will be reforwarded to any point in the continental United States. Shipments over 20 pounds under similar circumstances will be held on hand at the point addressed until the sender can be notified and arrange for the payment of extra cost involved in sending the package to the new location.

Express packages for men sent abroad will be forwarded to them through the cooperation of the United States post office department, providing the postal limitations set are met.

More Pork
when hogs are kept on sanitary CONCRETE
A sure way to increase your pork production is to keep pigs on concrete from farrowing to market time.
One farmer who does this reports: "My first crop is gone to market by the time the second is farrowed . . . average weights around 275 pounds at six months . . . 100 pounds of pork with 300 pounds of feed."
Hog floors are only one of many improvements that will make your farm more efficient and productive. A new barn floor, poultry house, milk house, milk cooling tank, manure pit or watering trough costs little to build with concrete and will last a lifetime.
Concrete farm jobs require a minimum of critical war materials. Many jobs need just a few bags of cement, and some sand and gravel or stone.
Do your own concrete work, or ask your cement dealer for names of concrete contractors. Let us help by sending free "how-to-build" booklets.
Check booklet subject, paste on penny postal and mail today.

BEER for Moderation and Morale
War has a curious effect on civilians. There is a tendency to "let go", to do things in excess at a time when prudence ought to govern every action.
The man who turns to a glass of beer for relaxation and mild stimulation during these times is fortunate in this respect. For beer, being a beverage of moderation, encourages moderation in all things. This in turn leads to an orderly, resolute state of mind . . . MORALE they call it.
Remember that morale can't be bought over the counter during war time. It must be built from those human resources of courage understanding and justice which true sobriety fosters.

MARKED CUTS IN TRUCK MILEAGE IS AIM OF ORDER

New Regulations on Truck Movements Will Take Effect July 1

Sharp reductions in mileage, elimination of less-than-capacity loads and overloading, as well as elimination of non-essential services have been called for in the motor truck industry by the Office of Defense Transportation.

Four orders covering a general truck conservation plan were made public by northwest ODT officials today following receipt from Joseph B. Eastman, ODT director. They become effective July 1.

In them, all truck users, haulers and carriers are required to carry a full load going out and at least a 75-per-cent capacity load on the way back, or vice versa. They are also required to avoid overloading beyond standards set up by the ODT and to travel by the most direct route possible. Overloading, it was explained, will reduce the life of a vehicle and wear tires down faster.

To carry out the capacity loading requirements, operators will have to make arrangements with shippers at their destinations to furnish a near capacity load for the return trip.

"It cannot be emphasized too strongly," said Eastman, "that the objectives of these orders must be achieved if the nation's motor truck transportation facilities are to meet the demands of the war effort."

BIG CONVENT[illegible] PARADE DRAWS RECORD CROWD

Stirring Pageant Sunday Is Viewed by Estimated 20,000 Persons

DOZEN BANDS, DRUM CORPS PARTICIPATE

Winnipeg Mayor Addresses Huge Assemblage at Fair Grounds

Presenting a stirring spectacle with numerous patriotic high lights, the major parade of the Ninth district American Legion convention and IWVA reunion in Thief River Falls Sunday afternoon attracted to the city one of the largest gatherings in its history, an informal survey by members of the state highway patrol giving an estimate of 20,000 persons present for the occasion.

Throngs of spectators flanked the mile-long line of march of the parade all the way from the east end of the Third st. bridge to the fair grounds at the west edge of the city. The procession wound up by marching in review in front of the packed grandstand at the fair grounds, after which some of the musical groups performed and Mayor John Queen of Winnipeg delivered a brief address.

Adding much color to the parade, as well as providing lively music, were a profusion of outstanding musical organizations, including the Ninth district Legion band, Valour Road Legion trumpet band of Winnipeg, the St. Paul East Side drum corps, Winnipeg police kiltie band, Breckenridge girls drum corps, Fargo Legion drum corps, Crookston high school drum corps, Grand Forks Legion drum corps, Lincoln high school band, Thief River Falls ladies drum corps and the Mentor school band.

The parade was led by the highway patrol, followed by mounted horsemen, massed American and Canadian colors, Legionnaires and local and visiting officials. A striking feature was supplied by Victory Aides of the city, bearing flags of all the Allied Nations. Other participating units were the Boy and Girl Scouts, baton twirlers, air raid wardens, nurses, Legionnaires and Canadian veterans.

Among the attractive floats were those of the Marshall county Legion council, Steiner 4-H club, Lions club, Pennington County Sportsmens club, Thief River Falls Seed House, Eagles lodge, Mobiloil, City Dairy, Oen Mercantile company, Legion auxiliary, Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a representation of Uncle Sam and John Bull.

Morris Bye, presiding over the fair grounds program, presented the various musical groups, which won hearty applause for their evolutions. He also presented a ten-wheel army truck and a small armored car known as a "peep".

SERVICE STATIONS SHARING IN RUBBER COLLECTION DRIVE

President Roosevelt Calls on Nation to Salvage Rubber Items

President Roosevelt urged the American people Friday to turn in "every bit of rubber you can possibly spare" to help remedy a serious shortage arising from war conditions.

The chief executive spoke to his countrymen by radio as a preliminary to a nation-wide campaign to collect every bit of spare scrap rubber in the country in the period from June 15 to June 30.

"I know", the President declared, "that I don't need to urge you to take part in this collection drive.

"All you need to know is the place to take your rubber and the time to take it there— and the fact that your country needs it.

"We do not want you to turn in essential rubber that you need in your daily life—rubber you will have to replace by buying new things in the store.

"We do want every bit of rubber you can possibly spare—and in any quantity. We want it in every form. If you think it is rubber, take it to your nearest filling station.

"Once the rubber is in, we will know what our supplies of used rubber are and we will make our plans accordingly".

Impressive Memorial Program Held Sunday

Fully 2,000 persons assembled from a wide area in the beautiful setting afforded by the Elks park Sunday evening to witness the Flag Day exercises and memorial services that were the concluding feature of the Ninth district American Legion convention and the reunion of the International War Veterans Alliance in this city. An ideal summer evening favored the occasion.

Preceding the program, over which Dr. A. E. Jacobson presided as chairman, a dozen bands and drum corps from communities in Minnesota, North Dakota and Canada provided a colorful spectacle as they entered the park, headed by the Ninth district Legion band, under the direction of T. W. Thorson of Crookston, which played "The Vanished Army", "America" and "God Save the King".

Members of the local Elks lodge bore a huge American flag, and lodge officers conducted a brief Flag Day ritual, after which Floyd Henderson of Grafton, N. D., North Dakota department commander of the Legion, gave the Flag Day address, declaring that in the present war the people on the home front must carry on and build up a strong morale.

Following a prayer by Dr. Jacobson and a selection by the Crookston Auxiliary trio, Major C. Rhodes Smith of Winnipeg delivered the memorial address. Citing the achievement of the men who fought in the last World War, he said their memory is imperishable. The people of the free nations, he declared, must consecrate themselves in the present struggle to the task of blotting out Nazism.

Major Smith also called attention to the necessity of building a new world organization to maintain a permanent peace, stating that it must have behind it the power of force, and that the nations of the world must be prepared to surrender a portion of their sovereignty.

H. M. Hitterdal supplied a baritone solo, "The Trumpeter", after which Mrs. Claude Carpenter of Crookston, retiring district president of the Legion auxiliary, presented an "In Memoriam", and Canadian and American veterans and members of the auxiliaries placed wreaths on a symbolic tomb.

The selection, "In Flanders Fields", was rendered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce male chorus directed by Truman Rivers, followed which taps was sounded, and the program closed with the playing by the Ninth district Legion band of "O Canada" and "The Star Spangled Banner".

Emma Weide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weide, and Maynard Mehrkens, son of H. W. Mehrkens, were married on Friday, June 12, at 6:30 p. m. at the St. John's Lutheran church, Rev. Seebach of Mavie officiating. Attendants were Miss Beatrice Ostmoe and Marvin Mehrkins, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a powder blue net redingote style frock and carried a colonial style bouquet of roses, carnations, and peonies. Her bridesmaid wore a rose dress of lace, and she also carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. Both wore flowers in their hair to match their bouquets.

Following the double ring ceremony a reception was held at the home of H. W. Mehrkens, father of the bridegroom, for about twenty of their nearest relatives. A buffet style supper was served the feature of which was a three tiered wedding cake trimmed in white with a miniature bride and groom topping it.

For their wedding trip the couple left for Duluth and the Black Hills. For going away the bride chose a tan suit with red accessories.

Mrs. Mehrkens has been employed at the Land O'Lakes for the past five years. Mr. Mehrkens owns a farm southwest of the city where they will make their home.

The deceased was born on December 13, 1854, at Ness, Hedemarken, Norway. He was approximately 12 years old when he came to America with his parents and two sisters in 1866 and resided near LaCrosse, Wisc., for a brief time. He then moved to the western part of Norman County where they settled on a homestead about a mile south of what later became the village of Hendrum. He came to Thief River Falls in 1908 and resided here until his death with the exception of a 6 month stay in Canada with his son John.

He leaves to mourn his departure five sons, John and Clarence of Thief River Falls, Martin and Joseph in British Columbia, Canada, and Calmer of Menahga; also eleven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

While engaged in farming at Hendrum he served for many years in different offices of public trust. He together with friends at Hendrum built the Evangelical Mission House there and for many years was active in the church work there.

CREAMERY PICNIC AT MIDDLE RIVER PARK DRAWS 4,000

Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture Main Speaker on Program

In spite of major events in other nearby localities, the 15th annual Marshall county creameries picnic attracted a crowd estimated at more than 4,000 people to the Middle River state park last Sunday afternoon.

An interesting program was presented during the afternoon with E. M. Evans, Middle River, serving as master of ceremonies. A feature was a dairy quiz contest with C. M. Ptacek, dairy and food inspector, serving as Prof. Quiz.

Ed. J. Thye, deputy commissioner of agriculture, dairy and food, was the principal speaker during the afternoon. Because of a conflicting engagement, John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, was unable to attend.

"Agriculture has not had an easy row to hoe," Mr. Thye said in recalling back in 1910 when farming was considered a good, profitable occupation. "At that time the cash farm income was 17½ per cent of the national income and by 1932, agriculture, representing one-fourth of the population, was getting only six per cent of the national income. Since then agriculture has come a long way back through the AAA but this must be improved considerably in order that American agriculture will receive its just proportion of the national income for American prosperity."

which gave a brief demonstration of their maneuverability.

Mayor Queen of Winnipeg, who was introduced by Elmer Eid of East Grand Forks, first vice commander of the Minnesota department of the American Legion, declared it is a pity that the other nations of the world have not followed the example of friendly relations set by the United States and Canada. He closed by expressing the hope that in the post-war period steps would be taken to remove poverty which, he stated, is due to imperfect distribution of the wealth of the world.

VETERANS' GROUPS ELECT OFFICERS AT CONVENTION IN CITY

Orchard of Winnipeg, president of the IWVA, and Harry Wilson of Minneapolis, head of the Minnesota 40 & 8 organization.

Submitted by the resolutions committee and unanimously adopted were resolutions thanking local officials, the Legion post and citizens in general for courtesies extended; endorsing Rev. B. H. Wessling of Fergus Falls for the office of national chaplain of the Legion; and offering all possible aid to returning veterans of the present war.

Speakers at the IWVA business session included Mayor Kinghorn, Roy T. Anderson, department commander of the Legion; Philip Monson, Ninth district commander; and Major C. Rhodes Smith and C. V. Combe, both of Winnipeg.

An enjoyable feature was added to the Legion auxiliary program Saturday afternoon when delegates to the Legion convention invaded the auxiliary meeting in the Community church in a large group headed by Joseph E. Kise of Moorhead, past district commander. Speaking briefly were Mrs. Carpenter in behalf of the auxiliary, and Ray T. Anderson and Philip R. Monson respectively for the state and district Legion organizations.

Salvation Army Urges Speed in Salvage Work

Salvation Army corps throughout the northwest have received an appeal to do even more than they have been doing to bring to light more scrap and waste materials for use in the war production machine.

Local officers were notified of a wire from Paul C. Cabot of the War Production Board that has reached Brigadier T. M. Larsen, in command of the Army's Northern division at Minneapolis, which urged that impetus be added to Salvation Army salvage activities.

"Please increase collection of salvage and other discarded material as rapidly as possible," Mr. Cabot's message declared. "Rubber, metal, rags and other waste material urgently needed for processing into new raw materials."

THE BIG DRIVE IS ON

Observers say the 1942 Spring offensive of the Axis powers is now definitely under way. On the first anniversary of his attack on Russia, Hitler's campaign to gain control of the Caucasus is under way again in dead earnest. In North Africa the Germans and Italians are driving ahead with the evident purpose of taking Egypt and the Suez Canal. Japan is shifting troops to the Siberian border and an attack is expected as soon as the Russians start showing weakness on the German front. And in the meantime the Japanese navy has been trying to cut American supply lines in the north and south Pacific.

During the critical months ahead of us it is not expected that the United Nations will be able to do more than fight defensive battles. Japan has already suffered several serious naval reversals in attempted attacks on American positions and whatever gains the Germans are making in Russia are proving expensive. In North Africa, however, the Axis powers seem to be gaining ground. That the situation in this area is serious is indicated by the fact that a large convoy has been rushed through the dangerous waters of the Mediterranean to bring needed supplies to the battered British.

If, during the next two months, the Germans and Japanese fail to make sensational gains, it is predicted that the tide of war will have turned definitely in favor of the United Nations. By the first of September our position either will be a great deal more serious or our prospects will be much improved. The battles now developing or already under way will be recognized later as among the most important of the war.

Thief River Falls may secure a site for an airport in the near future. At any rate the city dads are favorably disposed to the idea and may act before the year is out. In buying a site we believe the council should be guided by only one consideration—to secure the best possible location regardless of how it is being used at the present time, and then buy it through condemnation. Whatever site is now selected will probably serve the community for hundreds of years. Airports of the future will be just as important as highways are today. We know from experience that it is cheaper in the long run to build our main highways on as straight a line as possible. The original cost of the land used is only a small part of the total cost. And in selecting the site for an airport we should not use a second or third choice location merely because the first cost will be a little less. When the war ends Thief River Falls will need a good airport and that need will last as long as there is a Thief River Falls.

To Alex Cloutier and Emmett Wright a round of cheers for a swell parade Sunday afternoon. Wright arranged for the musical organizations and Cloutier, parade committee chairman, hustled up a fine variety of floats and marching units to fill in between the bands and drum corps. An estimated total of 20,000 spectators jammed the streets along the line of march and from them came much praise for the manner in which the mile-and-a-half long procession was handled. It was a nice job.

The next gathering of veterans to be entertained in Thief River Falls probably will be a noisier affair than the one held here last week-end. By that time the youngsters now in service will be back home again with lots of cause to celebrate their safe return. They are going to be more numerous too than the veterans of World War No. 1, and more energetic. There are going to be many interesting things to look forward to when the present war ends.

Arguments about the location of the Alaskan highway do not much interest us, especially so because the present location is favorable to us. We do not know, of course, whether or not that is the best location but we do know that in disputes of this kind, dissatisfaction is likely to be based on selfish considerations. West coast states naturally would prefer to have the highway extend along the west coast. The present location will not build tourist trade for them in the post war period. We suspect, therefore, that the attempt to smear the present route may have its origin along the Pacific.

LIVELY SET-TOS FEATURE BOXING CARD SATURDAY

Booker Ellis, St. Paul Golden Gloves Champ, Wins Main Bout

Nifty Booker Ellis, St. Paul Golden Gloves lightweight champion pounded out a decision over Tom Lube, also of St. Paul, in the three-round main event in the amateur boxing program presented by promoter Bill LaFave in the Auditorium Saturday night. The small crowd saw Ellis, a Negro, score two knockdowns, flooring Lube for a nine-count in the first round, and for a three-count at the end of the second round.

In the semi-windup bout, Bill Zuke, Northwest Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, flashed too much experience for Bemidji's Sid Nelson, and won a well-earned decision over the Bemidji lumberjack. Both heavies weighed in at 220 pounds.

In one of the program's most exciting bouts, Kermit Maidment, local welterweight, marked up a decision over Hazel's 145-pound Warren Wilson. The two boxers mixed freely, with the stocky well-muscled Maidment having a decided edge over his lanky, blond opponent. Both fighters were arm-weary at the end of their three-round set-to.

Grand Forks' veteran Ray Baker, a Northwest Golden Gloves winner in 1936, made effective use of a sharp left hook to score a decision over Bemidji's Rolly Brooks. Baker, who substituted for Jerry Zespe, weighed 141 pounds, while Brooks came in at 148 pounds.

Bemidji's Arnold Ewing, 138 pounds, slapped out a three-round decision over Harold Smith, local 141-pound boxer.

In the opening bout on the card Paul Rosten, Plummer middleweight, scored a second round knockout over tall Jack Heinzan of Grand Forks. After an even first round, Rosten, mid-way in the second round, connected with a terrific right swing, and the dark-haired Heinzan went down for the ten-count. Heinzan was so completely "out" that it was a number of minutes before he was able to leave the ring.

Mike Gibbons refereed the bouts with Bill Dahlquist handling the announcements, and Ed Johnson being the time-keeper.

FARM SECURITY OFFERS HELP IN GRAIN STORAGE

To Give Aid in Building and Repairing Low Cost Granaries

An emergency supplemental loan program has been launched in Minnesota by the Farm Security administration of the U. S. department of agriculture to finance the construction or repair of low cost granaries for borrower-farmers who are faced with the problem of finding proper storage space for their wheat as they thresh it this month and next.

H. W. Thelander, county supervisor, disclosed that the Washington office has authorized loans to provide emergency farm grain storage on the following conditions:

1. Such loans may be made only to standard Farm Security borrowers and to other farmers who have received loans from FSA for participation in co-operative grain elevator associations in Minnesota.

2. Such loans may be made only for amounts necessary to construct or repair emergency facilities which will meet minimum Commodity Credit corporation farm storage requirements and thus qualify the farmers for Commodity Credit corporation loans available to cooperators in the AAA program.

Mr. Thelander said this action was being taken by Farm Security to help alleviate the critical grain storage problem developing in Minnesota and other Northwest states as a result of the bumper wheat crop to be handled this season with terminal and sub-terminal warehouses and country elevators already filled almost to capacity with the record carry-over of surplus grain.

The Boxing Show

The wide-spread comments of the fans that attend Bill LaFave's boxing show in the Auditorium Saturday night have all been favorable. The six bouts on the card were all humdingers and they merited more of a crowd than was on hand when referee Mike Gibbons called Paul Rosten and Jack Heinzan together for the opening bout. Too many extra attractions around town Saturday night, I suppose. But the fans did see some top-flight boxers, and the boys that were particularly impressive and entertaining were Bokker Ellis, Ray Baker, Paul Rosten, Kermit Maidment, and Bill Zuke. Ellis looked very nifty in polishing off Tom Lube in the final bout. And it was in the nature of a "rubber" match, for those two boys had met in two previous bouts, and each had won a match.

Ray Baker, the Grand Forks veteran, was pressed into the program as a substitute when Jerry Zespe failed to appear, and Ray proceeded to hammer out a win over Bemidji's Rolly Brooks. And the local boys, Paul Rosten and Kermit Maidment, got a big hand for their efforts. Paul caught Heinzan with a right hand swing and flattened the Grand Forks boxer for the ten count. Heinzan had boxed a careful first round, causing Rosten to miss a number of haymakers, but in the second round he zigged into one of Paul's swings, and that ended the bout.

If Kermit Maidment and Warren Wilson had had more stamina their bout would have been sensational. These boys were rushed into the card when it was learned that Rom Sperling and Lloyd Harder, featherweights, could not make the trip up here. Sperling and Harder are employed in the Cities, and it was impossible for them to get a leave from their jobs. But Maidment and Wilson put on a "grudge" fight that was worth the watching. A couple of weeks ago, in a gymnasium workout, Wilson hung a "shiner" on Maidment, so Kermit was plenty anxious to get his revenge Saturday night. And you should have been those two boys go! Big Bill Zuke didn't have much difficulty in defeating Sid Nelson.

Chatting with Ray Baker I learned that he has joined the Fargo school system and that he plans on having a boxing team there next year. Ray was in favor of organizing a boxing circuit, with teams from Grand Forks, Bemidji, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Devils Lake, and Park Rapids, for the purposes of developing outstanding Golden Gloves contenders. Miff Graham, a former Golden Gloves team-mate of Baker's, is located at Devils Lake and he has developed a team there.

They'll Try Again Tomorrow

The City Golf League matches, along with a number of tomato, bean, and potato plants, were frozen out last Friday, and they will try to get their schedule under way tomorrow evening.

Lloyd Jennes was out on the course Tuesday evening correcting a slice in his wood shots. He thinks he has remedied the slice, by placing his left wrist farther over on the club shaft. Next week he perhaps have to move that left wrist under the club shaft to get rid of a hook.

Take a Look at the Juniors

Tuesday's rain washed away the game scheduled to be played that evening with the East Grand Forks team; but Ray Baker will bring his district champs over here tonight for a game on the Fair Grounds diamond. And on Sunday afternoon the Oslo team will be on the local diamond for a game with Ferd Elstad's club. Why not go out there and look over the junior baseball players. Vern Tormoen, Bob Baker, Billy Bye, Virg Evenstad, and Billy McKechnie are some of the boys that are playing fine ball for the locals, and these youngsters are improving.

Ball Team to Open at Gatzke

Ole Ness will send the local ball team through two intensive drills Thursday and Friday evenings, in preparation for the opening game at Gatzke next Sunday. All candidates are asked to report at the Fair Grounds. And the locals need the practice, for they won't have a soft touch in meeting Gatzke. Gatzke, with a team of veterans, trounced Grygla last Sunday and ready to add Ole's team to their win column.

The River's Been Hot

Judging by the well-filled stringers that the boys have been carrying, the river fishing, especially for northerns or pickerel, has been tops the past week. The pools above and below the dam, and the Squaw Point bridge, have been given a heavy play. The cold weather may have stirred up the pike because they've been very active. John "Dugan" Kruse and Charlie Miramontes each made limit catches Saturday. Slim Lawson, still-fishing off his dock on Thief river, hooked and landed a northern that weighed ten pounds. It is reported that Ole Froseth caught a four-pound wall-eye in the pool below the dam. I saw Al Weber, president of the Bird's Nest and Backlash club, fishing off the bridge north of town Tuesday evening, and he had two northerns on his stringer.

Kinghorn, members of the city council and representatives of civic organizations participating, the new bridge across Thief River, on the golf course will be dedicated next Thursday evening, June 25, at 7:30, it was announced today by Kern Olson, chairman of the golf club committee in charge of arrangements. 32 State Residents are Traffic Victims in May, State Bureau Reports

For the first month since America's entrance into World War II, the Minnesota Editors' Save 100 Lives campaign last month exceeded its goal of saving lives by reduction of traffic accidents.

Thirty-two persons were killed in May traffic in the state, as compared with 53 fatalities in May of 1941, and a "budget of allowable deaths" of 45, set by the Editorial Association's accident prevention committee, of which John E. Casey of Jordan is state chairman.

The reported May traffic toll, encouraging as it was to Minnesota safety leaders, was based on an unofficial and preliminary count, with the realization that several deaths may yet occur as a result of injuries suffered during the month.

Although May fatalities were 21 below the previous May, and 13 under the budget, they brought to 271 the total number of traffic deaths reported to the state highway department since the opening of the second year of the traffic safety drive on Oct. 1, 1941.

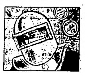
Soldiers of Production

America's "soldiers of production," men and women working in the plants of American industry, have their uniforms, too. Some uniforms worn by G-E workers on vital production jobs are shown below.

1. Not a gas mask, but a special nose mask to guard his breathing, is worn by this spray painter at his job in one of the General Electric plants.



2. Like a man from Mars, the "cold room" research man is a strange sight as he tests airplane instruments for high-altitude performance in a G-E laboratory.

3. Frankenstein? No, just another G-E worker. His job is sandblasting big turbine castings for Uncle Sam's ships at one of the General Electric plants.

4. The helmet he wears is to protect him from light! The rays from a welder's arc could cause blindness if he did not wear this strange headgear.

SELL YOUR SCRAP RUBBER TO U.S.-RIGHT NOW

NATION-WIDE Scrap Rubber Drive ★ JUNE 15-30

Your country needs it...and it may avert gas rationing

You will be paid 1¢ a pound by any Standard Oil Dealer or Agent! Bring your old rubber in today... Urgent!

Millions of tons of discarded and worn out rubber articles are gathering dust in the garages, basements, and attics of American homes . . . articles useless to you, but all important to the American war effort.

That rubber can be reclaimed—IF YOU'LL TURN IT IN TO THE GOVERNMENT. Here's a real opportunity for you to help speed the day of victory. And there's another side to it—the shadow of nation wide gasoline rationing is upon us. Its necessity in the Midwest is based not on a shortage of gasoline, but on a need to save tires for possible future war use. If enough scrap rubber is provided by this drive, nation-wide rationing of gasoline may be avoided.

When you bring your scrap rubber to your Standard Oil Dealer, or to any other service station, the rubber will be weighed and you'll get your money at that time. No oil company will receive one penny profit. The difference between the amount we pay and the amount Uncle Sam pays us goes to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief and the American Red Cross.

BRING IN all your reclaimable rubber, such as tires, tubes, boots, rubbers, hot water bottles, garden hose—anything made of rubber.

MAN, SINCE GLUEK'S STARTED BREWING THEIR BEER UNDER ULTRA-VIOLET RAYS, I'VE WORN OUT TWO SPIGOTS AND MY ARM IS LAME!

Why 'Hoodlum'

Why is a young ruffian called a hoodlum? In the early days of San Francisco, a gang of young rowdies was headed by a man named Muldoon. A newspaper reporter coined a name for the gang by spelling Muldoon backwards: noodlum. A compositor changed the "n" to "h" in error, and it was allowed to stand. The word has been "hoodlum" ever since.

SELECTEES TO GET 14-DAY FURLOUGHS UNDER NEW ORDER

State Chief of Selective Service Cites Change in Regulations

A new procedure of releasing inducted men from active service for fourteen days immediately following induction was announced today by Colonel J. E. Nelson, state director of selective service. This procedure will take the place of the present policy of allowing inductees a ten-day furlough upon request.

The release from active service will be automatic, unless the man desires to continue immediately to the reception center to enter active service. The procedure went into effect June 16, 1942.

Registrants will be forwarded to the induction station by the local board in the same manner as at present. Provided he is accepted, he will be inducted into the Army, and then immediately transferred to the enlisted reserve corps, with an order to proceed to the city in which his local board is located.

At the same time he will be given an order to report for active service on a date which will be approximately fourteen days later.

The men will travel home from the induction station and from their homes to the reception center at the expiration of the period under the leadership of one of the registrants inducted from their local board group. The government will provide transportation, and meals and lodging en route.

It is pointed out that farewell ceremonies for the men inducted may after June 18 be held at the time they leave for active service, at the expiration of the fourteen-day period. All of the men in the group will have been accepted for military service and ordered to active duty. None will be faced with the embarrassment of returning home following such ceremonies, should they happen to be rejected, as frequently occurs under the present policy.

Funeral rites will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Nazareth Lutheran church near Trail, Rev. Halvard Lie officiating, for Bjorgulv Bjornaraa, widely known Norse leader and lecturer, who passed away at the age of 64 Monday at his home in Hickory township.

Active pallbearers will be a group of six neighbors, including E. H. Oftelie, Knut Lintveit, Gunder Lintveit, Thore Skomedal, Bjorn Tveitbakk and Rolf Hofstad.

A resident of Pennington county since 1912, Mr. Bjornaraa gained wide prominence thru his affiliation with various Norwegian groups designed to preserve Norse traditions and culture.

He was founder of the Setesdalslaget and its president for nearly thirty years, and also established the Hardanger Violinists association of America, serving that organization as secretary and leader for a long period of years. In May, 1941, he was elected president of Bygdelagenes Fellesraad, Inc., a union of the various lag groups.

Born in Setesdalen, Norway, May 10, 1878, Mr. Bjornaraa was married in 1900 to Ingeborg Berg, and the young couple came to this country in 1903, settling at Starbuck, Minnesota, where he taught parochial school in various congregations until 1912.

In the latter year he came to Hickory township, settling on what is reported to be the last homestead open to settlement in Pennington county. During his years of residence, he served at various times as a member of the town board and of the school board.

In 1930 he represented a number of Norse groups at a festival in Trondheim, Norway, celebrating the 900th anniversary of the introduction of Christianity into Norway.

The surviving family include his wife and eight children: Dreng and Borghild in Washington, D. C.; Solveig in Grand Forks; and Olof, Selma, Thorwald, Einar and Sigurd of the Trail community. Three other children preceded him in death.

ANNOUNCE PLAN FOR GIVING OUT CANNING SUGAR

Signing up Not Limited to This Week Only, Says Werstlein

NO REGISTRATION ON FRIDAY OR SATURDAY

Applicants Asked to Register in Alphabetical Order

Registration for special allotments of sugar for home canning of fruits and berries will be continued throughout the canning season, George W. Werstlein, chairman of the county rationing board, announced today, adding that registration should not be made until ready to start canning.

"There is considerable confusion in the registration so far," he said: "Many persons are under the impression every housewife must get her canning sugar this week. That is not correct. Each housewife must get all of her canning sugar at once but she may get it this week, next week or any other week as soon as she starts canning."

The day of the week on which applicants will register will be determined by the first letter of their last name in the following order: Any Monday, persons whose last names begin with A thru E; any Tuesday, F thru K; any Wednesday, L thru Q; any Thursday, R thru Z. There will be no registration for canning sugar on Fridays and Saturdays.

Fridays will be designated for registration of institutional and industrial users. These applications shall be made for a period of two months and may be made any Friday during the months in which the sugar is to be used.

Office hours for receiving applications for canning sugar and also for institutional and industrial users are from 9 A. M. to 12 noon and 1 P. M. to 4 P. M.

Each applicant for canning sugar must present the war ration books (or serial numbers of books) for all members of his or her family when he applies for the family's special sugar allotment.

Each family must obtain its canning sugar certificate from the rationing board which has jurisdiction over the school district in which the family first registered.

The office of the local rationing board is on the second floor of the Northern State Bank Building, Room 204.

C. ELMER ANDERSON FILES IN LT. GOVERNOR RACE

Lieutenant Governor C. Elmer Anderson of Brainerd filed Tuesday for re-election as lieutenant governor of Minnesota.

Saturday to be Observed as Scrap Rubber Day Here

To Citizens of the Thief River Falls Community:

I have received the following communication from I. A. O'Shaughnessy, Minnesota chairman of the Petroleum industry scrap rubber drive:

> "Minnesota citizens can be proud of their response to President Roosevelt's drive for scrap rubber, but if Minnesota is to take her rightful place for the amount of rubber turned in we must do considerably more. As chairman of the state scrap rubber drive, working under President Roosevelt's orders, I am asking all mayors to declare next Saturday, June 27, as official scrap rubber day, by proclamation. In your proclamation urge every farmer, every housewife and every local organized industry to throw their full weight back of the final clean-up campaign to bring out every last ounce of scrap rubber in the state. There must not be as much as a rubber band not in use in Minnesota. Other organizations will be cooperating but the success of the final windup will be contingent upon your proclamation and the response you get from your local citizenship."

NOW THEREFORE, in response to this request from the state director,

SATURDAY, JUNE 27
Shall be Designated
SCRAP RUBBER DAY

and earnestly request all citizens of the Thief River Falls community to cooperate in every way possible toward the end that this drive may be 100% successful and that a special effort be made to make deliveries of all discarded rubber to oil stations or other stations on that day.

HARRY KINGHORN,
Mayor of Thief River Falls.

Golf Course Bridge to be Dedicated Tonight

The dedication of the new suspension bridge across Thief River on the Thief River Falls golf course will take place this evening at 8 o'clock, Kern Olson, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, announced this morning.

Kinghorn will make the response, and he and other officials will be presented with honorary memberships in the club by President Stanton R. Dahlen.

Operators of local boats are invited to bring their craft up to the bridge for the ceremonies and participate in a procession of boats being arranged by a committee of which Haakon M. Olson is chairman.

The day's festivities will close with a dance in the club house starting at 10 o'clock. Golfing privileges will be available to all citizens, both in the afternoon and evening, it was announced.

YOUTHS 18 TO 20 WILL REGISTER NEXT TUESDAY

Fifth Registration for Selective Service to be Held in Nation

MEN TO BE ENROLLED 7 A. M. UNTIL 9 P. M.

Registration at Auditorium and 3 Other Places in County

Young men throughout the nation included in the age group born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924, will be registered next Tuesday, June 30, in the fifth registration to be conducted under the terms of the selective service act.

Pennington county youths will register at the Auditorium in Thief River Falls, and at three other places in the county between the hours of 7 o'clock in the morning and 9 at night.

L. W. Rulien again will serve as chief registrar in Thief River Falls, with Adolph Bilden acting in that capacity at St. Hilaire, Carl Christianson at Goodridge, and Mrs. Dave Wilde at River Valley.

Four previous registrations took care of men 20 through 64 years of age—nearly 40,000,000 of them.

Those 18 and 19 years old cannot be drafted for military service under existing law, but some of them might be mobilized along with older men for service in war plants. The bureau of research and statistics of the federal security agency estimated that as of April 1 there were 2,483,000 men in that age bracket, while probably 500,000 who have turned 20 also will register on June 30.

The army and navy have been urging voluntary enlistments of youths of 18 and 19, and those who have joined the armed forces will not have to register.

From the pool of nearly 43,000,000 men who will have signed up with local selective service board by July, approximately 22,500,000 will be withdrawn for military duty or for work in war factories.

ST. HILAIRE PAPER ENDS PUBLICATION WITH ISSUE TODAY

Subscription List of the Spectator Taken over by the Times

The St. Hilaire Spectator, one of the pioneer newspapers of Northwestern Minnesota, founded sixty years ago on July 1, 1882, will discontinue publication with this week's issue, Oscar Gunstad, who has edited the publication the past 29 years, announced today.

W. E. McKenzie of Crookston, who founded the Spectator in 1882, sold the paper in 1883 to Judge Frank Ives, whose son Harry took over shortly thereafter and published it until 1913, when it was acquired by Mr. Gunstad.

Established before the railroad was built thru from Crookston, the first equipment was brought overland by ox team from Crookston. The paper has chronicled both the beginning and end of logging and sawmilling, the most colorful epoch in the history of Northern Minnesota.

Lincoln School Boys Model Plane Builders

Fifty different types of model airplanes, representing the contribution to the war effort of boys in the Lincoln junior-senior high school industrial training department, are now being shipped to the U. S. Navy department for use in connection with the training of air cadets.

The planes were built under the direction of J. Arthur Johnson, instructor, in a project sponsored by the Navy department in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education.

Based on the fact that plane identification must be second nature for a pilot, who in battle has no time to look for markings, the models were built on an exact scale of 1 to 72. This means that when the pilot in training studies the model thru a standard ring sight used on aerial gun mounts, the model plane studied at a distance of 35 feet appears in the same perspective as a true airplane seen at a distance of just under a half-mile.

The models also will be used for training civilian "spotters" in identifying enemy planes, a procedure which the British people have found invaluable.

Each youth producing stated quantities of accepted models has received a certificate from the U. S. Navy bureau of aeronautics, these being issued in four ranks as follows: Cadet aircraftsman, one model of any type completed; ensign, three models completed; lieutenant commander, eight models completed in specified types; and captain, ten models completed, including planes from five nations.

Ensigns, Lloyd Johnson, Ralph Long, James Paulson, Bruce Paulson and Mervin Prestebak. Lieutenant commander, Carl Green. Captain, Stanley Mayer-Oakes and Burdell Merritt.

Bids Rejected on T. H. 59 Surfacing Project

Reflecting some of the obstacles and difficulties that attend efforts to perform even essential highway construction under war-time conditions, the state highway department has been obliged to reject as unsatisfactory all but one of the bids that had been advertised for and opened on June 12. Ten projects were included in the advertised letting, most of them involving gravel base and bituminous surface treatment. Included in the projects is the surfacing of Highway 59 from the south Pennington county line to Brooks. New bids will be opened July 10.

Crappie and Black Bass Fishing Season to Open June 21 in North Zone

Anglers may go after crappies, sunfish, large and small mouth bass, rock bass and catfish any time on and after June 21 in the northern zone, Verne Joslin, director of the division of game and fish, said today.

The limits for crappies are 15 per day and 25 in possession; large and small mouth and yellow bass, six per day and 12 in possession; sunfish, rock bass and all other fish for which other specific limits are not provided, 15 per day and 30 in possession, and catfish, 10 per day and 15 in possession.

The aggregate daily limit of protected varieties of fish of all kinds is 15, and the possession limit 20, except where limits are specifically extended by law.

These aggregate limits apply to all mixed bags of game fish. Thus if any walleyed pike, northern pike or pickerel, muskellunge, black bass, catfish or lake trout are included in the bag, the above aggregate bag limits must be observed, and no more than the limit for any individual species may be included in such bag.

Joslin pointed out that there has been some confusion concerning the bag limits for pike. He emphasizes that eight per day and 12 in possession is the limit for walleyed pike, sand pike and pickerel, or great northern pike.

20,000 Motorists Now Driving with Illegal Licenses, Is Estimate

The drivers license bureau of the state highway department estimates that at least 20,000 Minnesota motorists, who have changed their addresses during the past few months, are driving with illegal driver's licenses and therefore subject to arrest.

A large number have been detected since the opening of the drivers license checkup campaign early in May, but many motorists in nearly every community are believed to have either forgotten to get new licenses after the May 1 moving day period, or have been unaware of the fact that they are required to do so.

SIXTY YEARS OF SERVICE

With this week's issue the St. Hilaire spectator suspends publication. Established in 1882, the paper has served its community sixty years, and in the life of the St. Hilaire community, sixty years is a long time. When the first train steamed into Thief River Falls the Spectator was already ten years old. During that ten years Thief River Falls was merely another inland trading post.

Another interesting thing about the Spectator is the fact that during its sixty years of service it has been operated by only three publishers; nearly half of that time by its present owner, Oscar Gunstad. Few, if any, of the old timers in the St. Hilaire community can remember back to a time when the Spectator was not received as a regular weekly news letter and by them, especially, its suspension will be a personal loss.

It is regrettable that not more of the Spectator's files have been preserved. Week after week it has reported the current history of St. Hilaire and the territory that is now Pennington County, and this weekly record of events would have been an invaluable historical document covering the progress of our pioneer years. But in St. Hilaire, as in Thief River Falls, the newspaper files have not been preserved. Presses and type and printing equipment that have been destroyed by fires have been replaced, but there can be no replacement of the bound volumes of the papers published week by week when they are consumed by the flames.

And so the Spectator goes the way of the pioneers it has served so long and so faithfully. We regret its passing.

CLOSING THE FAIRS

State and county fair officials thruout the northwest were surprised no little last week when Joseph B. Eastman, federal director of transportation, requested them to suspend fair operations for the period of the emergency.

At the annual fair meeting, held in St. Paul in January, other federal officials had urged fair managers to plan their programs as usual. On the strength of this advice the regular committments were made.

If fairs are to suspend operations at this time they must break contracts and contracts cannot be broken without liability merely because some government official says they should be. Joseph B. Eastman has no more authority in such matters than has our first class postmaster Andy Anderson. And so, unless the proper authorities decree that such contracts may be suspended without liability, fairs thruout the country will continue to operate thruout this year.

Fair officials, we are certain, will respect the wishes of the government in arranging their programs for next year, just as they did when this year's programs were planned. We might suggest, however, that in order to avoid unnecessary confusion on this and many other matters, government spokesmen should get together and agree among themselves as to what the government wants us to do before they issue their edicts.

Thief River Falls business men will do their part in the July drive to sell War Stamps over the counters of retail stores. Merchants have been asked to sell stamps during the month of July in an amount that will be equivalent to four per cent of the last year's sales volume for that period. And so, starting with a fifteen minute concentrated effort next Wednesday afternoon, when all other selling will stop, customers will be encouraged thruout the month to take part of their change in the form of stamps. It is a part of the national program and clerks who suggest stamp purchases are doing their bit. The stamps will buy bonds and bonds are a good investment.

War news during the past week has been bad but not bad enough to justify discouragement. Reverses are to be expected for some time to come. Until the United Nations are in a position to start an offensive of their own they must spread their defenses out in a thin line that will be able to give only temporary resistance to any concentrated pressure. The plans for several offensives are no doubt in the making but in the meantime the strategists are confronted with a tremendous problem in maintaining the defenses of points already under attack or that probably will be attacked. Until we are in a position to decide where battles will be fought by carrying the fight to the enemy, we will have to be satisfied with a delaying action at whatever point the enemy chooses to strike. In several actions of this kind we have set the Nips back on their heels. We can only hope that their next attack will not be more successful. But by next year, if present lines hold reasonably well until that time, we should be able to hit hard from many directions.

Service station operators deserve a bow for their cooperation in the rubber salvage campaign. Who'd have thought there was so much old rubber in this community?

The president has appointed a new federal director of information. We hope he succeeds in cutting down on the flood of useless bulletins issued to the newspapers of the country.

Interesting, if true, is this item seen in the society column of a daily paper, "The girls are wearing nothing but cotton stockings for the duration."

And now they're beginning to wonder who will be Minnesota's lieutenant governor after April 1, 1943.

That synthetic rubber program doesn't sound very promising. The powers that be haven't decided yet whether to make the stuff out of petroleum or alcohol.

While forty miles an hour may seem awfully slow, an Ortonville scribe reminds us that it is a lot faster than a funeral procession.

The Ada Index columnist was hoping the government would draft women, so he could say, "I regret that I have but one wife to give for my country."

Tact, says a sage, is the art of making people feel at home when you wish they were.

To folks lighting up the furnace fire this week, it seemed unbelievable that the sun was to start traveling south again Monday.

A man across the Canadian border last week got a suspended sentence, Billy Noonan reports. They're going to hang him.

TEN YEARS AGO

Dr. Richard C. Raines, Minneapolis pastor, delivered the commencement address to 115 members of the Lincoln high school graduating class.—The Pennington county board purchased the building formerly occupied by the Thief River Falls Iron Works and will use it for storage purposes.—Judge Julius J. Olson of Warren presided over the June term of Pennington county district court.—Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nelson and daughter left on a trip to the south and west in the interest of Mr. Nelson's health.—E. M. Bennes and A. G. Gabrielson left for Rochester to attend a UCT convention.—Mrs. J. M. Bishop returned from a visit at her childhood home in Winamac, Indiana, and in Chicago.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Plans to establish a peat and lignite fuel plant in this city were dropped when local citizens were asked to contribute $12,000.—Professor O. E. Rolvaag of St. Olaf college is expected to preside over the convention of the Nordlandslaget in this city next week.—Tax reduction must begin at home, said State Auditor Ray P. Chase in an address here.—Work was started this week on construction of the new Sons of Norway hall, the contract having been let to Elling Larson on his bid of $9,-928.—Thirty-three head of Guernsey purebred and grade stock were sold at a consignment sale in this city for a total of $1,252.—County Agent J. J. McCann was married to Miss Kathryn Thill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thill.

Ask Bids on Bituminous Treatment on T. H. 1

Bids are to be received on July 2 for the improvement of 30 miles of Minnesota's highway system, according to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

The work, to cost an estimated $205,700, is to be distributed among six counties and will include 21 miles of grading, 25.3 miles of stabilized aggregate base and bituminous surface treatment, 6.3 miles of bituminous wearing surfacing and 4.1 miles of stabilized gravel base and gravel surfacing. Included is Marshall county, T. H. 1 Bituminous wearing surface for 6.3 miles between Oslo and Alvarado, comprising 26,000 gals. of MC-0 bituminous material, 100,000 gals of MC-3, RT-6 or RT-7 bituminous material and 6,810 tons of mineral aggregate.

By eliminating metal signs for the duration the War Production Board is saving about 50,000 tons of steel a year, enough to provide structural steel for four ten [illegible] battleships.

SMILEY

Friday evening is "Club Night" for the Smiley Community Club members. The program will be put on by the North Smiley men with Herman Belawenger the chairman. Refreshments will be served by Leonard Helgeland, chairman, and Christ Larson families. Everyone is happily welcome.

Dale Johnson is home. He was one of the heroes on the crippled cruiser "Marble Head" now stationed in New York. He and his wife arrived Tuesday morning from New York via Niagara Falls and will visit Dale's parents, the Lewis Johnsons until about the 1st of July.

Visitors at the O. N. Olson home Monday were Mr. and Mrs. George Ege of Thief River Falls, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Hammershoy and son of Rolette, N. Dak., who are vacationing at the Ege home.

Mrs. John Rickley (Josephine Larson) is spending several weeks at her parental home the Nels Burtness.

Word has been received from Denver, Col., from Mrs. Ole Newton (Freda Bjorge). She and her husband are making their home in Minneapolis where Mr. Newton is employed on a defense job at New Brighton. Mrs. Newton left Minneapolis via the Rocket for Denver where she plans to spend a month with her son, Technical Sgt. Alton Newton, who is stationed now with the 9th School Squadron at Fort Logan, Colorado. She was expecting her youngest son, Sgt. Orien Newton to come from Camp Elliott, Calif. to visit them on his furlough. Mrs. Newton was having a wonderful time sight seeing with her son. She stated the climate was exceptionally wonderful and that Denver was noted as the Mile High City. She saw the gorgeous Red Rocks, also an outdoor theatre with a seating capacity of 3,000 and as well as Fort Logan with its pretty landscaped grounds. She sent greetings to all Smiley friends.

Kitty's Komments

Life is a strange, beautiful, yet turbulent thing. One's life can go on as peaceful and serene as the broad expanse of a quiet lake. Yet in an instant the ominous rumbling of thunder, the sudden onslaught of wind can lash that quiet lake into a furious, twisting mass of writhing waves. Thus it hits us, illness, tragedy and sudden death.

Hearts become burdened with grief, minds are heavy with care. Yet by the Divine power are we able to bear whatever befalls us, and in time wounds jaggedly cut and hearts grievously sore, ache and pain no more. Life's storm has passed. So surely as we cannot escape it, so surely as dawn arrives after the darkest night, the storm will fade. Again into our life comes that quiet, peaceful expanse of a placid lake.

JUNIOR BALL CLUB WINS AND LOSES IN PAST WEEK'S TILTS

Locals to Compete with R. L. Falls Juniors in City This Evening

The local junior baseball team won and lost a decision in the two games played here during the week, losing to East Grand Forks, 3 to 2, on Thursday night, and clubbing out a 10 to 5 win over Oslo Sunday afternoon. The juniors will cross bats with the Red Lake Falls nine here this evening.

Ray Martin's three-hit pitching and Pete Hunt's catching proved to be the decisive factors in East Grand Forks 3 to 2 win over the locals Thursday evening. Virg Evenstad pitched steady ball for the Ferd Elstad's team, allowing but five base hits. Hunt, East Grand Forks' nifty receiver, cut down several potential Thief River tallies when he pegged out the local baserunners.

Clubbing Oslo's Paul Swenson for 8 hits and 7 runs in the 5th and 6th innings, the locals marked up a 10 to 5 victory over Jack Hilden's Oslo team Sunday afternoon. Oslo picked up an early lead, on a tally in the 1st inning and two scores in the 2nd inning; but a three-run cluster in the 3rd inning knotted the game. Oslo again forged into the lead in the 4th inning on Enge's double, a single by Michalsky, and an error. Thief River broke up the game in their half of the 5th inning when, with two men away, Baker and Tormoen drove ground singles through the infield, and M. Sands muffed Thelander's pop fly. Don Fretland poked a hit through shortstop to drive in the tying run, and Marlyn Dorn lofted a double into right field, scoring Tormoen and Thelander. The locals tallied some "insurance" in the 6th inning when singles by Evenstad, Bye, Milt Reierson, Baker, and Tormoen, accounted for four scores. Paul Swenson doubled Oslo's M. Sands across the plate for Oslo's fifth run in the 7th inning. Evenstad hurled remarkable ball, considering the miserable weather conditions, collecting 11 strikeouts and issuing but one base on balls.

GATZKE DEFEATS LOCAL BALL CLUB 1 TO 0 AT GRYGLA

Will Play Return Contest on Fair Grounds Diamond Next Sunday

The local ball team opened their season Sunday by dropping a close 1 to 0 game to the Gatzke Independents. With the Gatzke diamond in an unplayable condition the two teams traveled to Grygla and played the contest there. The Gatzke team will attempt to repeat their victory next Sunday where they meet the locals on the fair grounds diamond.

Lenny Lorentson, on the mound for the locals, had hurled one-hit ball for six innings when singles by Aune, Peterson, and Aase, and an error, shoved across the game-winning run. Thief River threatened to tie the score in the eighth inning when Eddie Flasch lined a single, Lorentson sacrificed, Neil Bennett drew a walk; but Cockrell, who had doubled in the first inning, was out, pitch to first, and Almquist's hard drive was pulled down by the Gatzke right-fielder.

Cockrell's double, and singles by Bobby DuChamp and Ed Flasch were the only local hitters to solve the delivery of Gatzke's Aase.

Sen. E. L. Tungseth Is Present at Meeting of Tri-State Waters Body

Progress was reported on the Red Lake, Clearwater and Thief River flood control project at a regular meeting of the Tri-State Waters commission at St. Paul last Monday. Senator E. L. Tungseth attended the meeting and represented the Red Lake River Flood Control association. This association has actively sponsored and assisted government officials in carrying on the necessary surveys. The Red Lake River project had been submitted to the regional office at St. Louis. This means that all the preliminary surveys are completed subject to the approval of war department engineers at St. Louis. When approved at St. Louis the project will be advanced to Washington. When the whole procedure is completed congress must act on the necessary appropriations.

Keeping Score

No Complaints

The committee in charge of the organization of the Victory golf league hasn't any complaints about the attendance at the first round matches last Friday evening. Only two dummy scores were needed to complete the scoring summary for the ten teams, and a turn-out like that is pretty satisfactory. This week the boys should have a "full house" because there are a number of red-hot matches on tap. And too, tomorrow evening's matches will be nine-hole affairs, and that should speed up the play.

By the way, who was the golfer that tried "something new" in driving off the first tee Friday evening, and dribbled the ball about ten yards off the tee? It is reported that he's the same fellow who uses the professional touch in describing his slice, calling it a "fade."

They're Coming Along

The Legion's junior baseball team, continuing to show improvement, racked up a win and a loss during the week's play, and the defeat, by the district champion East Grand Forks nine, could have been a win if the locals had gotten a "break" or two, and if they hadn't tried to take liberties with Pete Hunt's throwing arm. The locals, while they lost by a 3 to 2 score, proved that they are going to be quite a threat by district tournament time.

On Sunday, in near freezing weather and with a gale blowing across the diamond, the juniors came from behind to defeat Oslo, 10 to 5. For the first couple of innings Oslo's Paul Swenson handcuffed the locals so effectively that not a ball was hit out of the infield, and it appeared that Oslo was on the way to their first victory. But the locals, led by Bob Baker, Marly Dorn, Billy Bye, and Vern Tormoen, caught up with Swenson's stuff in the 5th and 6th innings and pounded out a well-earned triumph.

The problem now facing coach Ferd Elstad and manager Leonard Hanson is to secure another pitcher. Virg Evenstad is an iron-armed youngster, but he will need some help during the district tournament, and that's why Elstad and Hanson are scurrying around trying to find another hurler.

That Wasn't an Upset

That 1 to 0 game that the local city dropped to Gatzke last Sunday can't be called an upset, because that eastern Marshall county team is a pretty fair outfit. They're an all-veteran team, and they'll be here next Sunday afternoon and attempt to mark up another win over Ole Ness' team. Last Sunday's game, which had been scheduled to have been played at Gatzke, was transferred to the Grygla diamond when it was found that the Gatzke field was under water. And they have plenty of baseball interest in Gatzke too, because a number of the fans followed the teams over to Grygla.

Manager Ole Ness sent the young left-hander, Lenny Lorentson, a graduate of the local junior baseball team, to the mound for Thief River Falls, and Lenny came up with a well-pitched game. Given a bit better fielding and hitting support Lenny would have hung up a win. The lone score that Gatzke tallied was marked up on a "crash" play at the plate when Aune bowled into catcher Herdeen Nornes, who had the ball to make the tag, and knocked the local receiver off the base. Nornes, who was stunned by the collision, dropped the ball and the runner was called safe.

A Fine Series in Prospect

Arrangements are being completed for a two-game series of baseball between Thief River and Plummer on July 4th and 5th. The games will be a feature of the Fourth of July celebration which is being planned at Plummer, and both of the games are scheduled to be played on the Plummer diamond. It is rumored that Jimmy Gilbertson will pitch one of the games for the Plummer nine, and Jimmy is a Fourth of July celebration all by himself.

Another Coaching Change

Another of the district's "big four" schools—this time East Grand Forks—will lose their athletic coach. George Wilson, for the past several years tutor of the Little Green Wave, has resigned his position at East Grand Forks to accept a similar position with a school in New York state.

Francis Engle of This City Is Appointed as Naval Aviation Cadet

Francis M. Engle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Engle of Thief River Falls, was recently appointed a naval aviation cadet and was transferred to the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla., for flight training, according to an announcement from the public relations office of the station.

A. degree from the latter school and then, while working on his master's degree, enlisted in the Naval Reserve. He reported to the Naval Reserve aviation base at Dallas in February. There he successfully passed the elimination training course in April.

Upon completion of the intensive seven-month course at the "Annapolis of the Air", Engle will receive the designation of naval aviator, with a commission as ensign in the Naval Reserve, or as second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve and will go on active duty.

MOST MOTORISTS OBEY SPEED RULE, PATROL REPORTS

Vast Majority Has Accepted 40-Mile-Per-Hour Speed Limit in State

The vast majority of Minnesota motorists have accepted and are observing as their patriotic duty the 40-mile an hour maximum speed limitation, Elden Rowe, chief of the highway patrol, asserted this week after receiving reports from the highway patrolmen throughout the state. Not only are most of the drivers adhering to the emergency decree to conserve tires, gasoline, and cars but the patrol office is receiving a large number of letters and telephone calls turning in the license numbers of those motorists who violate the 40-mile provision, Chief Rowe said.

"We are extremely pleased with the way the public generally has accepted the 40-mile an hour wartime speed limit provision. Minnesota motorists seem to realize that they not only are conserving tires, gasoline, oil and cars by obeying the 40-mile rule, but our accident records show that they are also saving lives, preventing injuries and conserving man-hours needed in the war effort.

"The relatively few drivers who try to disregard the war-time speed limit might be surprised at how many good citizens are taking down their license numbers, turning them in to the patrol, and expressing a willingness to appear against the violators in court. The complaint motorists appear to have developed an attitude of antagonism toward those who think that they have some special privilege.

"It is our intention to issue complaints against those motorists who are reported to us by other motorists who express willingness to appear and testify in court."

WELFARE LEVIES IN STATE MOUNT DURING PAST YEAR

Better Economic Conditions Fail to Halt Upward Tendency

Although employment is reported to be at the highest peak in 10 years, and economic conditions have shown improvement due to defense expenditures, welfare and relief tax levies in Minnesota counties have shown an increase of $299,112 over a year ago, according to a report just issued by the Minnesota Taxpayers association. The report includes all counties, urban and rural.

County welfare levies for all counties in 1940 were $11,093,901 as compared with $11,393,014 in 1941, the report discloses. The 84 rural counties were $6,617,360 in 1940 and increased to $6,911,691 in 1941, a rise of $294,331.

County welfare levies in the three urban counties (Hennepin, Ramsey and St. Louis) were $4,476,541 in 1940 and were $4,481,323 in 1941 a rise of $4,782. It is anticipated that improved employment conditions of recent months will be reflected in county levies to be made by county boards this year.

The Minnesota Taxpayers association has issued an appeal stressing the need for reappraisal of all state and local levies to conform to conditions resulting from the national emergency.

TWO VERY PROUD LITTLE BOYS

Park Rapids.—Roland and Bobbie Harty, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harty have evidenced that they will grow up to be money makers. Last week when a pig which they owned was included in a shipment bound for the South St. Paul stockyards, these two far seeing little fellows presented a smart note to the truck driver. He was told to deliver it to the manager of the livestock selling agency. The contents stated that money derived from the sale of their pig would be invested in a War Bond. The note was read to the men in the buying alley which started the bidding and said pig went for 25c a hundredweight over the top market price of the day, bringing nearly $50.00. The two boys purchased their bond.

War Damage Insurance Available Now
The U. S. Government Has Created a New Billion Dollar War Damage Corporation and delegated to the insurance agents of America the duty of providing the citizens of the nation with this protection against enemy action and other damage due to war.

Immediately following the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor the U. S. Government, as a temporary measure, announced that all property in the U. S. was automatically covered with free insurance against damage caused by enemy action. This free protection expires at midnight on June 30th, 1942, and is replaced by regular war damage insurance policies, issued by the War Damage Corporation, which must be purchased from your local insurance agent.

This new, documentary protection results from the permanent war damage indemnity program established through the Congressional legislation introduced by Senator Wagner of New York. It increased the capitalization of the War Damage Corporation, a subsidiary of the R.F.C., to $1,000,000,000, and authorized the Corporation to issue regular insurance policies for a premium charge.

These policies are offered at a moderate premium through the cooperation of the fire insurance companies and the insurance agents who have volunteered their services in writing and distributing the insurance on a non-profit basis. They are paid a nominal commission only to cover their out-of-pocket expenses.

You must have this insurance if you want your dwelling, household goods, automobile, store, factory, etc. protected against bombing, invasion, etc., or against the damage our own armies might cause you in the course of repelling enemy action. Your present fire insurance policies do not cover this hazard.

A BUSTED HOT WATER BOTTLE MAY HELP WIN THE WAR!!

● Remember the old time ballad which says, "For the want of a rider a battle was lost?" Well, we're not going to lose this war, but a leaky hot water bottle may supply the extra ounce of scrap rubber that will more quickly give the Axis the axe.

Uncle Sam wants that old rubber right now!

Yes, the government wants every disused or worn out article made of rubber that can be sent to the nation's stock pile, and wants you to help get it there in a hurry.

OIL INDUSTRY IS COLLECTING IT

Starting June 15th, and continuing through June 30th, gasoline stations from coast to coast will help collect scrap rubber and will pay . . .

A penny a pound in spot cash for every pound contributed by you . . . so take all the old rubber you can collect to the nearest gas station today.

None of the oil companies will receive one penny of profit for this service to the nation. Through the cooperation and efforts of thousands of dealers and gasoline company employees, the scrap rubber will be turned over to the government and will be paid for by Uncle Sam on the basis of $25 per ton (2000 pounds). The difference between the amount paid by the oil companies and the amount paid by the government has been pledged to the USO, Navy Relief, Army Relief and American Red Cross.

May Help Avert Gasoline Rationing in Central West

Since a shortage of rubber is considered the main reason for the threatened rationing of gasoline in the central states, this is one important way to do your part, and it may help to ward off the need for curtailment of this vital commodity.

Our Partner, the Northwest Farmer, knows he can always sell his choicest barley to give HAMM'S BEER
EXTRA BARLEY GOODNESS

We maintain a cash market for the Northwest's finest barley. Last year farmers sold us over a million bushels!

Then we malted it in our own giant plant, under the watchful eyes of the Hamm brewmasters. Each batch of malted-barley was certified "properly aged" to produce the full richness of the malt. This is one of the many painstaking methods which give Hamm's Beer extra barley goodness.

Give yourself this treat today. Ask for Hamm's "Smooth and Mellow." Theo. Hamm Brewing Co., St. Paul, Minn.

STATE TO GAIN 8 MILLION BY TERMS OF NEW ORE LEASE

State Executive Council Negotiates New Contract on Virginia Mine

By refusing an offer to renew the lease on the vast Missabe Mountain mine at Virginia and asking for competitive bids, the state executive council this past week was able to lease the property at a record royalty to the state of $1.53 a ton on the open pit ore and 63 cents on the underground ore, setting a new scale which will bring in millions of dollars in additional revenue to the state.

The remaining ore in the mine, it is estimated, would bring a total of $9,874,000 to the state at these prices, or some $8,000,000 more than under terms of the old lease. It also is $5,400,000 more than the maximum return that might have been expected from the offer made for renewal of the lease, which the council rejected.

Millions of tons of iron ore have been taken out of the mine, one of the largest on state property, under an old lease made many years ago, for 25 cents a ton royalty. With the lease expiring March 1, 1942, Governor Stassen and other members of the executive council began negotiations last year to obtain a higher return from the lease.

The Oliver Iron Mining company, holder of the lease, made an offer of 60 cents a ton royalty for the open pit ore and 50 cents for the underground ore if the state would renew. Feeling that the state should receive a minimum royalty of 85 cents a ton on the open pit ore and 63 cents on the underground ore, the state executive council rejected the offer of the Oliver company and, resorting to a provision set up in the law, opened the lease to competitive bidding.

The action proved a profitable one for the state, it developed. The offer of the Oliver company, it is estimated, would have brought in $4,417,000 to the state when the ore in the mine is exhausted. The prices offered by the successful bidder, the Charleson Iron Mining company of Hibbing, will bring in $9,874,000 or some $5,400,000 more, when all the ore is taken out.

UNCLE SAM CALLED---

So it's up to me to take time out to help win the war . . . If you don't see me around the HOME LUMBER COMPANY after next week, you'll know I am busy elsewhere, with Uncle Sam, doing my very best to make the Japs wish they'd never heard of Pearl Harbor . . . But while I'm gone, the business will be run by Andy Williams and I'll sure appreciate it a lot if you stop in once in a while . . . So, until I get back, wishing you all good luck, and hoping for a little of that myself—LEONARD SANDERS on leave for the duration.

. . . because Chevrolet dealers specialize in giving skilled, dependable service on all makes of cars and trucks.

They guard the air in Gluek's brewery against bacteria — deadliest enemies of perfect beer flavor. Every drop of Gluek's is brewed pure. The result is the smoothest, mellowest, truest beer flavor you've ever tasted. Now, more than ever, Gluek's is the beer for the man who knows! Try it—for a new beer pleasure!

BACK RASMUSSEN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Justice Harry Peterson Is Endorsed for U. S. Senator

With the left-wing element headed by former Governor Elmer A. Benson in control of proceedings, the state Farmer-Labor convention at its concluding session Sunday evening in Minneapolis endorsed Paul A. Rasmussen, former state budget commissioner, for the governorship and Howard Y. Williams for lieutenant governor.

Justice Harry H. Peterson of the state supreme court was endorsed for United States senator, David Erickson of Minneapolis for attorney general, and Mrs. Katherine Amundson, Minneapolis for clerk of the supreme court. Other endorsements were left to the state committee.

In his speech accepting the endorsement for governor, Rasmussen declared "there will be no compromise on appeasers and America Firsters", which was taken as a slap at Hjalmar Petersen, also an announced candidate for the governorship.

Benson was reelected state Farmer-Labor chairman at the convention, other officers named including Edgar R. Mullins, Coleraine, first vice chairman; Mrs. K. K. Moore, Milaca, second vice chairman; and Mrs. Viena Johnson, St. Paul, reelected secretary-treasurer.

Freeze farm rents at 1940 levels.

Guarantee to farmers right to scale down debts to productive value of their farms.

Correct refusal of "former power trust officials now in OPM to allot copper and other supplies to rural electrification administration on same basis as to private utilities."

Universal old-age pensions at $50 a month at age of 60 after pattern of Townsend proposal.

DRIVE FOR SCRAP RUBBER EXTENDED UNTIL JULY 10TH

Minnesota over Top; Results in Some States Held Disappointing

Minnesota's scrap rubber heap may top 10,000 tons, double preliminary estimates, before close of the extended rubber salvage drive, campaign officials predicted Monday.

President Roosevelt announced that collections, scheduled to end Tuesday night, would continue through July 10 because of "disappointing" results in some sections.

Minnesota, however, wasn't one of those sections. Up to last Friday night, the state's total accumulation was 8,153 tons out of a national total of 219,000 tons.

That placed Minnesota 14th among the 48 states on the basis of number of pounds of rubber per person.

William R. Boyd, Jr., chairman of Petroleum Industry War council in Washington, said Minnesota's campaign already had netted 5.54 pounds of rubber for each person in the state.

Rules Announced for Victory Garden Contest

Form Published in This Issue of Times Asking Data on Men in Service

The local public library is now engaged in compiling a complete directory of all Pennington county men in the nation's armed forces, Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, librarian, announced today. She added that in order for the project to be a success, the cooperation of relatives and friends of the men in service will be necessary to supply the required data. With this end in view, a blank on which the needed information may be filled in is published elsewhere in this issue of the Times.

With entries coming in steadily for the Victory Garden contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Clarence Sande, contest chairman, today announced the regulations that will govern the awards, including a $25 war bond, $10 in war savings stamps and numerous valuable merchandise prizes.

Mr. Sande stated that judging will be on the basis of the quality of exhibits at the Pennington county fair, 70 being the maximum number of points available. The gardens represented by the ten highest ranking exhibits then will be judged for appearance, with a maximum of thirty points attainable.

The display at the county fair must contain at least six different varieties of vegetables, sufficient in quantity to make a display 24 inches square. Entries in the contest must be in the hands of Mr. Sande not later than July 15.

FINAL ACTION ON FALL FESTIVAL IS PUT OFF TO AUG. 6

Request of Defense Transportation Chief Given Consideration

The matter of staging a fall festival in Thief River Falls this year was further discussed last Thursday at the luncheon meeting of the Civic and Commerce association, but a definite decision was reserved until August 6, when the association will hold its first session following the midsummer recess.

A factor in the decision to postpone final action was the recent request of Joseph B. Eastman, chairman of the Office of Defense Transportation in Washington, that all fairs and festivals be canceled as a means of relieving the strain on transportation facilities in war time.

E. B. Benson, chairman of the merchants committee, reported that local store proprietors are cooperating in the campaign to promote the sale of war savings stamps this month.

Ralph Luhman, chairman of the drive now being completed here in behalf of the United Service organizations, stated that solicitors had received a favorable response from citizens approached by them.

RED CROSS DEFERS NEXT FUND DRIVE UNTIL MARCH 1943

Agency Not to Participate in Any Joint Fund Raising Effort

The month of March, 1943, has been officially designated — with the approval of President Roosevelt—as the period for the next membership and fund-raising appeal of the American Red Cross Herman A. Kjos, chairman of the Pennington County chapter announced today upon advice from Norman H. Davis, national chairman.

"I have been advised by Mr. Davis," Chairman Kjos states, "that the decision means the American Red Cross will not conduct a membership roll call this November and instead will hold a combined appeal for memberships and funds for wartime needs next March. The decision also means that the Red Cross will make its war fund and membership appeals directly and separately to the people and that it will not participate in any joint fund-raising effort."

Mrs. A. M. Holte, roll call chairman, and Stanton R. Dahlen, chairman of the war fund committee, will head the campaign with their respective committees combined to put the Pennington county chapter over the top.

ONLY 447 RURAL CREDIT FARMS REMAIN UNSOLD

4,411 Farms are Sold in Past Three and One-Half Years, Jones Reports

EXPECT TO SELL 250 MORE BY EARLY FALL

Number of Employes of the Department Has Been Greatly Reduced

Summarizing the progress made in his effort to get the state-owned rural credit lands back into the hands of farmer owners, George C. Jones, conservator of rural credit, reported to Governor Stassen and citizens of the state this week that the department has sold 4,411 farms during the last three and one-half years for approximately $12,000,000.

Sale of the farms has restored 700,000 acres of land to the tax-rolls, sufficient to bring in $400,000 a year in tax revenue, Jones said in a broadcast Tuesday evening, and some 4,000 families have been given opportunity to become home owners, on terms which he believes will enable them to succeed.

Soon after taking office in 1939, Jones launched an energetic campaign to get the state farms back into private ownership and enlisted the assistance of rural newspapers, township officers, county commissioners and others on a scale which made the undertaking a community effort in many parts of the state. How well the plan has worked out was shown by the report this week.

The department now has only 447 properties suitable for farming remaining to be sold. By early fall, Jones said, the total should be reduced to 200. In addition, there are 200 other tracts, not suitable for profitable farming.

As the sale of farms has progressed, Jones said, the department has been liquidating itself. Employees of the department have been reduced from 187 in 1939 to 65 at present, with an annual saving of $200,000, and Jones even suggested that, with the selling so far advanced and other work of the department well organized, his own services might be dispensed with at some [illegible] early date and effect a further saving.

Highlighted in the report, in addition to the department's success in selling farms, was the splendid condition of outstanding loans. Of 8,113 mortgages and contracts, totaling in excess of $20,000,000 in force on June 1st, only 13 were reported delinquent up to two semi-annual installments.

Nearly 1,000 farms have been sold to the former owners or their children, the report showed. "That in itself has been one of

17 RINGERS MADE IN GAME OF HORSESHOE

Chokio.—Remember the game of pitching horseshoes is the only one where "being close" counts but being close didn't count so very much in a game played here recently. In a 21 point game played by Floyd Robertson, E. L. Townsend, R. M. and Leo Williamson, 17 ringers were made. That left only four tosses that were counted by being close.

the most thrilling experiences of a lifetime," Jones said, "to have the son of a former farm owner come to me and say: 'This farm was my father's place. I was born and raised on it, but we lost it to the state on a mortgage foreclosure. Now I am ready and able and I want to buy the old homestead.'"

Approximately 1,900 of the farms were sold to local tenant farmers, Jones said, and 1,100 more to farmers in the community who were increasing their farms or buying farms for their children.

The farms sold for the most part will stay sold, Jones believes, for they were sold on the basis of what an average farm family might produce on them in an average year, and a substantial down payment was required. Of the $12,000,000 in sales, $5,000,000 came in in cash at the time of sale.

He moved to Granite Falls in 1882, then to Benson in 1890, and finally to Thief River Falls in 1893 where he made his home. His first wife, Lena Bakken, died on November 22, 1927, and in 1929 he remarried to Elizabeth Holland who passed away five years later. He married again in 1936 to Elizabeth Anderson who survives him.

Surviving are his wife, three sons, Ole P. Payrolls in Minnesota Have Risen 50 Per Cent, State Division Reports

Manufacturing payrolls in Minnesota for the first three months of 1942 totaled slightly more than $65,000,000, according to figures made public Monday by Victor Christgau, director of the state employment and security division.

This is 49.1 per cent higher than the total of $43,600,000 paid during the first quarter of 1941, and 3.1 per cent more than the $63,000,000 reported for the last three months of 1941. Manufacturing payrolls normally are lower during the first quarter of each year than they are for the other three quarters.

These mounting payroll totals were cited as an indication of the extent to which employment has expanded in the state. The total includes payrolls of firms engaged in war production but omits wages paid for new war plant construction work.

"The increase of about 50 per cent over the corresponding period of last year," Mr. Christgau said, "is an indication of the expanded employment now taking place in Minnesota. However, since it is based on the amount of payrolls paid, and includes such factors as higher wages and longer hours, it cannot be said that the number of workers employed was proportionately larger."

The figures represent the total payrolls of all firms in the state engaged in manufacturing, who are subject to the employment and security law, and are complete except for a small per cent of delinquencies, the status of which will not be known until the division has been able to check on missing reports and new establishments.

FARMER PAYS MAN'S FINE TO OBTAIN HIS SERVICES

Little Falls.—Who ever heard in days gone by of bailing a fellow out of jail to hire him to work for you? That's what happened in Blue Earth county recently when a farmer desperate for help went to the sheriff's office and paid a $50.00 fine for an arrested man to obtain his services. Had the farmer not seen an opportunity and taken it a local painter would have snapped it up as he too needed help with a painting job.

PINS AND NEEDLES TOO IMPORTANT TO DISCARD

Save those pins and needles. Sounds like pointless advice, doesn't it? But there is a lot of point to it, right now. Because of the war, production of them has been cut 'way down, and the OPA suggests you pick up stray pins and put them in cushions instead of the dust pan. There's a plentiful supply of needles, but those you have can be preserved by jabbing them into a bag of emery dust now and then.

Imposing as it is, this is just a cog in the mighty machine now in high gear turning out the sinews of war to defeat the Axis. Production has now hit its stride and the tanks roll off, night and day, in a steady stream.

Announce Examinations for Welfare Board Posts in State of Minnesota

Statewide examinations for positions as "Visitors I and II" and as officers to issue surplus commodity stamps, on county welfare board staffs, will be held in July, it was announced this week in St. Paul by R. M. McCurdy, state supervisor of the county welfare personnel merit system. The examinations will be to augment the register for visitor positions and to establish a new register for stamp issuing officers.

There are approximately 43 stamp issuing jobs in the rural sections of the state. Persons now doing this work will be required to pass a qualifying examination. Other interested persons should register, as the test is the first step to establish eligibility for these positions. The closing date for filing an application is July 6.

The beginning salary for Visitor I is $90.00 and for Visitor II, $110.00; for stamp issuing officer, $60.00.

Applications may be obtained at any office of the United States Employment Service. All applications must be addressed to the supervisor at his St. Paul address and must be postmarked not later than July 6.

The state permanent trust fund, controlling state-owned lands, now totals more than $115,000,000, accumulated from sale, interest, fees, rentals, and so on.

ON THE OFFENSIVE AMERICA!

And today America is taking the offensive against the Axis with hard fighting, non-stoppable men and materials!

We're taking the offensive, too, against the enemy at home—the inflationary 5th column that blows prices sky high.

You can help in both fights by saving at least 10% of your money in U. S. War Bonds every pay day. Attack the Axis with your dollars today.

You can start with as little as a 10c War Stamp and you can get a $25.00 War Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75—at your local post office, bank or other convenient sales agency.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The schedule has been made for the free health examinations to be given to the girl scouts. The scouts may go to the following doctors: Wednesday evening, July 8, 7:30, Dr. Lynde; Thursday morning, July 9, 10:00-12:00, Dr. Melby; Thursday afternoon, July 9, 1:00-5:00, Bratrud Clinic.

The balance of the camp fee must be paid on or before Friday, July 10, to Mrs. A. F. Berge, 324 North Kendall Ave.

All the girls are asked to take their Girl Scout Handbooks to camp with them, as work will be given them toward their badges.

Bee Department to be Stressed This Year at Minnesota State Fair

Aerial bombs autographed by Minnesota honey bees will help sting the Axis powers into submission as the United Nations increase the fury of their all out attacks on the Germans and Japs.

To greatly expand the bee industry to produce more beeswax for polishing bomb sights, bombs and munitions and to increase the honey flow as a sugar substitute, the Minnesota State Fair, August 29 thru September 7, has plans for a greatly enlarged bee culture show as a new feature of the wartime exposition.

Doubling the wax and honey production, estimated at approximately 20,000,000 pounds in 1941, is the goal of the Fair management.

Minnesota's bee industry has become big business. Since 1928, the state has risen to among the three leading honey producing areas of the nation, sharing the pinnacle with California and Iowa. The industry including bees, extracting equipment and hives is valued at $5,000,000 and brought an income of nearly $2,500,000 in 1941.

The value of bees as pollinators in agricultural areas is estimated at 20 times their value as honey and wax producers. This is the estimate of Prof. M. C. Tanquard, bee expert of the University of Minnesota Farm school and secretary of the state beekeepers association.

FATE MUST HAVE SAVED THIS RUBBER

Granite Falls. — Awakened at six o'clock in the morning with a crackling and the sound of a car rolling along the driveway toward the house, Mrs. Philip Melvold called her husband. He dashed out of the house to discover the interior of his automobile ablaze just outside the bedroom window which was shattered from the heat of the flames. He couldn't move it for fear of gasoline ignition. The entire car burned but the tires were unharmed. A short in the switch is believed to be the cause.

ANGUS MAN FREED FROM JAIL AFTER SLAYING BROTHER

Rudolph Dobias Absolved of Criminal Intent by Coroner's Jury

Rudolph Dobias, 23, was absolved of criminal intent in the killing of his brother, Philip, 30, at Angus last Thursday night by a coroner's jury in Crookston late Monday. The verdict was reached within a few minutes after the jurors had been given the evidence and Rudolph was freed from the Polk county jail where he had been held without charge since the shooting.

Rudolph's original story of the affair of the late afternoon and evening and of the actual shooting was disputed by only one witness during the course of the testimony and that was in a detail that easily could have been argumentative. Clarence Christopherson, 41, clerk in the Earl Johnston store at Angus where the shooting took place, asserted on the witness stand that Rudolph levelled the gun at his brother's head and fired the fatal shot. All of the other witnesses declared that Rudolph was making an effort to strike his brother when the gun exploded.

The story, as told by all of the witnesses and pieced together at the conclusion of the inquest followed in detail the story told by Rudolph after he surrendered to deputy sheriffs at the Warren hospital after his brother had died.

Adolph Branwick, at whose farm home Rudolph met Phil on Thursday evening and told of his marriage to Ardith Hauglid, told of the shooting affair there in which Phil had first fired a shotgun charge into the ground between himself and Rudolph, then of another being fired in the home and of the battle for the guns before Rudolph had left.

Philip Dobias, self-styled "Bull of the Prairie", had been a Polk county figure for many years, riding his motorcycle with his shoulder-long hair flowing and his cowboy costume flashing.

Physical Requirements Modified for Enlisting in U. S. Navy Reserve

Physical requirements for enlistment in the U. S. Navy Reserve were modified by the Navy department today. The modifications affect the requirements for teeth, vision, height and weight and are expected to bring about the enlistment of large numbers of applicants who would not have qualified under former rulings.

Volunteers for enlistment under the new plan, must have "sufficient teeth or suitable replacements to supply satisfactory biting and masticatory function. Natural teeth must be serviceable and gums must be free from disease.

A binocular rating of 15/20 vision with not less than 6/20 in the worst eye will be accepted, provided no organic defect is present.

Recruits must not be less than 62 inches in height nor more than 76 inches tall, while weight must be proportional to the height and build of the applicant. Age limits are from 17 to 50 years of age.

WRENS AREN'T FUSSY ABOUT THEIR OVERALLS

Hopkins — When Mrs. Louis Vraspir went into the yard of her farm home to bring in the family wash recently she found a pair of her spouse's overalls too damp to bring in. Next morning she looked from the kitchen window and found a pretty little wren diving into the pockets with the precision of a woman with forty years of married experience. Later, when the wren flew away she sneaked out to have a look. What she found was a nice little nest started in one pocket. Realizing it would be a long time to hatching time she quickly put an old pair of overalls with nothing much left to recommend them but one good pocket in place of those left over night. Carefully she transferred the little sticks, cotton and other "footings" of the nest. It didn't make a lot of difference to mama and papa wren as they just went right ahead with the completion of their home. Now they're awaiting the arrival of their family.

Men Being Recruited in Minneapolis to Man U. S. Victory Fleet

More men are needed now than ever before to man the ships of the American Victory Fleet, Boatswain O. P. Swenson, Maritime Service recruiting officer for the Northwest, said today in announcing a recruiting drive in Minnesota.

"With production of cargo ships running more than two a day," Bos'n Swenson said, "the need for men has become acute. Many of the sailors now manning Uncle Sam's expanding merchant marine had never even seen salt water when they signed up."

Pay in the merchant marine is high, he said, and it includes bonuses, overtime wages, and insurance. Applicants must be at least 18 and not more than 30, and physical requirements are like those of the Navy. All Minnesotans interested in signing up must apply through the U. S. Maritime Service enrolling office in the U. S. Court House, Minneapolis, Minn.

Minnesota newspapers in 1941 used 53,711 tons of newsprint to keep the people of our state informed on news and commercial values.

GARDEN and TABLE

By ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

About this time of the gardening season people begin to ask what vegetables they can plant and still get results. Late cabbage, rutabagas and tomato plants will turn in a good performance if planted between mid-June and the first of July. It's a little late for radish and spinach. They'll grow up, but they don't like hot summer weather, and they won't make such a hit at the dinner table.

You can still plant cucumbers, and there is still time to put out tomato plants. We never get tired of telling gardeners how to pick their tomato transplants, because so many people pick out the biggest and best looking transplants in the shop. These prima donnas may catch your fancy, but they will disappoint you at tomato picking time. It's wise to choose the better known varieties and put your transplant money into those vigorous, stocky plants with a good green color.

Very few gardeners have trouble recognizing a potato bug, but their methods of doing away with them range from the pick-and-drop-into-a-tin-can-kerosene bath to the combination sprays used in the larger fields. Extension Folder 80 has good news for potato gardeners and bad news for potato bugs. It is a combination spray which is poison to the several different types of insects that gather in the potato patch. Here it is:

Fifty gallons of Bordeaux mixture and 1½ pounds of calcium arsenate (or 1½ pounds of arsenate of lead) applied with as much pressure as possible will positively slay those bugs. If there are many leaf hoppers and potato aphids, add ½ pint of nicotine sulphate to the 50-gallon Bordeaux spray. Nicotine sulphate should never be used with the calcium arsenate. It may, however, be used with arsenate of lead. Give it to them now and continue spraying at ten-day intervals.

Plant roots need air, so it is always a good idea to cultivate thoroughly after a hard rain. The harder the rain the more necessary to break the crust. Ordinarily, it isn't a good thing to cultivate while the soil is still wet, but you may have to break that rule if rains are too persistent.

Sugar Shortage Need Not Curb Preserving

There is no need to cut drastically the canning of fruits because of a sugar shortage. Even with quantities of extra sugar allotted for canning, the homemaker may need to use substitutes in order to preserve the abundant supplies she will want for her family next winter.

Corn sirup, honey and other sweets can be used successfully for all or part of the sweetening needed in most fruit canning, preserving and freezing. The instructions for using them are contained in Extension Pamphlet 100, just off the press at University Farm. The pamphlet may be had either at the county extension office or by writing direct to Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul.

The publication tells just how these substitutes may be fitted into the well known canning and freezing recipes. It also contains many tips for sugar saving.

Independence Day will not find the country in a celebrating mood this year. There is anxiety. War developments have not been as favorable as we wish they had been. But let's not be dumpy over the prospects. It is not the first time there have been clouds in the sky. There were several dark years in our country following that first Fourth of July when a handful of leaders decided war was necessary. In 1863 the nation did not know on July Fourth that Lee had been defeated at Gettysburg the day before, and before Gettysburg the outlook for the North was anything but encouraging. More recently, within the memories of many of us, July Fourth of 1918 was not a cheerful occasion. Russia had been knocked out of the war and the Central powers were concentrating their forces on the Western Front. Those were dark days and Americans were plenty worried. Wishful thinking is not going to pull us through the present emergency. The seriousness of the situation must be recognized. The important thing to remember is that this is not the first time we have been confronted with a tough problem, and we will solve this one as we have solved the others.

The fall of Sevastopol probably is near at hand. After nearly four weeks of terrific pounding the important naval base is still in Russian hands but, inch by inch, the invaders are closing in. In a few days, perhaps in a few hours, resistance will no longer be possible. But even though the city will be lost, the battle of Sevastopol will be recorded as a victory for the Russians. By their heroic sacrifices the defenders of Sevastopol have not only taken a heavy toll of Axis men and equipment but, more important still, they have caused a delay in the drive to the Caucasus, and time is the one thing Hitler cannot afford to lose. Heroes of Sevastopol, in your defeat we salute you.

Germany's drive in North Africa is not merely another skirmish in the desert. It is a major offensive into which the Axis powers are throwing all the strength they can muster. So say the observers. Hitler discovered last winter that Russia is not a pushover. Now he is not sure he will be able to reach the Caucasus by the direct route. The push in Africa has three purposes: control of the Mediterranean; contact with the Japs, and a back-door grab of Caucasus oil. The Axis planners will not hope to accomplish these purposes with a corporal's guard and it is therefore reasonable to assume that we will have more bad news from this front.

Harold the Ick dramatically rolled up a rubber floor mat in Washington the other day and threw it in the scrap pile to be reprocessed and eventually returned to our nation's capitol in the form of a floor mat. A great guy, this man Ickes, and generous to a fault—with property that doesn't belong to him. We have a pretty good idea of what would happen to Andy Anderson if he contributed to the scrap pile the rubber stamps that are used in the post office. That is what we think should happen to Harold.

We are not greatly concerned with what happens to the German spies who were picked up by the FBI but as for the two members of the group who are American citizens we favor the extreme penalty.

Local fair officials have not acted as yet on the recent request to cancel this year's activities and probably will do as other fairs are doing, go through with this year's program and then close shop for the duration. Joseph Eastman, director of Transportation, has modified his original request by stating that it should not apply to fairs that have opening dates so early that cancellation would involve a sacrifice. That covers the Pennington County fair for which a considerable sum of money has already been expended.

She immigrated to America and arrived at Stillman Valley, Ill., on March 12, 1888. Two years later, on Oct. 31, she was united in marriage to John Westlin. In the fall of the year 1892 they moved to Marshall county and have lived in this community except for about six years when they resided at Argyle and Warren. Her husband passed away March 30, 1929. Also one daughter preceded her in death. She leaves two sons and two daughters: Melvin, Clarence, Julia, and Myrtle (Mrs. Conrad Bjornrud). SERVICES HELD FOR AGED WOMAN IN STRANDQUIST

Sarah Florence Johnson passed away June 21 at 6:30 p. m. at the age of 93 years, 6 months and 26 days. Sarah, daughter of Ole and Margit Florence, was born in Florenden Satterdal, Norway, Nov. 26, 1848. She, with her parents, left Norway in a sail ship in May, 1860, landing in Quebec on the 4th of July 1860. From Quebec the family went to Morris, Illinois, where they lived a few years, then moved to Story City, Iowa, where they resided for four years. Then they moved to St. Helens, Nebraska, where Sarah was united in marriage to Peter Johnson who was operating a mechanical shop at that place. They made their home there for four years until Mr. Johnson became employed as a mechanic by a railroad contractor. They then followed the railroad, building westward until 1882, when they located on a farm 4 miles east of Milton, N. D., where they resided until the Great Northern railroad was built to Langdon and the town of Milton began being built in 1889. They then with their family of six children moved to Milton where they lived until the fall of 1897, when they moved to the state of Georgia, locating at Austell, 18 miles north of Atlanta. The older children prefered the northern climate and ways of living and so they went north, one by one. So being left alone with their two smallest children Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson sold the southern home and moved to Roseau county to a place called Herb postoffice, where Mr. Johnson was postmaster until the year 1914 when they moved into Strathcona. Mr. Johnson passed away May 17, 1915. Sarah Johnson, with her son Herbert, moved to Strandquist in the fall of 1916, where she has lived until her passing away. She was preceded in death by her husband and four children, Esther Melinda, Annie Bess, Linnie and Charles Herbert. Surviving children are Millie, Mrs. Lewis Lykken of Loma, N. D., Perry Johnson of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Henry Rustan of Hampden, N. D. She also is survived by one brother, M. O. Florence of Union, N. D., and five grandchildren and one great grandchild. Funeral services were held in the Mission church in Strandquist. Rev. Thv. Myhrer officiated. A solo was sung by Mrs. Korie Myhrer and a duet by Mrs. Walter Bens and Clarice Sjodin. Pallbearers were Rasmi Nelson, Ingvald Rokke, Jens Sja, Ole Nelson, Albert Bjorkman and Henry Dahlin.

MRS. MARTHA UELAND PASSED AWAY LAST WEEK

They settled in the Newfolden district, where she has resided since. She is survived by her husband and eleven children. Eight daughters: Mrs. Robert Hanson and Mrs. Bob Laybourne of Sask., Canada, Mrs. Marie Owens, Miss Annie Ueland and Mrs. Victor Eckman of Newfolden, Mrs. Harold France, Mrs. Orin Tilley, and Miss Mayme Ueland of Oklahoma. Three sons: Edmund of Holt, Ole and Norman of Newfolden. Three sisters: Mrs. Christina Olson of Holt, Mrs. Marie Bergland of Thief River Falls and Mrs. Annie Erickson of Beloit, Wisc. Two brothers: Tonnes Nelson of Newfolden and Christian Nelson of Stavanger, Norway. There are also 17 grandchildren. Five brothers preceded her in death. Interment was in the Bethlehem cemetery. The pallbearers were Clarence Larson, Martin Nelson, Louis Rosseland, John Nelson, Pete Tvedt and Arthur Olson. BARBER WONDERS WHAT TO CUT

Alexandria.—A man walked into a local barber shop recently and asked for a haircut. Nothing unusual about that but when the barber turned and beheld his perfectly bald head he was startled. Not a hair did he see. "I have it in the box" the customer hurried to explain. And gravely he opened the box, gravely he took out a wig and put it on his head. And gravely too, the barber trimmed the wig. And there wasn't so much as a Mona Lisa smile on either man's face.

Farmers Requested to List Need for Workers at Employment Office

Minnesota's farm help situation, currently on a satisfactory basis, gives promise of continuing so through the late summer and fall season, according to word from the St. Paul office of Leonard B. Ryan, state director of the United States Employment Service.

The greatest need at present, Mr. Ryan said, is for any farmer who may need help during the haying, threshing, and harvesting seasons to talk the matter over now, with the nearest federal employment office.

"Ever since February," Ryan said, "we have been planning to meet any situation that may arise. Steps have been taken for the efficient handling of regular farm workers, and behind this supply are hundreds of young men, many of them high school graduates, who have been given primary training for farm work.

"These workers are now registered and are available. The ability of the employment service to make full use of this supply is going to depend, to a very large extent, on the advance information we have as to the probable demand, even though such demand may not develop until July, August, and September."

IDENTICAL CARS CAUSE CONFUSION

Blue Earth.—Two automobiles, parked side-by-side, identical even to the ignition key, caused considerable excitement recently. Mrs. Alfred Stoen of Dell shopped and placed her groceries in the back seat of her car. Later she returned to the car and started for home. Not until she had gone several miles did she have occasion to blow the horn and notice a very strange tone? Glancing in the back seat she found no groceries, so back to town she went. Meanwhile Mrs. Seraphine Lewis had reported her car missing to police officers and when it wasn't found in town a report had been broadcast. Had Mrs. Stoen not missed the groceries on the back seat she might have gone on home with the car.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The power of the greatest Navy in the world, our own two-ocean fleet, rests in large measure on its backbone—the Battleships of the Line. They displace approximately 35,000 tons and cost up to $70,000,000. We have something like a score of these huge ships in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Eight huge battleships are under construction and more are contemplated. To finance these modern goliaths of the sea it is necessary for every American everywhere to buy more and more War Bonds. We can do it if everybody does his share. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day to help your county go over its Bond Quota.

The law graduate had had his shiny new office open but a few days when in walked the village wag.

"I'd like a little information to settle an argument," said the wag. "Will you tell me, if in this state, a man can legally marry his widow's niece?"

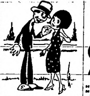
The young lawyer thought for a moment, then looked into a couple of law books and finally said:

"I cannot find any barrier to such a marriage in the statutes, nor have I ever heard of one. There's nothing to prevent such a marriage if the niece is willing."

"Hr-r-r-umph!" exclaimed the wag. "Looks like these law schools don't teach a fellow everything, even in a four-year course," and stamped out the door.

It was only after several minutes' thought that the young lawyer realized why.

THAT MEANS 'YES'



He—What's your answer, dearie?
She—Well, I bobbed my head, didn't I?

Henry Nycklemoe Is GOP Aspirant for Congress

Henry Nycklemoe, of Fergus Falls, filed last week for the Republican nomination for Ninth district congressman, a post he sought two years ago as a Farmer-Laborite.

His filing, previously rejected by Secretary of State Mike Holm because Nycklemoe hadn't filled in the affidavit that he either didn't vote or voted for a majority of Republican candidates in 1940, was accepted when the affidavit was returned, properly completed.

Already in the GOP race for congress in the ninth was Ole Sageng, Dalton. Harold Hagen, Crookston, has filed on the Farmer-Labor ticket. Hagen is secretary of F-L Rep. Richard T. Buckler, who will retire when his present term is completed.

LOCAL BALL CLUB MARKS UP 15 TO 4 WIN OVER GATZKE

Locals Will Play Two Games at Plummer During Week-end

Shelling three Gatzke hurlers for 16 hits, collecting eight singles and eight extra-base hits, the locals rolled up a 15 to 4 win over Gatzke in the first home game of the season Sunday. The locals will journey to Plummer on Saturday and Sunday to engage the Plummer Red Sox in two games as a feature of Plummer's two-day celebration.

Thief River, taking advantage of a make-shift Gatzke line-up, won the game in the 1st inning when they marked up 6 runs on 5 hits and 2 errors. Several of the Gatzke players did not arrive until the game was in the 3rd inning. Neil Bennett opened the game with a triple to center field; Eddie Flasch doubled down the left field foul line, scoring Bennett, and driving Aase, Gatzke's starting pitcher, off the mound.

With Johnny Maland hurling, Stan Cockrell beat out an infield hit. Woody Almquist was called out on strikes. Nornes was safe, and Flasch scored, when Bernsteen fumbled a ground ball. Wally DuChamp lifted a single into right field, scoring Cockrell. Jimmy Anderson was safe on a fielder's choice, Nornes being forced at third base. Gordy Reierson was safe when Bob DuChamp, playing third for Gatzke, heaved the ball into right field, with Wally DuChamp scoring on the error. Lenny Lorentson pumped a single into left field, scoring Anderson and Reierson. The side was retired a moment later when Lenny was thrown out at third base.

A fielder's choice, an error, and Art Tonder's single gave Gatzke a lone run in the 4th inning, off Lorentson's southpaw slants; and in the 7th inning Gatzke, on a base on balls to Art Sandland, a double by Bernsteen, a passed ball, and a single by Art Peterson, tallied three runs off Woody Almquist. Except for those two scoring bursts, Lorentson and Almquist hurled steady ball for the locals. Each racked up five strikeouts.

Neil Bennett, with a triple, double, and single in four trips to the plate, and Stan Cockrell, with two singles and a double in four times at bat, led the local attack.

Art Peterson, Gatzke's veteran catcher, had two singles in three times at bat, to lead the Gatzke batsmen.

JUNIOR BALL CLUB BREAKS EVEN ON TILTS PAST WEEK

Defeat Red Lake Falls 5 to 4 and Drop Decision to Warren

The local juniors dropped a 4 to 3 game to the Warren Ponies here Monday night, in a contest that was called at the end of the 5th inning because of the weather. Last Thursday evening the locals edged out Red Lake Falls, 5 to 4, in a game played on the fair grounds diamond. The juniors will journey to East Grand Forks on Tuesday for a game with the district leaders, and will conclude their pre-tournament schedule with a game at Oslo on July 12th.

Warren, earning a second place tie by virtue of their victory, jumped into an early lead Monday night, getting three runs in the 1st inning. Glenn Lindberg was safe on an infield hit, and an error was committed on Zneroid's double-play ball. Sommers' long triple scored Lindberg and Zneroid, and Sommers tallied on Nichols' fly to left field. Warren added their fourth tally in the 3rd inning when Lindberg drew a walk, stole second, and scored on Johnny Zneroid's one-base blow.

Ferd Elstad's team marked up two runs in the last half of the 3rd inning. Don Fretland poked a single into right field, and Billy Bye was given a base on balls. An error on Reierson's ground ball filled the bases. Baker was out on a fly to center field. Vern Tormoen was safe on a fielder's choice, the play getting Fretland at the plate. Harlan Olson drove a grounder to Zneroid, and first baseman Peterson lost Zneroid's throw in the sun, with Bye and Reierson scoring on the error.

The locals scored their third run in the 4th inning. Allen Thompson was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on a passed ball, stole third, and scored on Milt Reierson's hit to left field. Warren racked up four runs on six hits in the first of the 6th inning; but after Virg Evenstad and Bye had doubled, and Fretland thrown out, the game was called, with the score reverting to the 5th inning.

Employment Office Now Filling Call for Over 500 Men in Signal Corps

All federal employment offices in Minnesota today were notified to assist in the recruitment of about 540 persons for training classes to be conducted for the U. S. Signal Corps. Two schools are to be opened about June 27. One, requiring 180 trainees, will start in Minneapolis and the other, with an enrollment of 90, will open in Mankato. Appointees will be paid while being trained. Other classes will be started as the need arises.

The corps seeks persons to fill two types of positions. One is for mechanic learners, signal corps equipment, at $1,020 a year, for which no previous experience is required. The other category is trainee repairmen at $1,440 a year, for which applicants must have had some experience in the mechanics of radio.

Persons with 1-A draft classification are eligible and will be placed in the enlisted reserve of the signal corps. Such appointees will retain a civilian status, with civilian pay, until the completion of the course. Persons with any other selective service status will remain civilians, even when regularly employed after training. Age limits for both positions are 16 to 50.

'Victory' Aquatennial to Stress Patriotism

All Minnesota and the Northwest will join in making the 1942 "On-To-Victory" Minneapolis Aquatennial, July 18 to 26, one of the nation's top patriotic demonstrations.

More than 41 committees, working with the Minneapolis Civilian Defense council, have planned the celebration as an aid to civilian morale and as a demonstration of the Northwest's part in the nation's physical fitness program.

Reigning as Minnesota's most representative girl, the "On-To-Victory" Aquatennial queen will be selected from 20 of the state's most beautiful girls—10 from Minneapolis and 10 from communities outside the city.

Keeping Score

He Needs Encouragement

Cliff Overum, third ward alderman, played his first round of golf Monday evening, but he wasn't encouraged by the results. Cliff played with Tom Jorde, and he said it was very discouraging to watch Tom score pars, lash out long drives, and lay up neat approaches, and then to dub shots as he, Cliff, did. But Cliff shouldn't feel discouraged, for there are a number of good golfers who experience discouragement when they watch Tom play. For the proper encouragement, perhaps, Cliff should have played with Oscar Cerny on Sunday. Oscar, on holes 4, 5 and 9, lost six golf balls in the river, and in 11 holes of golf he had only two or three well-hit balls.

I'm Not Worried, But—

The New York Yankees had better quit tiddly-winking and get down to playing ball or I'll be needing some headache pills. Harold "Red Sox" Eide has been giving me clippings with the Yankee and Red Sox box scores heavily underlined and asking me what do I know. He asks who that clown is who's playing center-field for the Yanks. Harold nearly turned handsprings when he learned that the White Sox had knocked off the Yanks in both ends of Sunday's double-header.

Those Juniors

The Legion's junior baseball team were measured for baseball caps this week, and judging by their play against Red Lake Falls and Warren there's no danger that the boys will be getting big-headed for some time. As coach Ferd Elstad said: "They win a couple of games and the kids get so cocky that you can't talk to them, so perhaps the close game with Red Lake and the defeat by Warren will get the boys on the beam again."

The boys were a bit too over-confident about the Red Lake and Warren games, and while they nosed out Father Cardin's Red Lake team, they didn't look very good in winning; and against Warren the locals didn't realize that they were playing a team that had just beaten Oslo, and that Warren had improved considerably since their defeat by Thief River a couple of weeks ago.

The Juniors have revealed considerable power at the plate, with a team average of .246, and that's pretty fair junior baseball. Billy Bye, with 6 hits in 12 times at bat, has a .500 mark. Marlyn Dorn, too, has a .500 average, but he's been at bat only four times, and has gotten two hits. Lanky Bob Baker has punched out 7 hits in 17 trips to the plate for a .423 average; and Vern Tormoen, the best third baseman in the district, has connected for 7 hits in 18 times at bat for a .388 average. Milt Reierson, the only member of the team that has connected for a hit in every game, has 5 hits in 17 times at bat, for a .282 average.

To His Credit

I forgot to mention last week that the Juniors, when they played and defeated Oslo, 10 to 5, on the 21st, were under the direction of Charles "Chuck" Dostal. Coach Elstad was filling an appointment in Chicago on that day and he turned the management of the juniors over to Chuck. Chuck will perhaps have an opportunity to reveal some more of his baseball strategy on Saturday and Sunday when the local city team plays at Plummer, for it is probable that the team manager, Ole Ness will not be there. Ole is planning on leaving on a vacation trip to the west coast.

Should be a Hum-Dinger.

That week-end series at Plummer, between Thief River and Plummer, should be worth the watching, and I hope the teams get a "break" in the weather. The locals will learn for sure whether or not that 16-hit attack they flashed against Gatzke last Sunday was "morning glory" stuff, or whether it's their regular stride.

Last Sunday's game against Gatzke didn't prove very much, except that Wally DuChamp can still go back after fly balls and pick 'em off with one hand. Gatzke was forced to start the game minus four of their regulars, and their pitcher, who opened the game, had to retire after pitching to two men because of a sore arm.

Lefty Lenny Lorentson and Woody Almquist are slated to hurl against Plummer, with Lenny going against the Red Sox on Saturday and Woody taking the mound on Sunday.

They Made a Catch

Cliff Bjorkman, Chris Rinkel, and Dr. C. W. Jacobson fished at Wheeler's Point on Sunday, and they reported a limit catch of wall-eyes. They fished out of McGuire's lodge, using a large launch because of the rough water, and had most of their luck while trolling across the mouth of the Rainy River. Lake fishing, though, is pretty much of a hit-and-miss proposition these days, and Cliff and Chris and Jake were lucky to hit an "on" day.

STASSEN WOULD ADD TO FUND FOR POST-WAR NEEDS

Governor Reviews Record as He Files for Reelection Past Week

Mapping out a far-reaching legislative program as he filed for reelection this past week, Governor Harold E. Stassen proposed that state spending for non-war purposes be cut to the bone and pledged himself to work for a fund of $10,000,000 to be used to help returning Minnesota service men get a start after the war and meet other critical post-war problems.

The state should retain the present surplus of $5,000,000 which has been built up, the Governor said, and add to it until a fund of $10,000,000 is ready for use as a cushion to help meet the difficult problems of the reconstruction period.

Other measures advanced by Governor Stassen included proposals for "a further cut in the real estate taxes". A cut of $27,000,000 has been made in the state debt in the last four years, the Governor said.

Governor Stassen presented his program in an address upon filing and coupled it with a review of his administration to date. Promises he made to end state deficits have been kept, he said, and there is now a balance of $3,000,000 in the general revenue fund. Minnesota's new labor relations act has cut the state's strike loss to less than a third of that in other states, he said, and adoption of civil service has ended the spoils system, while the new financial control plan has saved huge sums.

"We promised we would maintain independence of domination from any source," Governor Stassen said, "and we have proved it over and over again, especially when we turned down the U. S. Steel Corporation request for a renewal of the lease on the Missabe Mountain Mine and instead took public bids which resulted in securing a lease for $1.50 a ton from a smaller company, compared to the 65 cents a ton which had been offered by the U. S. Steel Corporation. This alone will mean three or four million dollars more to the state over a period of years."

Looking to the future, Stassen pledged himself to work, with the legislature, for measures to enable Minnesota to do its full share to win the war, prepare for the emergency that will follow the war and attain a peace that will prevent another and more terrible war.

The infant died instantly and Mrs. Lindemoen died in a Warren hospital three hours after the crash.

None of the injured were seriously hurt. All who figured in the crash were from Oslo vicinity.

The U. S. civil service commission announced today that there is an urgent need for a vast number of persons, both with and without experience to be trained for radio work in the U. S. Signal Corps. Both men and women may qualify for three positions.

For the position of mechanic learner, signal corps equipment, at a salary of $1020 a year, no experience is required. For the position of trainee repairman, at a salary of $1550 per year, applicants must have had experience in some branch of radio work.

Appointees to these positions will be paid the above salaries while being trained. Persons with 1-A draft classification are eligible and will be placed in the Enlisted Reserve of the Signal Corps. These appointees will retain a civilian status with civilian pay until the completion of the course. Age limits for both positions are 16 to 50.

482 Motorists Lose Driving Privilege for Drinking and Speeding

Out of 706 Minnesota motorists who lost their drivers' licenses by revocation or suspension during May, 482 of them are now paying the penalty of being forbidden the use of their cars for just two traffic law violations—speeding and driving while drinking.

Driving while drunk and inebriacy resulted in 291 outright license revocations for a period of one year, and three suspensions of varying lengths, or a total of 294 drivers' license forfeitures.

Another 188 motorists were barred from the wheel for driving at excessive speeds. Eight were outright revocations and 180 were suspensions.

Reckless driving cost 81 motorists their driving privileges and 20 more paid the penalty for running through stop signs and signals. Ten licenses were revoked for failure to stop and disclose identity after an accident.

Total revocations for the month were 316 and suspensions numbered 390, or a total of 706 drivers' license forfeitures in addition to the fines and other penalties levied by the courts upon the offending motorists.

44 Pct. of State Auto Travel Is for Pleasure

Minnesota motor vehicle owners do a greater proportion of pleasure driving than do vehicle owners in many other states, it is indicated by a comparison of road use studies made by the Highway Planning Surveys in Minnesota and other states, compiled by the federal public roads administration and published in "Public Roads."

It was found that 55.8 per cent of the total travel in Minnesota was for business and 44.2 per cent for pleasure, while the average for all the states was 65.4 per cent for business and 34.6 per cent for pleasure.

Travel by Minnesota-owned passenger cars in 1940 was estimated at 2,991 million vehicle miles for pleasure and 2,527 million miles for business, while truck and bus travel, for business purposes, was estimated at 1,253 million miles. Of the estimated 6,771 million miles of travel in Minnesota, 3,780 million miles were for business.

Aquatennial Parade to Show War Effort

Nearly 100 bands, drum corps, marching units and floats will participate in the "on-to-Victory" Minneapolis Aquatennial parade July 18 in the northwest's most colorful demonstration of patriotism. Forty thousand marchers, including civilian defense units, Victory Aides, air raid wardens and Red Cross workers will form the longest and most pretentious procession Minneapolis has ever staged. The three-mile route will be lined with 21,000 bleacher seats for ticket purchasers and permit space for an additional quarter million spectators.

HIGHWAY PATROL PLEADS FOR SAFE DRIVING JULY 4TH

Nine People Died in Traffic Over July 4 Week-End a Year Ago

A special appeal to motorists to drive carefully and prevent traffic accidents over the July 4 weekend holiday, and throughout the month of July when traffic is near its peak, was issued this week by the state highway department.

M. J. Hoffmann, highway commissioner, pointed out that nine people were killed in Minnesota traffic accidents during the three-day weekend of July 4, 5 and 6 last year. Seventy-one traffic fatalities were recorded in the state during the month of July, 1941 and 9,600 lives were claimed by July traffic tragedies throughout the nation.

Six of last year's holiday traffic deaths in Minnesota were caused by excessive speed; one by a defective vehicle, and one was a pedestrian who was disobeying the traffic laws.

"May and June traffic fatalities have been encouragingly below those of a year ago," Commissioner Hoffmann said. "This is in part due no doubt to reduced speeds and a lower traffic volume. I hope that every citizen in Minnesota will consider it his individual responsibility to help hold down this toll which is so costly in manpower, material, and production time needed to bring victory to the nation.

"The National Safety Council has aptly pointed out that last year we merely celebrated our independence. This July 4 we are fighting to preserve it. It would be not only inconsistent but definitely unpatriotic to permit this year's celebration of our freedom to result in accidents which waste lives and resources essential to the preservation of that freedom."

Jobs Paying up to $600 a Month are Available at Employment Service

Jobs paying up to $600 a month are included in a long list of war worker categories for which the federal employment service in Minnesota is now seeking qualified workers, according to Leonard B. Ryan, state director of the United States Employment Service.

Among the highest paid job openings now available are those for shovel and dragline operators capable of operating Diesel equipment, at $600 a month; construction carpenter foremen, at $600 a month; foremen of blasting and drilling crews, at $600 a month; electrical foremen, at $600 a month; plumbing foremen, at $600 a month; bulldozer operators, at $450 a month; and construction equipment mechanics at $500 a month.

Attractive as are these wages, the jobs are not of the panty-waist variety. All are positions on war construction projects, the location of which is a military secret so far as public announcements are concerned. The crews will be expected to work 10 hours a day and 7 days a week. Acceptable men will be quartered in barracks and room and board will be furnished. A year of full employment is promised.

Among the "buts" and "ifs" attached to these jobs is the fact that a rigid medical examination will be required and all applicants are warned that the weather will be severe and continuously cold and damp.

CHILD FALLS 15 FEET WITHOUT AWAKENING

Farmington.—Goes the old saying, "a ton of brick could fall on him and he wouldn't wake up" fits six-year-old Delano Quinnell. Walking in his sleep recently he fell 15 feet from an upstairs window, striking a stick supporting a fence, got up and walked to the door of the house without awakening. Twenty-six stitches were required to patch up the injury from striking the stick.

Kitty's Kommemts

Fourth of July, once more, and this time we're a nation at war! Young lads who at one time or another threw fire crackers in joyful abandon, now, hurl hand grenades with deadly earnestness. Instead of skyrockets shooting heavenward, the anti-aircraft spew death and destruction at the marauders in the skies. Instead of the Fourth's hiss, crackle and rattle of fireworks, it's the boom, rumble and roar of a battle for the world's very existence.

Here's to our fighting men on land, on sea and in the air! May their's be the spirit of 1776 and may the same destiny that guided our forefathers guide our men of today to the ultimate victory!

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

MAY ARRESTS BY HIGHWAY PATROL HIT 485 TOTAL

112 Drivers Arrested During Month for Driving While Intoxicated

Four hundred eighty-five motorists, most of whom were physically normal, reasonably competent and intelligent drivers but who let carelessness or heedlessness get the best of their ordinary prudence and respect for law, and thereby endangered their own lives and the lives of others, were arrested by state highway patrolmen for traffic violations in May, and 503 more were given written warnings which means that a repetition of offense will bring about arrest.

During the month, 112 drivers were arrested for driving while drunk and paid fines of $6,624.

Operating motor vehicles with illegal or dangerously improper equipment caused the arrest of 166 drivers and brought 588 verbal warnings from highway patrolmen in addition to those to whom illegal equipment tags were issued. These "must repair" tags totalled 1,887 for the month, of which 1,276 concerned illegal or defective head and tail lights. One hundred and seventy-seven motorists were found driving with illegal and defective brakes.

The total number of arrests for the month of May by highway patrolmen was 976 with combined written and verbal warnings totalling 2,280. The sum of fines imposed as a result of Patrol arrests was $14,318.

During the same period of time Highway patrolmen gave aid to 3,034 motorists, of which 45 required first-aid to injured persons and 1,408 required minor adjustments or repairs to motor vehicles stranded on the road. Among their many activities the patrolmen checked 9,000 drivers' licenses, and tested the lights on 2,147 vehicles and the brakes on 468 others.

Arts College Students at Minnesota "U" May Get Degree in 2 Years

Starting next year, the arts college in the University of Minnesota will give a degree as evidence of accomplishment to students who remain only two years.

Students who attend the college of science, literature and the arts for two years, and who in that time complete ninety credits of work, or do so in not more than seven quarters, will be eligible for the degree, Associate in Liberal Arts.

This means that considerable numbers of students who for any of several reasons have been leaving the college after two years with no evidence of accomplishment to take with them will have something to show for it.

KITTENS LIVE IN TREE NEAR ST. PETER, MINN.

St. Peter.—Maybe the mother cat on the Leonard Geldner place on Lake Jefferson is raising her family of four little kittens to be air-raid wardens. At any rate she is "nesting" her four babies 30 feet off the ground in the top of an old oak tree. It seems Mr. Geldner cut the top out of that oak tree some fifty years ago and it forms a perfect nest for the kittens. Strange place to raise a kitten family and the little fellows now almost a month old are getting uneasy in their lofty perch.

Well, boys, what d'you think of Gluek's "Rentschlerized" beer?

"Rentschlerized" means as much to beer as "pasteurized" does to milk!

Gluek's is now brewed under bacteria-killing ultra-violet ray Sterilamps — invented by Dr. Harvey C. Rentschler of Westinghouse for use in hospital operating rooms. They guard the air in Gluek's brewery against bacteria — deadliest enemies of perfect beer flavor. Every drop of Gluek's is brewed pure. The result is the smoothest, mellowest, truest beer flavor you've ever tasted. Now, more than ever, Gluek's is the beer for the man who knows! Try it — for a new beer pleasure!
